BRYAN ON RAILROAD ISSUES

Nebraskan in Favor of Regulation by National and State Governments

PUBLIC OWNERSHIP ULTIMATE SOLUTION

He Says There is No Disposition to Confiscate Property and that Courts Would Not Permit It.

BOSTON, March 29.—H. M. Whitney, a prominent Massachusetts democrat, tonight made public a letter he had just received from William J. Bryan, dealing with the railroad question. It follows in part:

I am in favor of both national and state regulation and I also believe that public ownership is the ultimate solution of the railroad question. In my discussions I have pointed out that because of the danger of contraction in ownership by the federal government of all the lines, I prefer a system in which the federal government will be confined to the necessary trunk lines and the ownership of the rest of the lines be left to the states.

As an advocate of regulation of the strictest sort, I can say to you that there is no danger whatever that this regulation will be carried to the point of preventing a reasonable return on money invested in the railroads of the country, and I also assure you that whenever public ownership is adopted by the states or by the nation, the stockholders may expect to receive a price at least equal to the value of the physical properties of the road, but no such assurance ought to be necessary because the public has shown no disposition to reduce railroad earnings to a point which would deny a reasonable return.

As long as promoters are permitted to use stock that does not represent real value there must be fluctuations in the market, for every disclosure of bad railroad management necessarily affects the value of stock.

The stockholders, therefore, who desire to purchase for legitimate investment should have as much interest as the promoters in reducing the railroad business to an honest basis, but the railroads thus far have prevented the passage of a law authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission fixing the value of the roads.

When the value of the roads is ascertained I am satisfied that public sentiment will insist that the return shall be sufficient to pay a reasonable dividend upon the money invested. I should say that any maximum rate for this dividend fixed by the people should be a little higher than the rate fixed by competition in the purchase of stock.

If, for instance, stock which pays a 4 per cent dividend can be sold at par, a maximum dividend ought to be enough above that to provide for possible fluctuations in business. If it requires a 5 per cent dividend to make stock sell at par, then the maximum dividend contemplated by legislation should be above 5 per cent, or 4 per cent.

Confiscation is Improbable.

In case the states or nation should desire to enter upon public ownership of the roads there would be no disposition to confiscate the property.

I am satisfied that in the purchase of roads the public would be much more apt to pay more than the roads are worth than to take.

I think I can speak for those who believe in regulation and I know there is not and never has been danger of injustice to the owners of the railroads, and if I can speak for those who believe that the ultimate solution of the railroad question is to be found in public ownership I can say there is no disposition to confiscate railroad property, even if the courts would permit it.

FIRE IN MINE CONTINUES

Homestake Force Has Difficulty in Reaching Flames Under Ground.

REGULAR WORK OF MINE PROCEEDS

While strenuous efforts are being made to curb fire no suspension of mills is permitted.

LEAD, S. D., March 29.—(Special.)—Fire still burns today in the Homestake mine, but efforts of the fire-fighters are more successful as a definite and systematic campaign is being carried on against the devouring element.

A force is laying pipe on the 600-foot level and the timber gang is putting in bulkheads. A two-inch compressed air line and four-inch water pipe are being laid. The number of men overcome by gas is less because of the conservative, systematic plan of work formulated. Water which has been turned in the open cut was shut off last evening and the attack being planned from below on the 600-foot level.

Work on levels below the fire has been carried on in parts of the mine and ore trains have worked incessantly night and day carrying rock to mills. None of the mills is shut down and the Homestake company is planning on keeping the mine in operation. It can easily keep the supply coming out as stores are already worked up and ready for loading.

The loyalty shown by Homestake employees speaks well for the treatment accorded them in the service of the company. Rubber boots, mackintoshes, blankets and everything needed by the fire-fighters have been generously donated from the Hearst store. Lunch is served all night in dry rooms and free to all.

Gases are coming out of the high land. A few men went down last night for medicine, as many are knocked out, but the hospital is almost free from patients.

Men Seem Danger.

Some of the trouble with the men, is that they are too brave and have to be watched. The work is very dangerous in the lower stops and therefore a check up is made and if any brave fellows are not with their companions they are located and brought to dry rooms and treated by the company doctor. The case men are having a hard task before them, gases which come up the shaft are very sickening and in order to insure safety two men instead of the regular one are placed on each cage.

A complete summing up of situation this morning showed that the air and water pipes were turned around the second corner in the shaft, which is said to be about ninety-five feet from the stop, where the fire is burning. The size of the stop where the fire rages is about 275 feet east and west, sixty feet north and south and about 100 feet in height. In this stop there is about 1,500,000 feet of waste and timber and this is the place that firemen are trying to reach.

Pipe laying is still going on and bratticing to force air out is almost completed by timber men. Ten pounds pressure is on air pipes now and water ready turns into the water pipes. The men expect to attack the fire from below tonight.

Catchers Are Stranded.

