Nearly Three Hundred Pleasure Seekers Attend Saturday's Opening.

CLUB HOUSE TAXED BY DINNER CROWD

Dancing and Bowling Serve to Entertain During Evening—several Attendance at Country Club Dinner.

A Bachelor's Idea.

She's somewhat slim. But hair and pink. She seeks a "him." To suit her whim.

And when he's found. She veers around. Leaves him aground. Like ship beach-bound.

Her love she'll smother. Then seek another. Deluded brother. With languid smile!

Ah, friend, take warning! The smile adorning! This elf of morning! Is merely guile.

Her golden tresses. Which she professes. Undyed—no dyes. Her eyes of blue!

Her matchless motions. Her creamy lotions. Her soft emotions. Are all untrue!

JOHN BLACKBURN.

The Social Calendar.

SATURDAY—Mr. and Mrs. George H. Kelley, last meeting of Saturday Night Card club.

How weather detracted materially from the opening day festivities at the Field club Saturday, and instead of the gala out-of-door affair and the porch swarming with handsomely gowned women during the afternoon, the gathering partook more of the "crush." Comparatively few arrived before dinner, but between 7 and 8 o'clock nearly 300 guests were seated. Dancing followed the dinner. The dinner party was the feature of the occasion.

One of the largest dinner parties of the evening was composed of the members of the Harmony club including Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dinwiddie, Mrs. D. V. Sholes, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stout, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ewing, Miss Dale and Miss Pinto.

With Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Vetter were Mr. and Mrs. E. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Updike, Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley and Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Guecker.

Jack Hughes entertained Miss Miner of Lincoln, Miss Helen Sholes and Mr. Dribshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Updike and Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Heine.

W. J. Coad had as his guests Miss Claire Helene Woodward, Miss Anna Coad, Miss Mary Hayden, Mr. Serat, T. J. Ryan and Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rahm entertained Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Mikesell, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Palmatrix, Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Beckard and Nelson Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Townsend entertained Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shearer and Miss Basile Townsend.

With Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Korta and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Conrad.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bryson and Mrs. G. H. Pratt were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Lane.

Mrs. E. L. Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Adams and children have returned from Florida, where they spent the winter and have taken the furnished home of Dr. and Mrs. P. G. Sparling, Twenty-seventh and Dewey avenue for the year.

The unpropitious weather did not encourage a long dinner list at the Country club Saturday evening. Among those who entertained were Mr. and Mrs. Hochstetler, who made Rev. and Mrs. Addison Knickerbocker, the new rector of St. Matthias church their house guests.

Mrs. H. I. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. R. Z. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hatfield, Dr. and Mrs. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sullivan. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cole entertained a number of their friends Monday evening. The house was decorated in white and pink carnations. After a musical program covers were laid for Rev. and Mrs. F. L. Loveland, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Walters, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Dodder, Mr. and Mrs. James Sturdevant, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Hildebrand, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chase, Miss Loveland, Miss Hauptman, Miss Fulton, John Van Camp and A. E. Bandis.

Mrs. J. F. Wagner entertained the P. E. O. sisterhood at a card party Saturday afternoon. The rooms were profusely decorated in the colors of the order, yellow and white. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. George Hery and Mrs. A. A. Buchanan, whose present were: Mrs. F. H. Updike, Mrs. M. B. Updike, Mrs. George Hery, Mrs. A. A. Buchanan, Mrs. Tracyworth, Mrs. F. D. Wilson, Mrs. A. J. Wright, Mrs. A. L. Sheets, Mrs. Munroe, Mrs. George Eddy, Mrs. Shropshire, Mrs. Will Campbell, Mrs. Fankhouser, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Zackerly, Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Frank Patton, Mrs. McCutcheon, Mrs. John Bryans, Mrs. Will Craig, Mrs. M. C. Peters, Mrs. John Kuhn, Miss Clara Mason, Miss Carrie Brown, Miss Mayme Hutchinson, Miss Agnes Livesey, Miss Clara Hery, Miss Edith Patch and Mrs. Wagner.

Mrs. William Redick will leave May 11 for Williamsport, where she will champion a party of young people during "prom" week at the college which her son, Mr. John Redick, attends.

Miss Agnes Weller is the guest of Miss Helen Edwards of Kansas City and is being extensively entertained during her visit there. Last Wednesday Miss Edwards gave a bridge party to thirty guests in honor of Miss Weller; Friday evening Miss Edwards entertained again in her honor, when twenty-four guests were present and the rooms had Japanese decorations. The same idea being carried out in the second course. Miss Edwards has issued invitations for a dancing party to be given Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Weller and Miss McMillan of St. Louis.

