BRIEF CITY NEWS.

Charged With Forgery—Fred Schneider was arraigned in the district court Monday morning on the charge of forgery and pleaded not guilty.

Ten Thousand Damages—The suit of George Harkness against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway asking $10,000 damages was completed in the district court, the jury finding in favor of the defendant.

Federal Hunting Party—The federal hunting party, consisting of Judge W. H. Munger, United States Marshal W. P. Warner, Clerk George H. Thummet and District Attorney Goss have returned from a week's hunting trip in the vicinity of Grand Island. Conservative estimates of the amount of game gathered in places it at twenty-seven wild geese and forty ducks.

Thieves Steal Dinners—Two families in the Armond flats, Twenty-eighth and Jackson streets, were seriously handicapped for a Sunday dinner, when they discovered sneaky thieves had snatched their dinners from the porch and taken such staples as the grocery man sells at an equal weight in gold during the night before. The victims were Mrs. C. L. Kendrick and Mrs. Millin.

Two Houses and Double Lot—Two houses and a double lot at Nineteenth and Grace streets have been sold by the Byron Reed company for $3,000 to Mrs. Emma Stehr, who will occupy one of the houses and place the other on the rental market. The Byron Reed company has also sold a lot at Thirtieth and Seward streets to Ole C. Petersen, who will build a modern frame residence this spring.

Grand Lodge of Workmen—The grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen for Nebraska will meet in Omaha May 14. Headquarters will be established at the Murray hotel. Reservations have already been made at the hotel for several of the supreme and grand lodge officers. Supreme Master Workman W. M. Jarvis has signified his intention of being present, as will other of the supreme officers.

Veteran Carrier Dismissed—J. S. Brown, letter carrier No. 57, carrying mail from Station A, has been let out of the service for neglect of duty. His case has been under investigation by a special agent of the Postoffice department for some weeks and the charge against him was oldest on his route. Mr. Brown was one of the oldest carriers in the employ of the Omaha post office and on July 1 his salary would have been increased to $1,150 under the new law increasing the salaries of the carriers.

Baby Laughs at Papa in Shams—Harry Gilliam, arrested Saturday morning charged with breaking and entering, was arraigned in police court Monday morning and the hearing was set for Tuesday, with bonds of $1,000. Gilliam appeared in court with his wife and bright little child, which laughed and prattled in utter ignorance of the trouble into which the father had fallen. The specific case charged against him is breaking into the home of Frank Romano a few nights ago, but the police have other matters they believe they can prove his connection with.

Fay in the Long Run—Two men who tried to profit by the rush of drivers in department stores Saturday night to help themselves from the counters without paying were before Judge Crawford in police court Monday morning. They were George Rigby, 1546 North Sixteenth street, accused of hitting two hats at Hayden Bros., and Louis Johns, 106 South Eleventh street, said to have taken twenty-five yards of silk from the Boston store. Rigby was given thirty days in jail, but the case against Johns was continued until Tuesday for more evidence.

Suit for Back Salary—Calvin S. Blair filed suit in district court Monday against the Klugman Implement company asking $5,352, which he says is due him in back salary. He sets forth that he entered into a contract with the defendant September 3, 1902, under which contract he was to be manager of the defendant's Omaha plant for three years, beginning November 1, 1902, at a salary of $1,000 for the first year, $2,000 for the second year and $3,000 for the third year. He alleges that the contract was

HAMM TURNS CUNNING COUP

St. Paul Brewet Enters Omaha by Glee of Aeb-Elval Bohlsen.

LATTER GIVES DEED WITHOUT KNOWING

Minnesota Company Buys Five Hite For Large Distributing Depot Situated on Lower Douglas Street.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the Theodore Hamm Brewing company of St. Paul is in Omaha by means of the Schlitz Brewing company of Milwaukee, an arch-rival, and all of which is unknown to the man who made Milwaukee famous. And here is the tale: Negotiations were closed Monday by which the Theodore Hamm Brewing company of St. Paul, owner of the largest concern in the northwest, will maintain a large warehouse and distributing depot for its products on an L-shaped tract of land bought from David Cole near the corner of Eleventh and Douglas streets. The property in question is the site of a three-story brick building at 320 and 322 Douglas street, now occupied by Chase & Co., spice merchants, which extends through to the alley, and 113 and 115 South Eleventh street, which is occupied by the Council Bluffs and Omaha Transfer company. The sale was made through the D. V. Sholes company, and the whole tract cost the brewery company $14,000.

