WATER ORDINANCE GOES OVER

Councilman Younkerman Offers Substitute for the Kiersted Bates.

LATTER ARE PRONOUNCED TO BE UNFAIR

National Humane Alliance Offers to Erect a Drinking Fountain for Animals Free of Cost to the City.

The city council at its meeting last night evaded further discussion of the new water rate schedule for the present, by instructing the special committee, of which Councilman Wallace is chairman, to report an ordinance embracing a schedule of rates at the meeting next Monday night. A motion to adjourn had been made by Councilman Fleming, when one of the councilmen suggested that something ought to be done about the water works matter. Councilman Wallace at once took the floor and stated that as he understood it the matter was now out of the hands of the special committee and was with the council at large. This, he said, he judged was the situation from the action taken at the meeting last Wednesday night. The other councilmen said they were mistaken that there had been no intent to take the matter out of the hands of the special committee, and to prove their statement they voted that the special committee prepare a rate ordinance and submit the same at the next regular meeting, which is next Monday night. While this discussion was proceeding Councilman Younkerman presented to City Clerk Sapp, a document which he said was an ordinance embracing a rate schedule, which he wanted submitted to the council. Mr. Younkerman declined to state from what source the ordinance emanated, but in answer to a question from Mayor Macrae said it was from the special water works committee, of which he is a member. It was accordingly concluded that the ordinance was drafted by or at the instance of the councilman from the First ward. Mayor Macrae forestalled any action looking towards the Younkerman ordinance reaching the council last night by insisting that it should properly be referred to the special committee and there it went without discussion. Younkerman is Bitter. The only information vouchsafed by Mr. Younkerman was that the ordinance contained practically the same rates those embraced in the ordinance passed in February of last year except that the hydrant rental had been raised from $46 to $60. The ordinance to which Mr. Younkerman referred did not provide for a minimum rate. In presenting his ordinance to the city clerk Mr. Younkerman took occasion to declare that it was offered as a substitute for the "unfair, unreasonable and unlawful" ordinance prepared by W. Kiersted, the expert engineer employed by the city to assist the special committee in preparing a schedule of rates and which certain members of this committee now wish to disown or discredit. L. M. Seaver, secretary and treasurer of the National Humane Alliance, of New York City made a proposition to install a drinking fountain for the accommodation of horses free of expense to the city beyond that of keeping it in repair and supplied with water. The fountain is to be erected at the intersection of Broadway and Fourth street. A suggestion was made that it be lighted at night, but Councilman Smith interposed an objection on the grounds that electric lights in the summer months attract millions of bugs which would drop into the water and make it undrinkable. The whole matter was referred to a special committee, with Councilman Wallace chairman. The alliance is placing the fountain in this city out of courtesy to General O. M. Dodge and will be something that will be much appreciated. Sugar Men Object to Taxes. The question of not assessing for city taxes sugar stored in this city while in transit was discussed at length, and finally referred to the city solicitor for a written opinion. County Attorney Hesse, appearing for certain warehouse owners, presented his side of the case to the council. He stated that sugar in transit, like other goods, was not liable to assessment, but the only reason the council was asked to adopt the resolution was to assure the shippers that they would not be assessed in this respect. The owners of warehouses in this city, Mr. Hesse said, were trying to compete with those in Des Moines, where a similar resolution had been adopted by the city council. The Danish Lutheran church was granted permission to use a portion of the street on Avenue A, near Ninth street, on which to erect a building to entertain the delegates to the national convention of the Danish Lutheran church, to be held in this city in June. Between 1,500 and 1,800 visitors are expected and the local church committee, falling to procure a building large enough in which to feed and entertain them, has decided to erect a temporary frame structure near the church. A vote of thanks was extended to City Auditor Mager for his comprehensive and exhaustive annual report and the suggestions and recommendations contained therein. The latter will be considered, at the suggestion of Mayor Macrae, at a later date. The city council will meet in special session Friday evening to open bids for the curbing ordered on the streets to be placed this year. The annual report of the park commissioners was received and placed on file. F. A. Spencer. Rugg, formally of Manning, Ia., who was brought from Omaha Saturday to complete an unfinished sentence in the state hospital for inebriates at Knoxville, decided yesterday on being brought before Judge Wheeler in district court that he was willing to serve out his time, and the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Rugg were accordingly dismissed. Trial of the personal injury damage suit of Mrs. Mary L. Coffman against the city of Council Bluffs was begun in the district court yesterday. The plaintiff seeks to recover $250 for injuries alleged to have been received in September, 1906, from a fall caused by a defective sidewalk on Avenue F, near North Tenth street. Mrs. Coffman claims to have suffered a fractured ankle and rib. County Attorney Hesse has brought suit in the name of State Treasurer W. W. Morrow against Christina Glascock of Walnut to recover $2,300 collateral inheritance tax from the estate of the late John G. Glascock, which was valued at $44,000. When John Glascock died the property went to the brother, now made defendant in this suit, who claims to have had an interest in it prior to his brother's death. Briery, a printer, who roomed at the Andrews domicile, were arrested late Sunday night in this city on complaint of the woman's husband, who had followed the couple across the river. Mrs. Andrews and her escort attended the show at the New theater and afterwards partook of supper at a Broadway restaurant. After partaking of their meal they were arrested by the police, Andrews having in the meantime filed an information in the court of Justice Greene charging the couple with a serious offense. In default of bail Mrs. Andrews and Briery were forced to spend the night in jail. The next morning, before Justice Greene, Mrs. Andrews and Briery were discharged. Mrs. Andrews and Briery were about to take the car back to Omaha after the hearing in Justice Greene's court when Andrews showed up. Andrews was not feeling over kindly to Briery and he was about to commence hostilities when a policeman put in an appearance. Mrs. Andrews was permitted to proceed on her way to Omaha but Andrews and Briery were taken to police headquarters and charged with disturbing the peace. They gave bonds for their appearance in police court this morning. Mrs. Andrews recently began suit for divorce against her husband in the Omaha courts. CHILD DISPLAYS VITALITY

