REAL ESTATE

MORE NEW HOMES BUILT and

MORE LOTS SELLING IN KOUNTZE PLACE

Than in Any Other Addition in the City.

WHYT

Because the people of Omaha are beginning to realize how much less they can buy in KOUNTZE PLACE than in any other part of the city, considering the same class of surroundings and improvements, such as paved streets, permanent sidewalks, water server, gas and the distance to the business center, close to three good car lines, many churches, good school and stores close by. There will be at least 25 new homes built in KOUNTZE PLACE this year.

You Haven't Much Time to Get in Before the Advance in Price. Don't come in later on and say you did not know there would be an advance in price. Make your selection now. Call and get a plut and price list and have one of our salesmen show you the unrold lots.

ALL LOTS 50x124 FEET. On Locust, between 16th and 24th, $860. On Binney, between 18th and 24th, $1,060. On Wirt, between 16th and 24th, $1,150. On Spencer, bet 16th & 24th, $500 and $1,000. On Emmet, bet, 18th and 24th, $500 and $750. On Pinkney, bet, 18th & 24th, $650 and $750.

They are in the city and have city advantages.
They have "arrived."
They are reached in twelve minutes by the best car service in the city.
They can be bought for one-half what they will sell for when divided and sold individually.

Estate Exchange.

WILL BE WELCOME AT THE MEETINGS

Alex Charlton of McCagne Investment Company Makes Motion to Let Them in, but It Falls.

A proposition to admit abstracters to full membership in the Real Estate exchange was turned down almost unanimously at the regular meeting of the exchange Wednesday afternoon. Alex Chariton of the McCague Investment company introduced a resolution requesting that the by-laws of the exchange be so amended as to admit the abstracters as members, but it was decided to confine the membership exclusively to realty brokers, although it was the sense of the exchange that the abstructers should be invited and would be welcome to meet with the exchange every Wednesday.

Charles F. McGrew of the Omaha National bank, was to have addressed the exchange, but his address was postponed until next Wednesday as he returned from Lincoln after noon Wednesday and was unable to arrive at the Commercial club before the adjournment of the exchange.

W. L. Selby, chairman of the legislative committee of the exchange, reported that chances appeared favorable for the immediate passage by the state legislature of the landlord and tenant bill, which provides for summary election of tenants after a bond has been given by the agent of the property, and which has met with defeat in previous years. The bill also provides for hearings before courts of justices of the peace as well as superior courts, and is deemed extremely advantageous to real estate operators on account of the facility with which possession can be secured of premises in litigation.

W. H. Green Back from Springs. The exchange was addressed by W. H. Green, formerly its president, who has returned from confinement in a hospital at Hot Springs, S. D., and who expressed himself as being glad to return to active participation in the affairs of the exchange. He made a motion, which was passed of $171 incurred at the recent banquet given to General Greely. A bill had been rendered by the Commercial club requesting that the exchange meet one-half the deficit, but such action was disapproved on the ground that many members of the exchange were members of the Commercial club and would thus be called upon to pay two assessments for the same purpose, and it was also held that the exagreed to defray half of the expenses of the banquet. Now is the time to make your wants known through The Bee Want Ad page. DOCTORS MEET TWO DAYS Medical Society of Missouri Valley

ABSTRACTERS ARE BARRED CHILD ALMOS

From Skin Disease from Birth Until Six Years Old - Father Spent Fortune on Her Without Benefit - Old Doctor Suggested Cuticura, which Cured Her in Two Months, Leaving

SKIN SOFT AS A BABY'S AND WITHOUT A SCAR

"I have a cousin in Rockingham Co. who once had a skin disease from her birth until she was six years of age. Her father had spent a fortune on her to get her cured and none of the treat-ments did her any good. Old Dr. Gsuggested that he try the Cuticura Rem-edies which he did. When he com-menced to use it the child was almost in a solid scab. He had used it about two months and the child was well. I was there when they commenced to use your Cuticura Remedies. I stayed that week and then returned bome and stayed two weeks and then went back and stayed with them two weeks longer and when I went home I could hardly believe she was the same child. Her skin was as soft as a baby's without a sear on it. I have not seen her in seventeen years but have beard from her and the last time I heard from her she was well. That is where I became acquainted with Cuticura I hope this may be of some ser vice to you in the future. Mrs W. P. Ingle, Burlington, N C., June 10, 1905.

Omar Fletcher Offends Uncle Sam

and Pleads Guilty to Forgery. Omar Fletcher, a 17-year-old boy from Hartington, who was arrested Monday evening for attempting to pass a forged draft at Julius Helphand's clothing establishment, 214 North Stxteenth street, has managed to get himself into trouble with the United States authorities through a mixup with forged postoffice money

Fletcher pleaded guilty to the charge and was bound over to the federal grand jury in $300 by United States Commissioner Anderson Wednesday morning. In his confession Fletcher admitted he had picked up two letters from the desk of the Grand Mo.

"A Clinic," F. E. Coulter, Omaha.

"Hernia," David C. Hilton, Lincoln, Neb.

"Advantages of the Hospital Over the Home in Surgical Cases." Van Buren

dier of the Prize Ring.

Dan Cupid with his able assistants. Joense Clerk Morrill and County Judge seslie, had a busy day Wednesday and oined in the bonds of wedlock some couples with special claims of recognition. Leonard Weigand, aged St years, of Knox county, strode into the office with a firm step that scoffed at the march of time.

Upon his arm was Matty Douglass, aged 32, f Onkland. "A marriage license," said Mr. Welgand blythely, and Miss Douglass smiled happily t the aged bridegroom. Wonderingly Harry Morrill began to write and when it was completed Mr.

Weigand anid: "Yes, my age looks pretty big on paper, out I've the heart of a boy. A man's as old as he feels, and I feel 30. In the spring young man's fancy-you know the rest." And the bridegroom, who was a man of % before the civil war broke out, bade the clerk a cheery goodbye and tripped out earning happily on everybody in the office.

Warrior of the Prize Ring. Following this hero of the civil war came soldier of the prize ring. "Guy Thomas Buckles," was the next name pronounced to the clerk by a tall, stockily built young nan with black eyes, a heavy lower jaw and "scrappy" nose.

"Not the celebrated puglist? asked Clerk Morrill. "The same," replied the young fighter with the smile that is common to the faces of young men asking for licenses. "Well, well," was all Mr. Morrill could

Three couples came from one carriage and two from each of the others-fourteen people in all. And all the women were dressed in white and filmy veils covered their faces. The men wore the "conventional black." Six of the couples gave way deferently one couple, who went ahead as they walked up the steps and into the court house. They all gathered in the office of the county judge and stood in solemn ranks,

But four applications having personal bondsmen unknown to the oard were held out and the clerk of the board instructed to notify these druggists to furnish surety bonds or personal bonds of persons known to the board. Miss Walsh, the clerk, Wednesday morning called up the four druggists in question. One and all proclaimed through the tele-shone that their bonds were satisfactory and added that the board had one more look coming. Bernard Robinson, druggist at 618 South Sixteenth, was particularly angered at the action of the board. He said he had furdished the same bond for ten years and falled to see why his last bond was re-jected. The four applications in question will be brought up next Monday afternoon before the board and acted on again.

All the druggist applications were held