Efforts have been made for some time by the Hamm company to secure a site for a distributing depot with ample truckage facilities, and John J. Ahern, auditor and superintendent of accounts, was in Omaha about two weeks ago looking at various sites under consideration. The immediate negotiations were made by E. P. Roberts, a St. Paul realty broker, who transacts all business of that nature for the Hamm company, who was in Omaha for four days recently in connection with Mr. Cole and the D. V. Sholes company. Application was made for a license to sell liquors at 1106 Farnam street, but this was merely a technicality, as the license, if granted, will be transferred to the new site.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND BEAT

Fairlyland on Stage No Match for Fantastic Realm in Brandy's Store.

Alice in Wonderland saw no prettier sight than the one to be seen just now on the second floor of the new Brandy's store. The artist and decorator have vied with each other in making this floor a veritable vision of dreamland. The soft color scheme, thousands of subdued incandescent lights, apple and peach blossoms deftly placed here and there, lilies waving in their pure white majesty, luxurious carpets that yield to the touch of foot, the soft strains of an orchestra and other such effects mingle in making a scene that would move the poetic muse and hold the spectator entranced.

This new store's second floor is unquestionably the finest thing of its kind ever seen in Omaha and would compare with any in the United States, excepting possibly New York City. The floor has natural light from all sides and to lend tone to that light 4,000 incandescent lights have been arranged fantastically on the columns with white background for each cluster of lights. A court 217 feet long offers a vista of pleasing perspective. At the west end of this court has been placed for the opening two figures representing heralds with trumpets. The general color scheme is purple and white, the Easter colors. The first floor has been decorated to harmonize with the second floor. Palms and natural Boston ferns add a touch of freshness to the scene.

SAMUEL DRESHER IS DEAD

Father of Large Family, Stricken with Pneumonia, Dies Suddenly at an Advanced Age.

After an illness of only a few days Samuel Dresher died suddenly Monday morning at 815 at St. Joseph's hospital. Mr. Dresher was taken ill early last week and quickly developed pneumonia, together with complications of other diseases, which, on account of his advanced age, soon caused the end. When his condition became serious the family removed him to his residence, 222 Jones street, to the hospital, and several of his sons were there with him when death came.

CENTURY FOR LID LIFTER

One Hundred and Costs is the Dose Judge Crawford Administers for Sunday Boose.

The cases against saloon keepers found doing business Sunday came up in police court Monday morning, except that of J. M. Calabrita, against whom no complaint has as yet been filed. Val Karbowick, charged with keeping a disorderly house, had his case set over until Tuesday.

William Holm, whose saloon at 2214 North Twenty-fourth street, was open at 11:45 o'clock Sunday morning, according to Patrolman Brown, and business was being transacted, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Crawford. Holm admitted in his testimony that his saloon was open after hours, but said he was not selling beer, as stated by the officer, but the judge held him convicted of violating the Stobcum law on his own statements.

SAM MAKES A HIT IN COURT

Little Fellow Does Not Try to Blame Others When Hauled Up Before Judge.

Little Samuel Smith, aged 12, was a pathetic figure in the juvenile court Monday morning, and he hadn't been in his chair more than a half hour before he had a place in the hearts of all those present. There was there on the technical charge of delinquency. His teacher reported that he did not attend school more than half the time. Sam sat with bowed head and fingered a little cap, such as is given away for advertising purposes. His hair was uncombed, but his face was the face of a cherub and there was not the suggestion of evil intent in it.

"Who kept you out of school?" asked the "judge." "Nobody," whispered Sam. "Yes, somebody did," said the judge. "Now, who was it?" "It was Sam," said the boy. He showed great natural brightness. He blushed no once but blinced. But when his grandmother, with whom he was called upon, told a touching story. "At first Sammie had no shoes," she

The Board of Fire and Police Commissioners met Monday afternoon and transacted what little business there was in an expeditious manner. Commissioner Spratlen met with the board for the last time, his term expiring April 1. The resignation referred to by several members of the board, in view of the uncertainty as to Governor Sheldon's action in the matter of charges soon to be taken up.

