WICKHAM IS LOW ON PAVING

Three Out-of-Town Firms Submit Proposals to the Council.

SEWERS ORDERED ON NUMBER OF STREETS

Attorney Scott Reports Completion of City Ordinances in About Complete, but Printing of Them Is Delayed.

Of the four bids for the street paving so far ordered for this year opened by the city council, E. A. Wickham was the lowest. The other three bidders were C. E. Fanning & Co. of Chicago, G. C. Osborn & Co. of Chicago, and A. E. Rutledge & Co. of Galesburg and Rockport, Ill. The bids were referred to the city engineer for tabulation and will be acted upon at a meeting to be held Friday night.

Wickham's prices ranged from $1.50 to $1.65 per square yard for cash, with 4 per cent added for certificates. The prices quoted by Fanning & Co. ranged from $1.50 to $1.55. Osborn & Co.'s bid ranged from $1.50 to $1.55, while Rutledge & Co.'s prices were from $1.50 to $1.55. The prices according to the quality of brick used. The three out-of-town bidders asked 5 per cent extra for certificates, and Rutledge & Co. placed an additional 10 cents per square yard on the figures for the paving of alleys. All four firms' bids were on the same brick.

A resolution providing for the laying of sewers on the following streets was adopted: Commercial street, Angle avenue, Glen street, Elder street, Damon street, High School avenue, Nicholas street, Bloomer street, North First street, North Seventh street and Ninth avenue.

H. W. Binder & Co. offered $50 for three of the city's lots on West Broadway, agreeing to assume all the assessments for paving and other public improvements against the property. The company stated that the lots were wanted for a business enterprise which would be of much benefit to the city. The offer was referred to the special committee having the matter of the paving of West Broadway in charge with power to act.

Attorney Scott, who is making a re-composition of the city ordinances, reported that the work had progressed sufficiently far for the city to advertise for the printing of the same. Mr. Scott suggested that a committee of three and the city attorney be appointed to revise his work before the printing was done. A motion to advertise for bids was lost, as the councilmen thought it best to ascertain first how many copies would be needed.

The council adjourned to Friday night.

TROUBLES OF KAHLER MULTIPLY

Now Faces Charge of Assault with Intent to Kill.

Johannes Kähler of Treynor, Ia., is in bad luck. For the pleasure of knocking Julius Hines of the same town over the head with a beer bottle and felling Hines to the ground, he was fined $25 by Mayor Schoening of Treynor. He paid the fine and costs, but was rearrested and brought to Council Bluffs where another information relating to the same assault was filed in the court of Justice Cooper. After being in the county jail for a few days the second information was dismissed on motion of Assistant County Attorney Rosa, and Kähler was released, but only to be arrested again yesterday, as the district court grand jury returned an indictment against him charging him with assaulting Hines with intent to commit manslaughter. His bond under the indictment was placed at $500, which Kähler expects to be able to furnish, but as he was unable to do so yesterday he was committed to the county jail once more.

Arthur Southwell, against whom an indictment was returned in connection with his alleged attempt to shoot W. Hawkins, was arraigned in district court yesterday and entered a plea of not guilty. The charge against him under a previous indictment of assaulting Boren Thompson was, on motion of the county attorney, dismissed.

C. H. Johnson, who was indicted for cheating by false pretenses in that he obtained $25 in cash, board and lodging to the amount of $25 and medicine to the value of $7 from Landford Dobson of the Metropolitan on the strength of his representations that he was a wealthy stockman and had money in banks in South Omaha and Billings, Mont., pleaded guilty yesterday and was sentenced to six days in the county jail.

The hearing in the injunction suit brought by the New Nonpareil company to restrain the Board of Supervisors from entering into the contract with Morehouse & Co. for the county printing, etc., was continued by agreement yesterday until Saturday. B. F. Proffitt was appointed guardian of his wife, Dora Proffitt, insane. The Minden, Ia., Canning company has brought suit against H. J. Hesley, C. J. Neimann, D. H. Ripper, The Green Bay Lumber company and Katherine Rimmer, administratrix of the estate of Samuel Rimmer, deceased, stockholders in the company, to compel them to pay their proportion of the company's liabilities. Losses in business during 1906 compelled the company to suspend operations.

Anderson's Death Accidental.

The coroner's jury which was impaneled Saturday to hold an inquest over Jens Anderson, custodian of the Masonic temple, where he was found dead in the building Friday night under circumstances which at first led to the suspicion that he had been murdered, brought in a verdict yesterday to the effect that Anderson's death was accidental and was due to fracture at the base of the skull resulting from a fall.

MUNICIPAL BILLS PASSED

Measures Have Already Tamed the Senate and Now Go to the Governor.

