DRY AND PIE TAKE UP TIME

Two Subjects for Conversation Among the Citizens at Lincoln.

PLACE HUNTERS THE BUSIEST OF THE LOT

Dry People Can Go to Havelock, but the Pie People Have to Wait for the Turning of Official Wheels.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, April 14.—(Special.)—Around the hotels and at the state house everybody is now alternating "dry" talk with "pie" talk, though the latter is causing the most concern, as the anti-dry people have discovered they can get relief at Havelock, and the street car ride there is most delightful, but they can only guess on the "pie" matter, and no one has been able to say whether the guess is worth anything. The serious illness of his mother has kept Governor Sheldon away from his office a great portion of the last few days and when he is there he is too busy with other matters to pay any attention to callers after "pie," while the two plums to be distributed by the two senators is causing a whole lot of people to lose a lot of sleep.

Rose May Get the Place.

Senator Norris Brown is unanimous for W. B. Rose, chairman of the republican state committee, for Elmer Stephenson's place, and if Senator Burkett becomes of the same opinion, Mr. Rose will get the place, and he will accept it if tendered him. But this being Senator Burkett's home, it is understood his wishes will have more weight than will the desires of the junior senator in this particular matter. Bud Lindsey's $100 shoes have been offered to two Lincoln people and both declined them. One of the men to whom the office was offered is not on speaking terms with Postmaster Sizer and for that reason he declined, while the other would have to give up a more lucrative job to take the one soon to be vacant. This leaves this position open for all kinds of guesses and practically everybody in the county has been suggested for the place, but not a word has been given out by those who really know to whom the place is finally going.

Changes at State House.

Governor Sheldon is equally silent regarding his appointments, many of which probably will be made during the next two weeks. It is in the air that several changes are to be made in the heads of state institutions, and the rumors are that the changes are almost certain to occur at the Grand Island soldiers' home and at the Kearney industrial school, but the chief executive is not talking about the appointments at all. The heads of departments in the state house will have completed their terms May 1, and it is likely several changes will occur in some of these departments. In the state house an adjutant general is to be appointed, a labor commissioner, a game warden, an oil inspector, a food commissioner and a veterinarian. Bert Bush, the labor commissioner, is not breaking his neck to hang on and neither is Edward A. Church, the oil inspector.

WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY NOTES

Base Ball Teams Begin Practice for Interclass Games.

UNIVERSITY PLACE, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—The base ball boys are spending a great deal of time practicing for the inter-class games to be held this spring. Russell McNeil has been chosen manager and is losing no time in pushing the work.

The athletic association has chosen Everett Hosman as manager of the tennis tournaments. Boys are smoothing off three courts on the campus ready for the preliminaries. Both single and double games will be played with Doane in a few weeks.

Next week, Friday, Doane and Wesleyan will debate the ship subsidy question in the Wesleyan auditorium. The Wesleyan debaters chosen from the argumentation class are Miss Ethel Briggle, Messrs. Ross Gartner and Albert Hisey.

Matt S. Hughes, the noted lecturer, will give the fifth number of the lecture course next Tuesday evening in the auditorium. This lecture was to have been given on Thursday evening of this week. The audience met and waited until after 9 o'clock, but no lecturer appeared. The next morning it was learned that Mr. Hughes was attending some social function and forgot his more important engagement.

Saturday afternoon the Willards were entertained by Misses Mildred Mumma and Jeanette Besson in honor of Miss Guthmann.

Next week all the college students will meet for the second practice of the college sing. Songs of all the eastern colleges are being learned and sung with a great deal of college spirit.

The new church of University Place will be begun about May 1. It is expected a $7,000 edifice will adorn the northwest corner of the campus when all the work is completed.

The normal department is busy assigning positions to students who wish to teach next year. Some vacancies have already been filled and several more have sent word that they desire Wesleyan graduates.

