

BURNS TOO MUCH FOR PARR

English Champion Gets First Fall and the Farmer the Next Two.

PARR INDULGES IN ROUGH TACTICS

First One Goes Thirty-Six Minutes, but the Latter Two Are Won by the Big Rock Farmer in Short Order.

Farmer Burns, the hero of Big Rock, again demonstrated his superiority over James Parr, the English champion, at the wrestling game when he bested him two out of three falls at the auditorium Friday night before a crowd of 2,000 people.

The match was a repetition of the former match, when Parr won the first fall and Burns the next two. On that occasion Parr made the excuse that he was not in condition because of having traveled for several days to reach Omaha, but last night he had no excuse to offer, for he had been in the city several days in preparation for the match.

The first fall was as pretty an exhibition of two giants struggling for supremacy as one would wish to see or as one could find in many a day's travel. Twisting, squirming and tussling with might and main, these two gladiators fought it out for thirty-six minutes. It was a different exhibition than was witnessed when Burns met Gotch, for then the Farmer was on the defensive all the time, but here was a case of two men evenly matched, with first one in the advantage and then the other.

Parr Roughs It. Farmer Burns, always a favorite in Omaha, still maintained his enviable position in the hearts of the sport loving public. Parr, on the other hand, was blessed several times because of his rough tactics, some of which seemed unnecessary and some of which he had to use to extricate himself from some hard position in which the Farmer had forced him.

Fighting for the first advantage they struggled for several minutes before either had the other down and then the Farmer got his arms entwined around the Englishman's waist and put him to the mat. Parr won wiggled away and twisted and turned until he got a neck hold and almost twisted Burns down, but the Big Rock hero was equal to the emergency and got away. The Farmer jumped for an advantage, but Parr caught him unawares and with a grapevine and a half-Nelson soon had a bar lock and put the Farmer to the mat in thirty-six minutes.

The next two falls were of shorter duration. When the men entered the arena for the second bout there was no preliminary foolishness, but both went at it hammer and tongs. The Farmer got a croch hold, but Parr, by persistent kicking, some of which landed in the Farmer's face, forced him to let go. Parr showed great strength on several occasions by the manner in which he would extricate himself from some of the Farmer's holds. Burns finally got a croch hold, plied Parr's head with his legs, then scored a toe hold which the Farmer was unable to shake off and forced him to yield in just thirteen minutes.

Preliminary Contests. In the first preliminary Johnson won the first fall in two minutes and his opponent, McGraw, won the second in seven minutes. For the second preliminary Powers and Morgan were pitted. Morgan won with a half Nelson and hammer lock in eleven minutes.

Light of Tokamah and Billings of Omaha were the contestants for the third preliminary, but the city lad proved himself the better in six minutes from the start.

The Harry Counsman troupe of acrobats gave a splendid exhibition and won merited applause. Counsman made a decision hit by giving an imitation of a wrestling match all by himself. He worked half reasons and toe holds on himself to his heart's content.

SEELYE IS GETTING A GOOD TEAM

Proposes to Make a Showing at Pueblo This Season.

It will be good news to all the fans who love the game and a true hero of it to know that Frank Seelye has what seems to be a promising lot of men for his Pueblo team. Seelye seems to be gratified over the showing he has been able to make in getting together his team for this season.

Here is his roster: Catchers, Charles R. Tennessen and Austin Le Brand; pitchers, Harry F. Hatch, Amos Morgan, Jesus Marques, Arthur Hill, Arthur Bies, Harry Snook and, possibly, Clarence Henley; infielders, John Ryan, Arthur Bauer, Roy Carhan, Clair Head, "Doc" Avery, William Stewart, Arthur Bader, S. Hamlin, McShivary, outfielders, Melchoir, Cook, Derby, Johnson and Jenkins.

"At one time I thought Thompson was the speediest pitcher I ever saw," said Billy White to a collection of college graduates who had strolled into Pa's Smoke House Friday. "When I was playing on the Kansas university team and he was pitcher for Highland Park college, I thought I had never seen a twirler who could put them over quite as fast as he did. I don't believe he has lost any of that steam, although he has not let them out since reaching Omaha."