Three Times Pronounced Dead, but Lives and is on Road to Recovery.

RECEIVER IN CHARGE OF SEYMOUR BANK

Des Moines Collector Has Ingenious Method of Inducing Debtors to Pay Up Which May Make Him Trouble.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DEB MOINES, April 29.—(Special.)—An 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison was pronounced dead three times last week and is living today, with every indication that it is past the danger point of dying and will recover. The infant had diphtheria. A physician, one of the best of Des Moines, inserted a silver tube in the child's throat and during the operation it ceased breathing. It was later pronounced dead and placed on the table. The parents covered it with a sheet. Later it was sent to a hospital, where it was kept for several days. A physician, who had not left the house, administered a saline solution, introducing it into the infant's veins, and it was resuscitated. It was again pronounced dead a week ago last Sunday, but a physician was called. The child had stopped breathing, but efforts were made successfully to bring it back to consciousness. It was pronounced dead again last week Tuesday, but was again revived by the same treatment as was used the first two times. It is asserted now that the child will recover. Receiver in Charge. Receiver B. F. Fry is in charge of the defunct Seymour Farmers and Drivers' bank. The bank was turned over to him today by Leland Windsor, state bank examiner. Fry will have complete charge of the bank and will either wind up its affairs or reorganize it, as the stockholders wish and are able to raise the necessary cash. It is admitted now by everyone that the stockholders will be assessed the full amount of their stock and that even then the depositors will lose considerable money. Cashier Ware, when placed under arrest, intimated that other prominent persons in the community would be implicated. At the office of the state auditor nothing new concerning the bank is known today except that the bank examiner will remain to complete the examination and determine the amount of shortage. It is believed now that this will amount to close to $20,000, which is almost wholly in the form of deposits, certificates for which were issued, but for which there was no record on the bank's books. Collector May Find Trouble. An investigation is being made to ascertain whether or not it will be possible to make trouble for a Des Moines collection agency that has been sending out duns in the form of "forthwith subpoenas." The duns, in addition to being printed with all the appearance of a legal document, are headed, "Subpoena forthwith," and reads: "By virtue of a warrant of subpoena you are hereby directed to appear before the (name of collection agency) forthwith, duly commissioned attorneys for the plaintiff, at their office at (place and hour), or making payment of — dollars due and payable from you to plaintiff above named. GLIMMERING ARRANGED.

