HEAVY PIECES TENDERLY HANDLED.

UNLESS it be trying to catch a stray hen in a neighbor's yard, there is no more unpleasant task than moving from one house to another.

The last time we moved I vowed it would be the final move, but circumstances alter cases and here we are again.

man in the days referred to would then strap his goods on the backs of beasts of burden.

The old system of moving has been changed. Nowadays the wife has charge of the event and the task is measured by inclinations or means.

At its very best moving is not generally considered one of the sugar plums of life's bill of fare.

"Talking of moving, a van man the other day said:

able in connection with removing goods from the old address into the van and out of the van into the new address.

the van arrives, while others are packing when the wagon arrives.

The moving season began earlier than usual—February 1—in Omaha this year.

DAYS OF TERROR NOW GONE

Housecleaning Time Robbed of Much of its Misery and Drudgery.

MODERN METHODS AID THE HOUSEWIFE

Soap and Paint and Mechanism Aid Her in Keeping Clean and Aid Her Life of One Dreadful Task.

With all the sighing for the good old days of the past, all those who are in the group of household economics occasion no overflow of tears nor weeping for the halcyon days of yore and their cumbersome inconveniences in the household cleaning line.

And here again, it is that the soap occupies with its thousand or more varieties of excellent soaps designed for every special and general purpose in household economy.

and brighter women has at last robbed housecleaning days of their terrors. Gas, kerosene and gasoline have wrought a veritable transformation, and with the variety of mechanical contrivances and labor-saving appliances to take the rough edge of the work, housecleaning has become a joy rather than a horror.

Scrubbing Loses Some Terror. Scrubbing is the bane of the housekeeper's existence, and under the old ways there was every reason for dreading the hard, thankless and hopeless work.

Washing Dishes a Joy Forever. And here again, it is that the soap occupies with its thousand or more varieties of excellent soaps designed for every special and general purpose in household economy.

ordinary care will last a lifetime. It often happens that the granite coating may chip off in spots, and in that event a leak is inevitable.

Ern of Mixed Paint. The present is the age of paint and the paint makers have gotten the product of their mills down to that point that the old time paint mill and paint mixer are long since things of the past.

Wax for Floors. While not a new scheme by any means, the practice of waxing floors is now becoming very general.

Vacuum Cleaner a Boon. Notwithstanding the vast accumulation of convenience and helps for housecleaning, there is still another that is destined to revolutionize the whole system of housecleaning.

Old Room Still Stays. While the rotary carpet sweeper has nearly driven the old brush broom to the wall, the broom still holds its place in the category of household economics.
