> ONE PRICE VS. DISCOUNTS.

Did it ever occur to you that discounts do not mean securing the lowest price? Some stores have the habit of giving a discount if vou ask for it-those who do not demand it do not get it-that's unfair Merchandising.

Then again, did it ever occur to you that in order to give a discount the article or articles must be priced accordingly?

Would it not be wise to make a comparison, both in quality and price, even though a discount is offered you? We court this kind of comparison. This is a "One Price to All Store" and we will guarantee that our one and only price is as low, if not lower, on any article that any other store may offer you, deducting their discount. The policy which this house pursues is one of honest pricing of honest merchandise. This is the foundation upon which this business has been built. We solicit your patronage only on this basis, and desire that each and every customer shall be a pleased one, for we want this to be a satisfactory store.

You can buy here in perfect confidence both in the price and the quality.

first Japanese exclusion cases which have reached the secretary since the promulgation of the executive order carrying into effect the new immigration law. Secretary Straus' action was based on an appeal taken by the Japanese from a decision of the inspector at El Paso denying them the right to enter on passports from Mexico. The appeals first reached Commissioner of Immigration Sargent and they were referred to the secretary with the recommendation that they be dismissed on the ground that no other course was permissible under the orders carrying into effect the agreement of last winter relative to the exclusion of Japanese laborers. The matter was presented on behalf of the would-be immigrants to the Japanese minister and he advised them that the course of the United States authorities was in accord with the agreement between the two countries and hence satisfactory to his government. When they represented they had been compelled to come to the United States in search of food, he advised them to apply to the Japanese min-