Fred Bradford has his Lee-Glass-Andersen team worked up for the opening of the season Saturday and Sunday with Pa's Western league champs. All the boys are new in except Pender, Beiden and Sanders, so Pa has plenty of men for any kind of an engagement. The players are all in remarkably good condition for so early in the season and the games should be fast and full of ginger.

"What do the April stars mean?" asks a scientific weekly. If you mean astrakals they generally mean something like "Batted for Mathewson in the ninth."

Right Fielder Beiden wired Pa from Chicago Friday that he had left his home in Cleveland, reached Chicago and would be in Omaha at 9:30 Saturday. This will be in ample time for the afternoon game proposed for Sunday.

NEBRASKA-IOWA GAME CANCELLED

Conflict in Rules Disarranges Schedule of Foot Ball Teams.

IOWA CITY, Ia., March 29.—(Special.)—The athletic authorities of the State University of Iowa have been notified by the management of the State University of Nebraska that the Cornhuskers will insist in playing four-year men on their foot ball team next fall and in owing to the stand Iowa has taken on the matter it will be necessary to cancel the Iowa-Nebraska game. This is the first material change in the foot ball schedule of the State university and local followers of the sport are wondering just what school will succeed Nebraska on the list of games to be played in Iowa.

It has been understood for some time in administrative circles that Drake university of Des Moines probably would succeed to the date left vacant by the Cornhuskers. It was said that the game would be played in Iowa City the following year. Now it is rumored that the University of Minnesota is being considered a candidate for the game, with a very strong prospect of the contract being closed with them. The match has not come officially to the attention of the board of athletic control, but it probably will during the next ten days.

If a game is scheduled with the University of Minnesota it will give the State university three games with conference college teams and one of the heaviest schedules Iowa has had in several years past. Iowa was to have played Nebraska on October 26 and on account of the fact that the contract for the first material game has been signed up, it probably will be necessary for the Gophers to take that date. This arrangement will give the Hawkeyes games with the Universities of Wisconsin and Illinois on successive weeks. It is certain that with the men Iowa had last fall any such arrangement of games would be impossible, but Coach Catlin expects to have a much stronger foot ball team during the coming season and does not appear to be alarmed over the arrangement suggested.

WESTERN GOLFERS IN SESSION

Six Clubs Admitted to Membership and Changes Made in Rules.

CHICAGO, March 29.—Six clubs were admitted to membership in the Western Golf association at a meeting of the board of directors here tonight, making the club membership of the association ninety-five. The new clubs admitted are: Atlanta, Ga. Country club; Chattanooga, Tenn. Golf and Country club; Louisville Golf club; Muskogee, Mich. Golf club; Elm Ridge, Kansas City, Mo. Golf club, and the Wilmette, Ill. Golf club. The old by-laws were repealed and a new set adopted. The principal change was the prohibition of the entry of any contestant in any tournament, excepting the open and Olympic, unless the contestant is a bona fide member of some club belonging to the association. This was done to prevent any contestant from going to a place where a tournament is to be held a few weeks in advance and appearing as a procliam himself a member or resident and entering the contests.

The open meet will be held at Hinsdale June 27 and 28, with a 72-hole medal play. Other dates selected are: Marshall Field Cup, Homewood, August 5; Western amateur championship, Homewood, August 6 to 10.

LEVY IS BOWLING CHAMPION

Indianapolis Man Wins Playoff Game by Wide Margin.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 29.—Marshall B. Levy of Indianapolis, tonight won the individual championship of the American Bowling Congress by a wide margin. He defeated Matak of St. Paul, 582 to 585, in three games of ten pins. The men met with 24 in the second tournament and tonight met to decide the championship. Levy gets the title and first money, while the second money prize goes to Matak. Experts who witnessed the game say that Matak struggled against the boy's bowling, but he was plainly out of form as is demonstrated by his record of eleven splits and three strikes. Pickles, Levy, while not making a remarkable score, bowled consistently, not having an error and only three splits for the three games.

