> The choral vespers at the St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church have an added feature for the next two months in that provision is made for the children who ought to go to church, but are too young to stay through the whole service. They are to take part in the opening service and then go to the lower rooms for a picture talk. The announcement invites the people to come as they are, wear the clothes that are most comfortable, suggesting that an hour of social worship is the best tonic for a week of hard work.

> The Hanscom Park brotherhood has arranged to have Dr. T. C. Iliff give an address under its auspices Friday evening, April 12, at 8 o'clock, in the parlors of the Hanseom Park Methodist church, Woolworth avenue and Twenty-ninth street. Dr. Iliff spent over thirty years among the Mormons and is thoroughly acquainted with the subject. His address will deal with "Utah and the Mormons." It is worth hearing. Man are especially invited. The rotherhood of this church is making an special effort to enlist men in the work of the church and this meeting promises to be one of unusual interest.
