noon indicated it was not ready even to talk about adjourning yet. When the request from the house for a conference committee to fix the final date was called up it aroused considerable opposition, and an attempt was made to amend the motion to adopt it by directing the committee not to agree on a date until ordered to do so by the senate. This was voted down and the motion was lost by a vote of 8 to 18. Those who opposed the date now did so on the grounds it is too early in the week and that action should not be taken until a few more of the important bills are passed.

House Longing to Adjourn.

House members sat around without their coats this afternoon and many of them looked longingly out of the window at the green grass and showed signs of homesickness. Whitman of Johnson became so impressed that he offered a motion which was adopted for the speaker to appoint a committee to confer with a senate committee on final adjournment. The speaker appointed Whitman of Johnson, Van Dine of Colfax and Farley of Hamilton. Walsh wanted the committee instructed to make haste slowly in selecting the final day, and talked quite a bit on this subject before the committee was appointed. Then after the speaker had made him quit because there was nothing before the house, the Hall of Chace thought the committee should attend to fixing the date. The speaker had to stop him for the same reason he gave for making Walsh stop.

During the afternoon the house spent most of its time passing bills on third reading and the way the members dug down into the treasury was a caution. Seven or eight appropriation bills went through, though one was killed. This unfortunate one was by Carlin of Rock and it was to reimburse Brown county for the trial of Fred Hans some $5,700. But the $10,000 for a women's building and other buildings at the state farm went through, even if it did get only fifty-four votes, and so did the $50,000 for the state farm and the $15,000 for an officers' flat at the Milford soldiers' home, and the appropriation for the cottage and land for the Kearney industrial school. And so did the $5,000 for a tuberculosis hospital at the Hastings asylum. It did take a call of the house several times to get the required 67 votes to tack on the emergency clause, but that was all.

Binding Twine Plant Falls.

The house refused to stand for the binding twine plant at the state penitentiary, which carried with it an appropriation of $150,000 for the installation of the plant and $50,000 to get it started.

The committee of the whole reported the bill back for indefinite postponement and Quackenbush of Nemaha made a fight to have it recommended for passage. Hansen of Meriwick, who has been rather quiet during the session, opposed the bill vigorously and said he had had penitentiary twine and it was not satisfactory. A great many of the fuselists lined up for the bill, and several republicans, but in the committee of the whole it was recommended for indefinite postponement, and the house on a roll call sustained the committee. The Omaha Deaf and Dumb institute got its $20,000 for a gymnasium building, though several of the members seriously objected.

When the session adjourns bill comes up in the house in the morning an amendment will be offered to provide that no railroad shall issue a pass to any lawyer, doctor or political agent of any railroad.

The lawyer-doctor provision has been the one stumbling block in the way of getting the anti-pass bill reported favorably. The house has not figured out how these classes of men can be shut out of riding on passes and it seems to be the general belief that the lawyers and the doctors employed by the railroads are the men the state convention was really after when it adopted the anti-pass amendment. Whether such an amendment will carry cannot be said at this time.

GOOD NATURED AGAIN

Good Humor Returns With Change to Proper Food.

"For many years I was a constant sufferer from indigestion and nervousness amounting almost to prostration," writes a Montana man.

"My blood was impoverished, the vision was blurred and weak, with moving spots before my eyes. This was a steady daily condition. I grew ill-tempered, and eventually got so nervous I could not keep my books posted, nor handle accounts satisfactorily. My restlessness was good again."

"Nothing I ate agreed with me, till one day I happened to notice Grape-Nuts in a grocery store, and bought a package, out of curiosity to know what it was."

"I liked the food from the very first, eating it with cream, and now I buy it by the case and use it daily. I soon found that Grape-Nuts food was supplying brain and nerve force as nothing in the drug line had done or could do."

"I wasn't long before I was restored to health, comfort and happiness. Through the use of Grape-Nuts food my digestion has been restored, my nerves are steady again, my restlessness is good again, my mental faculties are clear and acute, and I have become so good natured that my friends are truly astonished at the change. I feel younger and better than I have for 20 years. No amount of money would induce me to surrender what I have gained through the use of Grape-Nuts food. Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason." LIABILITY ACT IS UPHOLD

Judge Speer Rules that Federal Law to Protect Railroad Employees is Valid.

SAYS POWER OF CONGRESS IS BROAD

Right to Control Interstate Commerce Coextensive with that to Regulate Traffic on High Seas.

MACON, Ga., March 25.—United States Judge Emory Speer today in a decision in the case of Lucy-Snead, administratrix, against the Central of Georgia Railway company, upheld the constitutionality of the employer's liability act, passed by the last congress. This decision is opposed to those of United States Judge Evans at Louisville and Judge McCall at Memphis, who declared the act repugnant to the constitution of the United States.

A Judge Speer declared that to command, prohibit and to protect men engaged in the handling of commerce, whether interstate or foreign, is within the domain of national legislation. Congress having the right to control commerce on the high seas, as established by the courts repeatedly, it follows that it has the right to control the same kind of commerce on land. The creation of the interstate commerce commission, the acts against arbitrary and discriminating rates, the adoption of the anti-trust law, forbidding combinations in restraint of trade, held directly applicable to railroads, even though chartered by states, the law denouncing strikes and forbidding strikes in interstate traffic, are quoted as illustrations of the power of congress to control such matters.

The decision points out that no injury can result to corporations or to any useful or valuable power of the state by this national legislation. The act is no deprivation of the appropriation of cases in courts prescribed by the constitution. The act does not deprive the plaintiff of power to sue in the state courts if he prefers.

CRISIS IN WAGE QUESTION

Trainmen and Conductors Vote to Strike Unless Demands Are Granted.

CHICAGO, March 25.—A crisis has been reached on the negotiations between the railroads throughout the west and their employees over the wage question and "it is up to the general managers," according to representatives of the 50,000 trainmen who have voted to strike unless their demands are granted. The reply of the general managers to this sentiment is, "We have considered all we can."

Tomorrow morning both sides will meet in conference and unless there is a breakdown of the most gigantic strike in the history of transportation in this country, a settlement will be reached. The general manager of the Chicago & North Western railway will refuse to go out. It is also asserted that the conductors on other roads will also remain at work.

It is said by the Post that Grand Chief Garretson has admitted that the Northwestern conductors will not go out, but denies that the men on any other line will decline to obey the mandate of the organization in case a strike is ordered.

POLICE SCANDAL IN NEW YORK

Report that Men Were Absented $20 Each to Fight Bingham Bill.

NEW YORK, March 25.—Police Commissioner Bingham, District Attorney Jerome and Assistant District Attorney Ely and Tinker visited the headquarters of the Patrolmen's Benevolent association tonight and made a hurried examination of the books of the organization.

The commissioner, the district attorney and his assistants were in search of evidence to confirm a report that $125,000 had been raised to affect legislation. It was said that an assessment of $20 had been made against each patrolman in connection with the Bingham police bill, which does away with permanent police inspectors in the city.

The officials declare that they found a book which showed that nearly every one of 7,000 patrolmen had contributed $20 each to a "mortality fund."
