TRY HAYDEN'S FIRST*HOUSE RENTS STILL GO UP

Enormous Advances Are Made Out of Proportion to Salaries.

SOME REAL ESTATE MEN ADMIT ERROR

Say It This: Renting Process Is Continued House Owners Will Suffer in the Long Run.

Disregarding the economic law of supply and demand rents have been increased from 10 to 25 per cent in Omaha on moderate sized houses within the last thirty days and it is anticipated the end is not reached. Tenants are up in arms over the sharp and, from their viewpoint, absolutely unwarranted advance in prices, which has resulted in more work for the moving companies from tenants who have refused to submit to exorbitant demands from agents of owners.

The increase in rental has been most apparent in houses containing from four to nine rooms in good residence sections and the slogan of the owners is, "Dig up or move."

While it is admitted that the demand for small cottages has increased to some extent during the winter, the present rise in rentals is deemed to be solely due to a disposition to make hay while the sun shines in the present prosperous condition regardless of the relation of rents to the present value of the property.

Cottages worth $2,000 are now renting for $25 per month, or 15 per cent on the investment. Houses conservatively valued at $3,000 are being rented, or rather rent is being asked, at the rate of $30 to $50 per month, or over 20 per cent income on the investment.

These rates are out of all due proportion to the value of the property, as is plainly apparent, but are demanded with uniformity which will, according to many real estate brokers, result in injury to the city.

Great Mistake Says Dodge.

"Such a movement is a great mistake," said N. P. Dodge Jr., Friday morning when asked what effect the exorbitant increase demands of property owners would have.

"This is the season when many people are vacating the town houses and moving to the suburbs or country for the summer, and many houses are being left vacant. Of course the demand for small cottages is very great, but there are many of these vacant in all parts of the city. Cottages that were rented in former years for $25 are now bringing $15 or $20 per month, but to increase rents out of due proportion to the value, allowing for more than a fair income from the same, would do the greatest detriment of the city. It would be a sad mistake to increase rents in most cases higher than they are at present, which is in excess of what the income from property has been for years, and conservative investors would be wise to go slow in the matter of raising present rental rates."

Plats as well as houses have been subjected to the same rate of increase in price since April 1. Apartments in the Utah apartment house at Park avenue and Leavenworth street, were raised $5 each last fall and other apartment houses were subjected to a similar rise.

Most rented houses are occupied by persons working on salary and the sharp increase in rentals now falls as a severe blow when salaries have not been raised in proportion.

"It looks like the owners were trying to kill the gosling that laid the golden eggs," said a tenant who had been forced to move after receiving notice of a 20 per cent increase in rent. "They will overreach themselves in their greediness and have a whole lot of vacant houses on their hands, which will be a just reward."

FEW TRIM TREES RIGHT

Not Many People Know How to Prune, Says James Y. Craig.

"The trouble with most people is they trim their trees too close," said James Y. Craig, who knows probably more about trees than any other man in Omaha. "I have seen dozens of yards in the city this spring where the trees have been mutilated and butchered by the owners in their desire to trim them so as to make them grow nicely."

"There are few places in Omaha where you can see handsome, well shaped, well developed, well balanced trees. This is not because the wind blows too much in this country, as some people think. It is only because the people do not know how to trim the trees."

"The only reason for trimming trees at all is to get them to grow symmetrically. No one trimmed the trees in the forest primeval, but in a city, where trees grow in all sorts of places and in conditions of light and shade, it is necessary."

"Don't lop any limbs off the trees except such as overbalance. Weigh the tree, as it were, with your eye, and if one limb is hanging out to the north or some other direction too much, cut it off. It doesn't matter how much you cut it off, just so you use your judgment in balancing the tree. If this is done any tree may be made to grow with the beautiful symmetry of a pine or spruce."

Now is the time to make your wants known through The Bee Want Ad page.

SHRINERS GO TO THE COAST

Advance Guard Passes Through Omaha on the Way to Los Angeles Meeting.

Shriners from all over the country are starting for Los Angeles and the advance guard went through Omaha Friday morning. The first through were some of the leaders from St. Paul and Minneapolis, as these cities are after the annual meeting for next year. The dates of the meeting this year are May 5 to 11.

Members of the Twin city orders will pass through Omaha about 9 o'clock next Tuesday morning, arriving in a special train over the Great Western and leaving over the Burlington for Denver, where they will use the Colorado Midland.