RAILROAD BILLS HELD UP IN SENATE

Some Have Been in the Hands of the Committee for Forty Days Without a Report and House Members Are Incensed.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Ia., March 25.—(Special Telegram.)—In the house this afternoon the bill endorsed by the League of Iowa municipalities, making important changes in the present form of city government, was passed. The bill has already passed the senate.

The bill to purchase additional land for the inmate asylum at Knoxville and the bill providing for a tax commission, were passed. The bill enlarging the powers of the superior court of Cedar Rapids was killed.

The house judiciary committee has acted favorably on both the senate and house bills for a uniform system of county accounts, the agricultural committee voted for passage the bill to manufacture binder twine at the Anamosa penitentiary, and the pure stock food bill.

The soldiers' roster bill was passed by the house.

Moore of Linn has introduced a bill providing that the governor shall within ten days after the election in November, 1908, appoint a committee of two from the senate and three from the house of the holder members and members-elect to visit the three educational institutions, remaining at least six days at each and to report to the legislature the needs of such institutions.

Meredith introduced a bill providing for a board of examiners and to license osteopaths.

State Wants to Trade Realty.

The governor sent to the senate a special message asking for authority to make a trade of the camp ground of the Iowa National Guard, which is near Fort Des Moines, for other property which will be near the new state rifle range.

The senate made an effort to reconsider the vote by which the bill to increase the pay of the adjutant general and National Guardsmen was passed, but this was defeated. Senators claimed they did not know what was in the bill when it was passed.

The senate passed the bill to limit the hours of labor of men working on trains, also the bill requiring track scales at junction points.

The senate committee on pardons acted favorably on applications for the pardon of George Weema, Betsy Smith and Jasper Mason. All other applications were rejected except two, which are yet to be acted on.

Increased at Senate Committee.
Increased by the delay of the senate committee on railroads on important railroad bills, resolutions have been drawn up by house members protesting against the senate's delay in urging action. For some few days it has been known that J. C. Davis, chief counsel for the Northwestern, has been claiming that the railroads had succeeded in getting the senate committee on railroads in shape to kill the anti-pass bill, the reciprocal demurrage bill and the Doran speed limit bill. This claim of Davis has set the members of the house wild, for the three bills are among the most important railroad measures offered this session. As a result there has been a conference of house members, and resolutions were drafted. These resolutions relate especially to the Doran speed limit bill, and state that as the bill means from $5 to $200 on every car of live stock shipped by Iowa cattlemen and that as the senate railroad committee has had the bill for more than forty days without action, the attention of the senate is called to this bill and action urged. It is understood to be the intention of following this resolution with others respecting the other bills, if that on the speed limit bill is successful.

Only two weeks remain of the session and the members of the house are desperate. There has been a demand for a speed limit bill and a reciprocal demurrage bill every session for many years. These bills passed the house with big majorities and there is considerable fear that they are to meet defeat in the senate. It is understood that Allen of Pocahontas proposes to bring the reciprocal demurrage bill to a fight on the floor of the senate and Turner of Adams is proposing to do the same with the stock train minimum speed limit bill, but the railroads have succeeded in delaying matters now to such an extent that the bills are really in great danger of being killed off. Iowa has an anti-pass law that was enacted last year applying to public officials, delegates to political conventions and members of political committees, but it was proposed to pass another modeled after the national law.

Primary to Conference.
At the forenoon session of the senate steps were taken to secure a conference on the primary election bill, as between the two houses on small matters of difference, and it is expected that in this conference all the details will be perfected. This conference was made necessary because of some apparent conflicts of dates in the bill as it has finally passed the house.

Senate Business.
The senate passed a bill making an increase in the appropriation for the National guard as recommended by the adjutant general, and increase in the pay of the adjutant general; also some changes in regard to the manner of payment to the men.

The following are other bills passed by the senate today:

Whiting's bill placing the burden of proof on the railroad company in matter of non-delivery of freight cars.

De Wolf's bill to give the railroad commission authority to regulate the stringing of wires over railroads.

Mercer's bill exempting real estate acquired by educational institutions as a part of an endowment fund from taxation.

Pluggin's bill requiring railroad companies to kill noxious weeds along the right-of-way.

Hume's bill requiring railroads to report serious accidents causing personal injury or loss of life.

Turner's bill to forbid any saloon or drug store selling whisky within one mile of Fort Des Moines.

Newberry's bill amending the law as to labels on foodstuffs and fixing a standard for flavoring extracts.

Turner's joint resolution to purchase chairs and gavel for the president of the senate and speaker of the house.

Stander's bill to extend to interurban and public service corporations the rights enjoyed by the railroads in the matter of charges for equipment, etc.

Matter's bill to place express companies under control and regulation of the railroad commissioners.

The fire was discovered by some parties on their way home who were compelled to break in the front door in order to arouse the family who live in the rear of the store. The blaze is supposed to have started from a cigar stub thrown into a box of sawdust. It had burned a hole through the floor when the firemen arrived.