The board received from Secretary of State Jukin a certified copy of S. F. 85, which increases the salary of captains of police from $110 a month to a minimum of $125 and maximum of $150. IMMUNITY OF CONGRESSMEN

Novel Point Raised by Williamson in Suit Wherein He is Connected.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The question whether a member of congress can be imprisoned upon being found guilty on a criminal charge is involved in the case of Representative John Newton Williamson of Oregon, in which a motion to advance was made today in the supreme court of the United States. The motion is based on the ground of public importance of the case. In 1906 Williamson, with others, was found guilty on the charge of conspiracy to unlawfully secure United States lands and was about to be sentenced to pay a fine of $600 and serve ten months in prison when he protested that his imprisonment would prevent him attending sessions of congress, from which deprivation, he claimed protection under the constitution, and when the protest was overruled he appealed to the supreme court.

JIN'S LATCHSTRING IS OUT

Mayor Commends Pardons Upon Twenty-Five Criminals During Month of February.

SOME GUILTY OF LOWEST OF CRIMES

Chief Executive Reverses Actions of Judge on the Bench in Wholesale Discharge of Criminals.

The word "if" in bold capital letters still attaches to sentences imposed by the police magistrate by the wholesale exercise of the executive clemency which Mayor Jim indulges in the face of all precedent and the judgment of the sentencing body. No more are the lips of the police judge watched by the vagrant caught begging on the street, the depraved woman of the red light district or the "man" who lives by her earnings, for the fatal words which are to decide their fate. Their finality is gone and to cover the prisoner's prospects in full the judge should say "Thirty days, unless the mayor pardons you."

During the month of February twenty-five men and women—opium smokers and keepers of opium joints, petty larceny thieves, low women, vagrants and persons arrested for like low crimes—were given full pardon by Mayor Dahlman, and the rate for March is about the same thus far.

An instance where executive interference was almost flaunted in the face of the judge sitting in police court a few days ago was when a negro, once rather prominent as a politician in the lower districts of the Third ward, but for a year nothing but a loafer, whose habits led the police to arrest him as a vagrant, so he might be induced to go to work, told the court he had recently been pardoned from his last sentence by the mayor, as much as to say his honor's action was of small moment and easily overcome, in view of which he suggested he be discharged to save trouble.

"You see, judge, I don't care about going up to see the mayor again so soon."

List of the Pardoned Ones.

A complete list of persons given sentences by police court and later pardoned by the mayor is:

DIGGS BACK TO CITY JAIL

Negro Who Escaped Wheeler Murder Case Vainly Tries Grandstand Play.

Released from the county jail after serving a sentence of ninety days for larceny and arrested again the same day on complaint of persons who declared they fear for their lives because of the negro's liberty, James Diggs, colored, of Frank E. Wheeler murder fame, was returned to the county jail for another thirty days by Judge Crawford in police court Monday morning.

Diggs attempted a "grand stand" play of oratory, proceeding to relate stories of persecution by the police and promising if allowed his freedom, but the judge cut him short and asked him to confine his remarks to the matter in hand. A round of ill-suppressed laughter passed over the court room when at the zenith of his oratory Diggs declared, "I am an honest man and want a man's rights," but he qualified his statement regarding his honesty a little later when he noticed the reception his words had.

CATARRH PREPARES THE SYSTEM FOR CONSUMPTION While Catarrh in its first stages usually affects the head, it does not stop there if the trouble is allowed to run on. The contracting of a cold is generally the commencement of the unpleasant symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, nose stopped up, mucus dropping back into the throat, hawking and spitting, etc. The inner skin or mucous membrane of the body becomes inflamed and secretes an unhealthy matter which is absorbed into the blood, and Catarrh becomes a serious and dangerous blood disease. Every day the blood becomes more heavily loaded with these poisonous secretions, and as the poisoned blood constantly passes through the lungs they become diseased, and often Catarrh terminates in Consumption. Sprays, washes, inhalations and such treatment do no real good, because they do not reach the poison-laden blood, where the real trouble lies. The only way to cure Catarrh is to purify and build up the blood. S. S. S. has been proven the remedy best suited for this purpose. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble and removes every trace of impurity from the circulation, freshens this life stream and, as this healthy blood goes to every nook and corner of the system, Catarrh is driven out and a lasting cure made. The inflamed membranes and tissues heal, the secretions cease, the head is cleared and the entire system renovated and put in good condition by the use of S. S. S. Write for free book which contains valuable information about Catarrh and ask for any special medical advice you desire, without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.