VERMILION, S. D., March 29.—Residents living along the Missouri river have been having lots of sport the past few days. During the recent overflow many large catfish got out into the sloughs and low spots. When the waters receded they failed to get away. Now the sloughs are draining off fast and many large channel catfish are to be seen. Dan Doan, who was reported drowned, but subsequently turned up all right, brought a catfish to town the first of the week that weighed eighty-seven pounds, and yesterday, Joe Grace lassoed one with a rope that weighed seventy pounds. It is a good week for fish in Vermilion.

Debates at Vermilion.

VERMILION, S. D., March 29.—The debate with Iowa university to be held in Vermilion will occur on April 26. It was planned to hold the forensic contest between the two universities a little earlier, but Iowa asked for more time, and it was granted. South Dakota has the negative of the open shop question. The debate with Dakota Wesleyan on municipal ownership will also be held in Vermilion, the date being May 10. The judges for the two debates have not yet been definitely decided upon.

NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quaint and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

The "King's highway" may have a new meaning in Nebraska after the road drag completes its work.

The "sale season" having ended Nebraska farmers can be certain of their neighbors for another twelve months.

Reports from the Peru coal mine show that the alleged "trust" need not move out of the state this year, but Nemaha county can boycott it.

Disaster is not without compensation. Farmers compelled to move from high water in Cedar county are now eating catfish stranded on the banks.

Tuesday will settle the contest between the "wets" and "dry" for another year, but subsequent court costs will show the efficiency of the "settlement."

Shows Sterling Qualities—Walter Loghry picked 133 bushels of corn Friday between signs. Walter is a hard working young man of sterling qualities—West Union Correspondent Broken Bow Chief.

Signs of Spring at Fort Calhoun—Hurray for spring! The crocuses in our garden are in bloom, the cut-leaved splay in leaf and Grandma Trimmer's baby chickens chasing the early worm and a white butterfly was on the wing.—Fort Calhoun Correspondent Blair Pilot.

Rooster Assaults Child—While playing in the yard last Sunday evening, little Cleo, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rager, was thrown down and "pecked" in the eye and about the face by a rooster. Both eye and face are in bad condition, but it is hoped nothing serious will result.—Atlania Correspondent Holdrege Citizen.

Cautious Fremont Man—A Fremont man spent half an hour getting into the back window the other night because his wife had inadvertently hooked the front screen door. The neighbors saw the man, and the dogs spied him also. He was a big man, and he wore his trousers in the excitement, but felt lucky to escape the jaws of the suspicious dogs.—Fremont Herald.

The Correspondent Complains—Say, Mr. Composer, it may have been all right for you to make Number Six say, in alluding to the Vicksburg "Chissie," and to their eating of pussy and mule meat, that they "subtended" on the same. We very likely, today, if compelled to accept the bill of fare alluded to, would subsist, but I meant to state the actual fact that they were "subsisting" on the meat mentioned—"Rural Rattle" in York Republican.

As Seen at Norfolk—No children, you can't go out to work any longer. A law has been passed by the Nebraska legislature which forbids it. In the winter time you must go to school and in the summer time you must go swimming and break window lights and learn to smoke cigarettes. You must, by law, have good games in the summer playing base ball and run-

DR. HAMILTON TO TESTIFY

Should this prove to be so, I think the case should go to the jury late Thursday or Friday morning.

Lawyer O'Reilly, who visited Thaw at the Tombs today, later said that the defendant was in unusually good spirits. He added: "I feel confident that the commission in lunacy will work all day tomorrow and be so near through their examination by Monday that they can hand their findings to Judge Fitzgerald on that day. The trial can be resumed by Tuesday and I expect the case will go to the jury by Friday of next week."

Sidney Salisbury Dies.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Sidney Salisbury, son of Monroe Salisbury, the well known horseman, and a former society leader in this city, died today, having committed suicide by gas asphyxiation. He was found unconscious late last night in a bathing house with a tube connecting with an open gas jet in his mouth. Every effort was made to revive him. Despondency is assigned as the cause.

NEW YORK, March 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Suit was begun today in the United States court of Chicago against the American Writing Machine company, one of the underlying companies of the so-called Typewriter trust, for injunction to restrain the Typewriter exchange, another of the so-called trust companies, from circulating advertisements about the Oliver typewriter, which the complainant declares to be misrepresentations. Illegitimate methods of competing with the Oliver Typewriter company are alleged in the bill of complaint.

About Piano Certificates

We are informed that Omaha and the surrounding territory has been flooded with piano certificates for various amounts. The Schmolter & Mueller Piano Co. always meets competition, and hereby agrees to accept these certificates on new pianos, pianolas and electric player-pianos. No matter by what piano house the certificates were issued, by bringing these certificates to our store you can make an actual saving of from $15 to $100 on a new instrument, as our prices are firm and marked in plain figures, a system radically different from the one used by houses who mark prices up and down to suit the occasion. Take advantage of the Schmolter & Mueller, quality; bring your certificates, get a better piano, on easier terms, and avoid being humbugged.