Hubert seemed to have the match well in hand at that time.

BOOKER WASHINGTON TELKS

Speaker Suggests Co-operation Between Whites and Blacks to Prevent Lynching.

NARREVILLE, Tenn., March 29.—Booker T. Washington addressed the students of Vanderbilt college this afternoon on lynching. Prof. Washington said: "I believe that the causes that most frequently lead to lynching can be largely blotted out and controlled by co-operation between the races. The unfortunate habit of lynching started to punish individuals who have been charged with crime, but has gradually grown until the past year two-thirds of the lynchings were for crimes, or supposed crimes, other than those connected with assaults on women only."

RESPONSIBILITY FOR WRECK

Jury Trying to Fix Blam for Loss of Twenty-Two Lives at Colton, Cal.

FAST RUNNING WITHIN YARD LIMITS

Switch Crew, Yardmaster and Engineer Seem to Be Implicated—More Bodies May Be Under Debris.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 29.—As a result of the wreck of the Sunset express on the Southern Pacific's line at Colton yesterday afternoon, the death list tonight had reached twenty-two. This number is absolutely known to have perished, and the bodies of nearly all have been identified. As to the number of bodies that still remain beneath the pile of debris and half-demolished cars, accounts tonight differ. The wreck has not been cleared away with the rapidity that had been expected and while positive statements have been made to the effect that there are from four to eight bodies under one of the cars that has not been moved, the railroad officials as positively declare that there is no evidence to that effect. Since the death of E. I. Walters at an early hour this morning none of the injured have expired, although several of those at the local hos-

Blame Seems to Be Divided.

During the taking of the testimony the rules of the yard were extensively quoted. It was declared that Engineer Worthington had violated one of the regulations by entering the yards at a rate of speed vigorously described as from thirty to fifty miles an hour, when his train should have been under complete control. Immediate responsibility for the open switch was assumed by J. O. Gruesmeyer, one of the switchmen, who admitted that he had left the switch open after the engine had left the main line. He had afterward vainly attempted to flag the fast coming Overland. Gruesmeyer had been working in the yard since February 12 last, but displayed more acquaintance with the rules than the other men. He affirmed that he should have received a second order from W. J. McIntyre, the yardmaster, notifying him when the Overland express was expected. McIntyre, in turn, blames the switch crew, who, he said, had violated a rule by working on the main line with an open switch, and the engineer of the Overland, who entered the yard without his train under control.

W. Shie, the mail clerk, met death under sorrowful circumstances. For years his wife had pleaded with him to quit the road because of the ever present danger, and but a few days ago he had promised to do so. He had written a letter to his wife's brother at Standville, O., telling the latter of his intention to retire and apprising him that Shie and his wife would pay him a visit. This letter, sealed and unopened, was found in Shie's pocket when his body was pulled from the wreck. One of the most pitiful instances of the disaster was the death of Fireman Walters of Sacramento, who was returning home as a passenger. He was unconscious when taken from the mass of debris to the Colton hospital. In a dozen places he was crushed, cut and torn. Walters had been married but one month.

Statement by Engineer. Engineer Worthington, who was in charge of the wrecked train, today made the following statement as he lay on a cot at the Sister hospital at Colton: "I do not remember much that happened along the road as we approached the switch," he whispered. "I did not see the flagman, and don't know whether there was anything to stop me. All I remember about the wreck is that we jumped into the open switch. Then I must have become unconscious. "I don't remember throwing on the emergency brakes or reversing the engine. All that must have been an unconscious act on my part. It was not my fault. We were not running faster than thirty-five miles an hour." Superintendent R. V. Platt, in a statement made today, placed the blame on the switching crew.

Bayonne Searched for Child. BAYONNE, N. J., March 29.—The police are today making a thorough search of Bayonne on the chance of finding the little Maxvyn boy, who is supposed to have been kidnaped from Dover, Del. The search is caused by a letter received by the police last night saying that the boy was in this town.
