SAY U. S. GOVERNMENT EXPERTS.

How to Get Plump

C. F. Langworthy, Chief of the Nutrition Division in the Department of Agriculture at Washington, has been comducting interesting experiments with diet and digestion with a view to tracing the causes of leanness so prevalent in country. Eliminar inquiries are being made at the State Universities of Tennessee and

It has long been apparent to observers that people are thinner than they need to be, and that the American mode of living is responsible for it. The average American is too thin. His lank figure and sunken cheeks are typical on our streets. and remarked by foreigners.

Scientists have been endeavoring to account for it, and now the Department of Agriculture is making active inquiries into

There is no excuse for being lean. It is unnatural. Nature intends a full rounded figure. Scanty sleep-nervous strain-and poor nutrition-seem to be the chief causes and of these poor nutrition is the worst. People starve themselves lean They eat enough, but they do not properly digest Their system is too sluggish to assimitate enough of the flosh-building elements of food to make up for the daily waste of imue. The meetings were held in the Congregational church and the convention was entertained by the Ingleside club of David City. The social feature of the gathering was an informal reception held Monday evening, the convention proper pening Tuesday morning. A report of the unrepresented clubs and of the district work was given by the district vice president, Mrs. C. M. Peterson of Aurora, and ater reports were heard from the other lubs. Civies, out-of-door art, literature and art all came in for consideration and discussion and the program was interspersed with music. A question box, conducted by Mrs. Laura Dorsey of Beaver Crossing, was another helpful feature. The question box and the round table are coming to appear more and more often on the convention program, affording a most prac-