On the train will be representatives of St. Paul, Duluth, Minneapolis and Aberdeen. Besides the regular Pullmans and tourists will be two diners and a club car.

Damaeus temple of Rochester left for the west over the Union Pacific Friday afternoon, arriving Friday morning. Moslem temple of Detroit, with four or five standard sleepers, will arrive next Wednesday at 1:30 in the afternoon and leave over the Union Pacific at 4 p. m. Tangier temple of Omaha leaves Omaha next Thursday on the Overland Limited.

Mediah temple of Chicago, with 150 people, passes through Omaha on the Union Pacific at 3:30 next Thursday morning.

A merry party of Shriners from Rochester, N. Y., on the way to attend the convention of the order at Los Angeles, reached Omaha Friday morning in two special sleepers and immediately boarded carriages for a drive about the city. There were about twenty men with their wives.

vention city, the return to be made south as far as Mexico City and then home by way of St. Louis. After the drive over the city lunch was eaten at the Millard hotel and the journey westward resumed at 4:15 o'clock.

MANY WANT TO JOIN THE TOUR

Numbers of Business Men Anxious to Go on Northwest Trade Excursion.

Plans for the great northwest trade excursion of the Commercial club to be held in June are being rushed with all possible speed. Committees worked nearly all night Thursday revising the itinerary, so as to shorten the time consumed on the trip.

It has been decided to make the trip to the Pacific coast states, but several minor towns will not be visited and the time of the trip will be reduced from eighteen days to two weeks.

An advertising subcommittee of the Commercial club is considering designs for the itinerary booklet, both for an appropriate cover and contents. Many elaborate designs have been submitted in competition for the cover and it has been decided to devote one page in advertising each of the firms participating in the excursion.

A photograph of the entire party or building of each participant represented on the trade trip is desired, together with a half-tone photograph of the representative of the firm.

Now that it has been definitely decided to make the complete trip to the coast states applications for reservations for the excursion are being received in great quantities, even from firms that had previously declined to participate in such an extensive trip.

The success of the excursion is assured from the number of new applications received, as nearly two-thirds of the requisite number had been received prior to the announcement Thursday that the trip would not be curtailed and will be carried out as originally planned.

BOYS' NAMES BEFORE AND AFT

Herbert Fletcher Recovers His Bicycle, Which Earl Osborn Takes.

In the story published Thursday of the theft of a bicycle from a messenger boy, employed by the Nebraska Clothing company and the arrest of the thief, the name of the thief was substituted for that of the owner through an error in the police records. It was not Earl Osborn who lost the wheel, but it was he who was arrested, and it was Herbert Fletcher, who lives with his parents at 355 North Twenty-second street, who owned it and secured the thief's arrest, instead of being the thief himself, as stated.

The Osborn boy, as he confessed later to Captain Mostyn when arrested, stole the wheel in front of the clothing company's store Wednesday afternoon, and the next day was riding it down Sherman avenue to work when, unknowingly, he passed young Fletcher on the sidewalk. The latter at once recognized his property and had Patrolman Aughe arrest the Osborn lad. At first the boy, who lives at 1523 North Seventeenth street and formerly worked for the Nebraska Clothing company, said he bought the wheel from a stranger boy for $5 and had so told his mother, but was afterward induced to confess.

The result of the visit of these officials is that thirty-six of the cars are to be built as rapidly as possible and it is thought that the entire number will be completed in about one year. These cars will be put into service between Omaha and Portland and Omaha and San Francisco as soon as they can be made ready.

The officials left Thursday evening for their respective homes.

STEEL MAIL CARS APPROVED

New Structures Turned Out by Omaha Shops Meet Satisfaction of Officials.

Superintendent E. L. West of Chicago, Superintendent Stephens and Assistant Superintendent Lewis of San Francisco, of the United States Railway Mail service and Superintendent Thrall of the Harriman railway mail system were in Omaha Thursday inspecting the new steel postal car being built in the Union Pacific shops.

The officials expressed themselves as satisfied with the car and recommended a few minor changes in its interior construction which can be readily made and were adopted.

The result of the visit of these officials is that thirty-six of the cars are to be built as rapidly as possible and it is thought that the entire number will be completed in about one year. These cars will be