The following from the Long Beach Tribune will be of interest to the many friends of Mrs. Cronk, who was formerly prominent in Omaha society:

"Mrs. Merigold of West Tenth street and Mrs. Cronk of Magnolia avenue were the joint hostesses of a most charming party yesterday. The guests were all former residents of Denison, Ia., and the event was given in honor of Mrs. Cronk's mother."

Small dinner parties were given by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns, Frank Knogh, Luther Drake and Mr. Davis.

Pleasures Past. Mr. and Mrs. James Ringold of Denver arrived Friday to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elizabeth Goodrich.

Miss Jessie Nason has returned from Lincoln, where she has been a guest at the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority house.

The guests of the club were: Dr. and Mrs. Charles Downs and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fall. The members present were: Mr. and

JOYS OF LIFE IN HAWAII

No Servant Problem There, but Mosquitoes Present Impressive Bills.

Birds are everywhere in Hawaii. Their music fills the quivering air. One wonders why we do not all live in this paradise, where life seems to stretch out before one in a long, languid dream of delight.

Suddenly through your dreaming comes a rude awakening. The Hawaiian mosquito, the one flaw in the gem, the only thorn in the garden, has called to make your acquaintance and bid you welcome to his domain.

The houses, with their broad verandas filled with palms and flowers and furnished with tables, chairs, hammocks and grass mats, are a paradise to the "servant traveler." It is here that the Honolulu people enjoy their glorious climate.

The laws, thick and velvet as a carpet, were kept in perfect order by the yard boys, for experienced, servants-Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese—can always be had. In fact, the servant problem causes no worry to the housewife, who has but little anxiety in this land of plenty.

Everybody seems to take life easily. The offices close very early, and no one seems to know what care is. The sugar barons, their capital once rightly invested, draw their dividends, and the rest of life is required to spend them.

We stop at the home of our friend, a bungalow that is the picture of comfort. One end of the veranda is used as a sun parlor, sheltered by windows and screens, for when they call cold days—9 degrees above zero.

Numerous rooms connect with this, the dining room being a veranda at the other end of the house, and the kitchen a separate building, though connected by a roofed veranda. The guest chambers are cottages by themselves.

The bath is hewn out of solid stone, with a shower above. Servants are provided for in quarters apart from the house. The whole, in fact, greatly reminds one of an old southern plantation home with modern improvements.

Just in front of the house, spreading its great limbs at least sixty feet in diameter, is a great monkey pod tree, and under its protecting branches the children, and older ones, too, enjoy the swings and hammocks in an atmosphere which lulls to sleep. As we sit here, at midnight, dressed in the thinnest of summer clothing, with never a wrap, watching the moon rise out of the sea, we understand why the Hawaiian so loves his islands.—World's Work.

CHICAGO'S NEW CITY HALL

Imposing Crime-Colored Pile to Be Replaced by a Modern Structure.

Chicago has decided to follow the example of Cook county and duplicate the county building now under way on the square jointly owned by city and county. It is estimated to cost $2,000,000.

The new building is to be modern in every detail of construction and special attention is to be paid to light, ventilation and space for the various municipal offices. Like those in most cities the old city hall is a massive, gloomy looking structure, built with an idea of furnishing an imposing appearance from the outside. It is a part of the old-style city hall and for years has been inadequate. While the new building is not lacking in architectural design and exterior ornamentation, such as a large Corinthian colonnade with carved pillars, about ninety feet in height, it is to be more like an office building in appearance, combining dignity and beauty with practical office rooms in the interior. The building is to be a duplicate of the county building in Chicago.

The work of tearing down the old city hall is to begin about June 1. The city has now about $200,000 with which to make the start. Two plans for the construction of the building have been suggested. One is that work proceed by piecemeal, finishing it when the money is obtained. The other plan is to let the contract to some large firm with the understanding that the firm receive its pay in a certain number of years.

The new city hall is to be a duplicate of the new county building, which is now being finished in the same square. A committee of city officials recently inspected the county building and decided that it would be bad taste to erect a new building of different architectural design alongside.

The new city hall is to connect with the county building, making, in fact, a $2,000,000 structure.

"Mark Twain" at Home. NEW YORK, May 4.—The report that Samuel L. Clemens is missing on Henry H. Rogers' yacht in the "Mark Twain" who was given wide circulation today, is untrue. Mr. Clemens is at home in this city.

The oyster harvest. Maryland's oyster season, which closed on May 1, has been the best for years, and there is an encouraging outlook for the next two seasons at least. Although the tongs have generally received good prices for their oysters, they have been handicapped by the fact that many of the oysters, particularly early in the season, were just under the lawful size of two and a half inches. Later in the season many of these oysters grew to the required size and were caught and sold, but the proportion of small oysters was unusually large throughout the winter.
