Anti-Annexationists Elated Over the Crowd Which Visited Lincoln.

THOSE FAYORING MEASURE UNDISTURBED

Big Crowd of University Students Expected Today on Annual Visit to Inspect the Packing Plants.

Since the return of the anti-annexationists from Lincoln yesterday they have appeared very jubilant. Mayor Hoctor said that the special committee of the delegasentiment of the legislature had reported to him that their belief was that no annexation measure would pass the lower house. They did not, however, state that they "I don't believe that we have much to Threats of boycotting the business of those who favored union of the two cities were renewed yesterday.

It is not thought advisable nor necessary by the managers of South Omaha annexationists to send a large delegation today. The legislature is well acquainted with the situation and it is believed that a fair and unclamorous presentation of the arguments in favor of the immediate merger will carry more weight with the dispasexationists of South Omaha will work quite as well as the big delegation. No perceptible influence has affected the crowd of firm believers in the great good of a community of interests with Omaha. The delegation yesterday was discussed as quite the usual outburst which rises in a night in South Omaha and subsides with the morning following. Sald one member: South Omaha likes a hot time. The people like a good free-for-all and they ought not jourly iii. to be deprived of the opportunity. They will stand it to be beaten out of their eyeteeth by any kind of manipulation if it is their favored sons who are doing it, but let a man from Omaha make a fair proposition to give South Omaha the same chance with the best that is in Omaha, a chance to take part in a great city, to tion whose business it was to probe the provide a better fire service, better police protection, more lights, cheaper gas, the elimination of telephone tolls, easier street improvements, safe public contracts, capa ble officers, opportunities for more hon had any positive pledges of this. He said: orable political aspirations, and great prestige and advantages with outside capfear and that if the Breen bill is defeated, just, and the same people will accuse the I think it is likely the other bills will be party of graft, robbery and the whole catalogue of crime."

Park Matter Delayed. With regard to the inaction of the city ouncil and the Park board on the matter of the park sites for the city of South Omaha, the mayor said yesterday that the matter had been dropped for the time being on account of the fact that J. H. one of the members of the poard, was busy with the Bassett case in Omaha, In all probability as soon as that case is settled the board will take up the park sites again. It is apparent that there s some friction to be overcome before the matter is settled or the members would have reached an agreement before this.

Carlton Leaves a Wife.

Frederick D. Cariton, who died in Lincoln Wednesday night, leaves a wife to mourn him at his home, 2626 C street, Carlton was a watchman for one of the packing companies, and took a day off to go to Lincoln, expecting when he returned to go to work on the night shift without going nome at all. So when he did not return his wife thought nothing of it, thinking he was at work. She thought nothing of his absence, even when he did not come home in the morning. She thought he had lain down at the plant, as he often did after a busy night, and had gone to sleep. At 9 o'clock yesterday morning she received a long distance call from friends in Lincoln stating he was dead as the result of an accident. She left at once for Lincoln Carlton is an expert dressmaker and has plied this trade while her husband has done duty as watchman.

LAW TO MUZZLE THE DOGS

Ordinance Contemplating Protection from Rabies Will Be Introduced by Sheldon.

Councilman Sheldon next Tuesday even ing will introduce an ordinance requiring that all dogs running at large in Omaha

Sheldon says there has been in Omaha fo some months an epidemic of rables among dogs, and it is believed the only way to control the situation is to muzzle the dogs, especially during the spring and summer months. The Sheldon ordinance probably will stipulate a period of six months, or the council may decide on the remaining months of 1907.

One of the serious phases of the situa tion is that horses and cows are being bitten by rabid dogs. One man died in a hospital a month ago from the same cause Veterinarians say dogs usually recover from any signs of rables with cold weather, but the disease seems to have been communicated during the winter to a large extent by dogs biting other dogs and norses and cows.

Dr. W. C. Langdon Friday morning said he killed thirty rabid dogs in Omaha since "dog days." Thursday Dr. Langdon shet s horse owned by the Lucas Coal company on Sherman avenue, and the day before killed a horse in the barn of Duehrsem & Co., 2020 Sherman avenue. Two cows suf-fering with rables were shot on Ames avenue a week ago. Other cases of affected horses in the north part of the city have been reported. Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago have such ordinances as it is proposed to pass bade the great shock. The son is 20 in Omaha. About three years ago a move 21 years of age.

MAN HANGS HIMSELF IN BARN Peter Hansen, Found Dead by Son, Supposedly Crused with

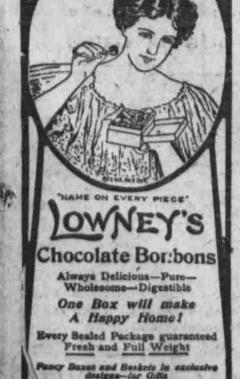

Grief for Wife. Hanging dead by a window cord at an early hour Friday morning the body of Peter Hansen, 1521 Berry avenue, South Omaha was found by Hans Hensen, a son, Peter Hansen had been a resident of the city for several years, a laborer in the packing houses. The son and father had been caring for the wife of the deceased, who is critically ill from an attack of pneumonia. The father left the house at 1:30 ostensibly to visit the barn, which stands in the rear of the house. After half an hour's absence the son took alarm and went out to see what had become of his father. He found him hanging in the stable, or, more properly, a woodshed.

The man had fastened the such cord around his neck, tied the other end to a rafter and then kicked away the support on which he stood. When found he was dead, though the son cut bim down as quickly as he could. No efforts could revive him. A doctor was summoned, but could offer no assistance. The body was found at 2 a. m. The son was of opinion it was the serious illness of his mother, which caused his father to become despondent and end his life. The body was taken to the Brewer undertaking pariors, where an inquest will be held Saturday. The knowledge of the death of her husband has been kept from Mrs. Hansen, whose critical condition for-