Ernest Gillingwater, the colored man who shot and killed James Streuchers at Northwoodville Saturday was arraigned in justice court today. He pleaded not guilty and the date for his preliminary hearing was set for May 2.

GLIMMERING CONTRACT NEXT.

Plans and specifications for the construction of one wing of the cantonal building at Glenwood were completed today by State Architect Liebbe and bids will be advertised for at once. The contract will be the next to be let by the State Board of Control. Bids will be asked soon for the construction of a chimney at the Clarinda institution. It is to be 165 feet high above the ground and twenty feet below ground and seven and a half feet in diameter at the base, with a steel ladder down the inside.

WATERLOO TO HAVE TRAIN.

Members of the railroad commission have learned that factory owners of Waterloo are coming to Des Moines to get the commission to assist them in getting an especially low rate for an advertising train of thirty-nine cars loaded with Waterloo factory products which they propose to take four times across the state and then land in Des Moines for the next start. It is not likely that the railroad commission will be able to give them any assistance in a scheme of that kind. The Waterloo people have been offered a rate of $2 a mile for the train and they think they should have a lower rate.

JASPER MASON HAPPY.

Jasper Mason, released from the Anamosa penitentiary on the recommendation of the legislature, was overjoyed at his release. Reports printed by many of the state papers purporting to be clipped from the Prison Press, published at the Anamosa penitentiary, saying that Mason's mental condition was such that he was incapable of appreciating his freedom, are denied by his attorney, Mr. Heald of Cedar Rapids, who was in Des Moines today.

NEW STATE HANGE READY.

The plan for the new state rifle range, to be purchased jointly by the state and the government, is nearly ready. As soon as approved by the state it will be sent to Washington for approval by the War department.

Hearing on Merchandise.

The State Railroad commission will meet tomorrow for a hearing on the rates on merchandise. This is one of the series of hearings announced by the commission early in the year, when it was given out that the entire schedule of rates would be gone over. There are no complaints lodged with the commission as to merchandise rates and it is asserted by some that they are already lower than in surrounding states. Railroad freight men will all be present at the hearing, however.

STRIKEBREAKERS ON STRIKE

Many Men in Boston Quit Work Because Conditions Are Not Satisfactory.

BOSTON, Mass., April 29.—A strike of strike breakers was an unexpected feature today in connection with the movement of several hundred union teamsters of the city to obtain higher wages.

Over thirty nonunionists who had been serving in places of union strikers, quit because of the harassing conditions of their employment and, in some cases, because of alleged nonpayment of wages. Freight vehicles were abandoned in various sections of the city. Serious blockades of traffic resulted on busy thoroughfares.

The W. B. Reduso Corset IS a boon for large women—the ideal garment for overdeveloped figures requiring special restraint. It not only restrains the tendency to over-fleshiness, but it moulds the over-developed proportions into those pleasing, graceful outlines, hitherto thought to be attainable only by slighter figures. The particular feature of this model is the apron over the abdomen and hips, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement. Reduso Style 750 for tall well-developed figures. Made of a durable coutil in white or drab. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 22 to 36. Price, $3. Reduso Style 760 for short well-developed figures. Made of white and drab coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 24 to 36. Price, $3.