Prof. William Patterson, head of the English department, gave his farewell address to the Woman's club of Lincoln last Thursday afternoon. The club asked Prof. Patterson to continue the literary work with them next year, but he felt unable to do so.

Superintendent Barr of Grand Island Schools Celebrates Anniversary.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—Grand Island Friday night signally honored its city superintendent, Robert J. Friday afternoon a public reception was given to Mr. Barr by the city teachers, members of the City Board of Education and patrons of the schools in the rotunda of the courthouse, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Palms, potted plants and school colors were tastily used to produce a beautiful effect as the receiving line, headed by Superintendent and Mrs. Barr received from 2,000 to 3,000 pupils and patrons of the schools. As soon as the guests passed the receiving line they were ushered to the corridor below, where, in addition to refreshments, they were treated to the delights of a finely arranged school exhibition. The work of the schools showed up to excellent advantage and called forth much favorable comment.

After a pleasant hour spent in renewing old acquaintances, the company was ushered into the beautifully decorated hall to the strains of Bartling's orchestra, where a seven-course banquet was served, after which the following toasts were introduced by Toastmaster J. ST. PAUL, Neb., April 14.—(Special.)—The seventh annual meeting of the Howard County Historical society was held Saturday afternoon at the court house, this being the thirty-fourth anniversary of the memorable snowstorm of 1873. Though the assemblage was not large, the meeting was most enthusiastic. The secretary made an interesting report of his doings. The president and the different committees also reported. The obituary committees rendered lengthy and well-written memorials of the departed old pioneers, Louis Guggenmos, Patrick Minoughan, Fred Olsen and Henry Hansen. The obituaries were ordered printed in the papers and copies prepared under the seal of the secretary to be delivered to the different families. A vote of thanks was tendered the obituary committee and the officers for valuable labor performed. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of all the old officers, with the exception that Z. T. Leftwich was added as the third vice president. Judge Anderson, first vice president of the society and one of the earliest pioneers of the county, delivered an interesting lecture on the subject of "Great Climatic Changes in Nebraska," dwelling particularly on the phenomena and events of the great snowstorms of April 13-16, 1873, and January 12, 1888, and the memorable hot winds of July 26, 1894. This address was well received and ordered printed to form a part of the permanent historical records of the society.

Dangers of the Farm—Si Clark is laid up with a severe bruise and cut on his left hand. He was in pursuit of a loose hog when his foot caught in a wire, throwing him on an empty beer bottle. He will be unable to go to work for sometime.—Powell Correspondent Fairbury Journal.

Vileness Rebuked—Dr. Ream was called to Macy Tuesday to dress the bumps and bruises of William P. Cox, who had suffered a pretty severe beating, administered Sunday by several young men of that vicinity. Cox had conducted himself too vilely for the youth of the neighborhood and they arose and smote him in a body. There is more to the story, but it is no doubt billed for suppression. Cox was not seriously injured.—Walthill Times.

Dine Was Kidnaped—When the special stock train pulled out last evening the shippers kidnaped Dine Tatum and J. E. Shaw. They howled and kicked and threatened all kinds of dire calamities, but the boys held onto them and would have landed them in the South Omaha stock yards all right if the stock train hadn't taken a siding for the passenger at Laurel. While the boys were out punching up the stock their captives made a dash and boarded the back end of the passenger train just as it pulled out of the yards. It was their last chance to get home and they had just about given up.—Crofton Journal.

Girls Are Disappointed—A flip young guy from Omaha by the name of Brown got a job in a Talmage barber shop. He was a "winner" from the word go, being able to saw the fiddle and sing like a lark. He made goo-goo eyes at some of the fair damsels of our neighboring town and—he was so cunning—they could not help but return the advances. Everything was sailing along smoothly until a week ago when a sedate looking little woman with three children arrived from the state's metropolis. She straightway sought Mr. Brown, her husband, and the family left town without much demonstration. And now the girls who were fooled are consoling each other with the suggestion that they always thought he was "a mean old thing, anyway."—Tecumseh Chieftain.

