The demand, however, at these prices was not very urgent and before very much business was transacted the market weak-ened, most of the packers being unwilling apparently to pay over $6.5266.37½, As sellers seemed to feel that they were entitled to a good stiff advance they were very slow about cutting loose, especially at the weaker prices, which naturally made the trade slow and dull toward the last. The receipts of hogs this week have been very small, showing an enormous decrease as compared with a year ago. Under the influence of the lighter receipts prices have strengthened up quite rapidly, the market being higher every day since Tuesday. At the close of the week the market is 200.25c higher than it was at the close of last week, or a big 30c higher than Tuesday, which was the low point of the year.

The market as a whole has been in a most satisfactory condition. The consuming demand for both sheep and lambs has been urgent and everything desirable has met with ready sale throughout the whole week at strong prices. Lambs, in fact, have been gradually strengthening up and at the close of the week can be safely quoted at the high point of the season so far. Sheep have also sold to very good advantage and as high as they have any lims.

far. Sheep have also sold to very good advantage and as high as they have any time.

Medium and inferior kinds have been rather slow most of the week, packers discriminating strongly in favor of the good kinds. A feature of the week's receipts is the preponderance of lambs and owes, very few wethers or yearlings baving arrived.

Prospects for the future can hardly be better. All indications seem to point toward a continuation of the present good consuming demand for mutton, while the supply of live sheep and lambs in the country is not thought to be burdensoms. With the outlook as promising as it is it would seem to be the part of wisdom for shippers to hold back both sheep and lambs until they are well finished for market and not sacrifice anything by shipping it in half fat.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Activity in Wheat Market, but Corn and Oats Dull

MAY WREAT ADVANCES AND CLOSES FIRM

Weak Opening in Wheat, but Prices Advance on Receipts of Damage Reports by Bugs and Winds.

OMAHA, March 20, 1907. After a holiday yesterday, which was good Friday, trading was active, but the market continued nervous, wheat cating very erratic on receipt and denial of dam-very erratic on receipt and denial of damage reports. A substantial increase for the day was recorded in wheat, but corn was dull and oats were inactive.

The wheat market opened off and easier on reports of rain in Missouri and the southwest and prices for May options opened at a loss of %c from the close of Thursday. The market was very marrow and offerings were light, but a bull movement soon ensued, which carried prices up to 50%c, an advance of %c over the low point and a net increase of %c over the close of Thursday. Advices of more damage by green bugs and hot winds caused point and a net increase of $6 over the close of Thursday. Advices of more damage by green bugs and hot winds caused the steady rise in price and the close was very strong. The statistical and commercial situation is weak and Europe is very apathetic, but poor crop reports from Oklahoma and Kansas strengthened the market. Shipments of wheat from India were heavier at $22,000 bushels, against $57,000 bushels last week, but Australia shipments were lighter.

heavier at $22,000 bushels against $67.000 bushels last week, but Australia shipments were lighter.

Corn was firm, but the May delivery was duil and fluctuations were narrow. Little news was received to materially affect the market and the close was at the same prices as Thursday, although an advance of 4c was made in the September options. Osts were strong on early trading and May options advanced 4c, but a reaction carried prices back to the opening figures. Offerings were light.

Frimary wheat receipts were 1,699,000 bushels and shipments $22,000 bushels and shipments $22,000 bushels and shipments of $17,000 bushels and shipments of $17,000 bushels, against receipts last year of $17,000 bushels, and shipments of $17,000 bushels. There was no Liverpool market on account of the Easter holday.

Bradstreet's weekly clearances were 2,208,000 bushels of wheat, against 2,800,000 bushels inst week and 1,842,000 bushels last year. Corn clearances, lighter at 1,844,000 bushels, against 2,800,000 bushels last week and 1,842,000 bushels last week and 1,842,000 bushels last week and 2,843,000 bushels last year.
