Becord Breaking Eusiness is Done by County Register Frank Bandle.

Few Filings Are for Technical Purposes, the Great Majority for Residence or Business Property Denis.

Record breaking business was done Monday in the office of the county register of | missive. deeds, Frank W. Bandle, when fifty-two deeds, representing real estate transfers aggregating $64,860, were placed on file lines is one of the largest number of deeds ever placed on record in any one day for several weeks and is indicative of the extraordinary activity now evident in Omaha realty, both residence and business property.

Very few of the deeds recorded Monday were for technical purposes and they were mostly for small property, although several large transactions were represented. The number of transfers reported for Monday falls to bear out the complaints of many real estate dealers that business is stagnant," said a well known realty broker Tuesday morning. "This recent spell of cold and unseasonable weather has had, no doubt, the effect of making sales and inquiries less frequent, but the general business this spring is far ahead of that of previous years in every line. It is also to be noticed that the sales for home purposes are equal, nearly, to those for investment, although the home sales are mostly small. This indicates, however, prosperous times with the wage earner and salaried man, who can now afford to buy their own homes."

It is believed the transfers during the onth of April will be smaller than those recorded during the same period of 1906, as the condition of the weather during the last month has not been conductve to

OFFICER TAKEN FOR INSANE Detective Maloney Has Hard Time Convincing Hospital Authorities of the Mistake.

That Detective Steve Maloney, who took an insane man, to St. Bernard hospital Council Bluffs, Tuesday morning with Detective Donohoe, was mistaken for the patient by the keepers and was obliged to show his badge of authority as an office of the law in the state of Nebraska before he could even establish a doubt in the minds of the hospital people, is the story related at the police station and vouched for by a number of officers. Nor does Maloney deny with the air of a man entirely

It is said the keepers asked Maloney to remain quiet and all would be arranged satisfactorily, when he began to protest. Here. I'm not the crazy man," he cried;

'it's that other fellow." "That's what they all say, was the disquieting reply. "Now, just sit down in that chair and we'll fix you up comfortably."

It was not until Donohoe went to the rescue and assured the keepers they were trying to detain the wrong man that Maloney was given any change to prove.

WOMAN MARRIES TOO OFTEN Plea Offered by Man Seeking Divorce After Being in Dark for Three Years.

Charging she already had a husband when she married him and that after their marriage she was secretly wedded again without his knowledge, James M. Shores has begun suit in district court against Jennie Curtis Shores, to have the marriage ceremony performed in 1904 set aside and declared null and void. In his petition Shores says he did not learn the true state of affairs until January 1, 1907, and since that time he has not lived with the woman he supposed was his legal wife. Shores says he was married to Mrs. Shores at San Bernardino, Cal., September 20, 1904. He declares she told him at that time she had been divorced from her former husband, William Snider of Council Bluffs to whom she had been married in 1971 and was a single woman. They lived together until January, 1905, when she came to proceedings were begun against her here the last few years. by Mr. Snider and she filed a cross-petition and was granted the divorce During this time he said he was sending her $40 s month. The decree in the Snider case was filed August 28, 1906. Before the required six months were up he says she went to Connell Bluffs and married Joseph T. Tool and lived with him until July 1, 1906, refusing to return to Shores. The petition says they lived both in Omaha and South Bend.

BUILDING MATERIAL LOWER

Prices Underge Marked Change as Shown in Cohn Hotel Bids.

CONTRACT IS ABOUT TO BE LET

Plans Are Prepared by Architect Latenser and Proposals Asked for the Completion of the Auditorium.

The contracts for the erection of the new hotel building of Herman Cohn at Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue will be awarded Wednesday morning. It is unerstood the contract for the fireproofing onstruction of the building has been let and other subsidiary contracts will be losed up immediately.

An interesting feature brought out by the original bids submitted for the construction of the new building is the apparent decline in prices of material. The first bids submitted by the many contractors surprised Architect Latenser and Mr. Cohn by being decidedly lower than had been expected and far below the estimates for the total cost of the four-story building. The first bids were for a building only two-thirds fireproof, but the figures submitted allowed for the building of a completely fireproof structure, and this is. now contemplated under the revised fig-

The low bids submitted for the Cohn building would not have been possible if prices for material had not eased off to some degree and it is the consensus of opinion among contractors that there is an easier feeling in the material market Omaha, as he believed on a visit. > Completion of Auditorium. Plans have been prepared by Architect Latenser and bids asked for the comple tion of the Auditorium building by the construction of a new and permanent roof and other minor improvements. The specifications call for the construction of a heavy tile roof, to take the place of the present temporary roof and the total cost of the improvements will be between $40,000 and $50,000.

A meeting of the committee, of which F. A. Nash is chairman, has been called for Thursday afternoon to consider the bids submitted by that time, although the contract will not be let for about two weeks. Work will be begun by the committee in short time to float the remainder of the bonds necessary to the completion of the Auditorium, when an active campaign will be entered upon by the members of the arge committee.