Clarks Beat Brodegaards.

The Walter G. Clark Company team easily defeated Brodegard's Crowns by the old-fashioned score of 25 to 13. The Clarks' runs were accumulated by terrific slugging, at which Murphy, Falkner and Oschenbeam excelled. Kelly of the Clarks put up a brilliant game at third, while Dineen, besides getting three safeties caught a fine game until forced to retire after being injured in the eighth. Score:

WICHITA WINS SECOND GAME

Western Association Wanderers Roll Rourke Family in Dust.

WEAK HITTING AND GUM FIELDING LOSE

Cold Weather Hampers the Players and Neither Side Make Much of an Effort to Play Fast Ball.

Omaha lost its first game this year to the Wichita Western association team at Vinton Street park Sunday afternoon before 700 shivering fans, with the players playing with heavy sweaters and coats, by the score of 4 to 2. The game was marked by an absence of hitting by either team, although the pitchers were using nothing but straight balls, which sailed over the pan as big as balloons. Big Thompson was scored against for the first time this year by Kelly, who was brought home by Weaver's long triple to the middle field fence.

Young "Cy" Young did the honors for the Jayhawkers, working in a St. Louis uniform, having been given a tryout by that team. Although possessing plenty of steam, he did not use much but a straight ball, which was enough, for the Rourkes could connect safely but four times, all of these being made by newcomers on the team. Young was wild and hit Belden and Townsend twice each, but neither of the misses developed into a run.

Wichita was put out in one, two, three order in the first inning, and when the Rourke family came to bat it looked as though they would make as many runs as they wished. Austin led off with a triple and White perched on first by reason of Hetling booting his grounder. Autrey walked, filling the bases with nobody out. Welch struck out and Dolan fouled out to Holland. Belden hit a hard one through Young on which both Austin and White scored, which was all the runs Omaha made in the game. Autrey being caught at third on Bayliss' return of Belden's single.

Wichita Wins Late.

The boys from Kansas made their first run in the fifth inning, when Holland walked and was caught at second when Kelly tried to sacrifice. He came home a moment later on Weaver's long hit for three bags to the middle field fence. Three more runs were added in the sixth inning, which was the first inning Hall pitched. Milan landed on first because of Austin's bad throw, and McLear followed him when Hall juggled his bunt. Hetling hit a hard one at Hall, which the lengthy pitcher could not handle, and the bases were filled with no one out. Bayliss hit an easy grounder to Austin, who kicked it all over the diamond before he could pick it up, bringing Milan across the home plate. Hall gave Holland four wide ones, forcing in McLear, Kelly flew out to Welch and Annis walked, forcing in Hetling. Weaver hit to White, who caught Bayliss at the plate, and Young struck out, ending the worst inning Omaha has had this year.

The Wichita team batted around in that inning and the next started like it was going to be a repetition of the sixth, as Milan led off with a single, but Hall settled down and no runs resulted, although Austin made his third error. Neither side scored after the sixth inning. The score:

Notes of the Game.

Lincoln comes next Sunday.

All the hits made by the Rourke family were made by new men on the team.

No more games for a week in Omaha.

The season opens Wednesday at Sioux City.

Austin had an off day, as he made more errors yesterday than in all the exhibition games put together.

All the players had need of their sweaters and heavy garments, which evidently bothered them considerably.

Townsend has a splendid throwing arm and the boys from Kansas did not attempt to force him to use it much.

Graham did not keep up his record as a hitter which he has been making during the exhibition series in Omaha.

The game was disappointing from an Omaha fan's standpoint, for several chances to tie or win were let slide by when some of the heavy hitters might have clouted it out.

Milan made a phenomenal catch in the third inning, when he misjudged Autrey's fly and then recovered himself sufficiently to nail the ball on the end of his glove hand.

Belden wore dark glasses during the first part of the game, and they helped him out on one fly in the sun garden, but the sun disappeared and he had no further use for them.
