The visiting friends present were Rev. J. M. Wilson of Seattle, who spoke of the labor conditions in the northwest, and Rev. Dr. Laird of West Chester, Penn.

Negroes Held for Robbery—Mary Harrison, Hattie Wells, George Wells, the latter's consort, and a number of other negroes, were arrested Sunday in connection with a robbery of $220 from James Moston of Council Bluffs and held in police court Monday morning until May 7. Three or four women are believed to have received a slice of the money, but thus far they have taken a determined stand, denying all knowledge of the theft.

Suit Against the R. & O.—The trial of the suit of Zadock H. Clark against the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was begun in Judge Estelle's court Monday morning. Clark was in charge of a carload of horses shipped from South Chicago to Clearmont, Wyo., while his train was switching here and the caboose he was riding in was wrecked while the crew was trying to make "shifting" switch and he was permanently injured. He is suing the company for $1,000.

H. Myers, Twenty-fourth and Ninety streets, on the night of April 27, and having shot at with intent to kill Conductor Ealy on an Allright car near Thirtieth and Canton streets Wednesday night. The hearing was set for Tuesday morning.

Security for Streets of Paris—Security for the new attraction, "Streets of Paris," is being installed in the Auditorium in order to give the merchants of Omaha an idea as to the magnitude of the scheme and to make selections of space for concessions. Scenery showing street scenes in Paris will occupy the entire floor space of the Auditorium as well as the stage and a miniature Eiffel tower and Vendome place. The attraction has been brought to Omaha at great expense and the attendant carnival will be held at the Auditorium for two weeks beginning May 30.

Measures Too Short—Charles H. Rodman, 230 North Twenty-third street, and Arthur Phillips, Thirty-third and Lake streets, were arrested Monday morning by City Inspector of Weights and Measures Pegg, on a charge of having short measured in their possession. Pegg asserted he found the men peddling with baskets too small to hold the quantity they were supposed to contain. City Prosecutor Danfelt told them if they would destroy the vessels they have and see to it that they have full sizes in the future they would not be prosecuted this time, and they promised.

New Phone Company Officers—At a meeting of the stockholders of the new Telephone company of Omaha Monday the same officers and directors were re-elected for the coming year. The officers are: U. S. Grant, Jr., of San Diego. The stock of installing the Omaha plant is now under way and large forces of men are being put to work as fast as they can be secured.

New Business Getters—The Packers and Merchants' Commercial association, which is being organized by Dakota and local capitalists, has leased a suite of offices in the Beldridge-Wood block at Twentieth and Farnam streets and will enter the Omaha field of commercial adjustment and collections as soon as incorporation is had. Incorporation papers will be filed immediately by the attorney of the new company, Richard E. Horton, and active business begun. The new concern is backed principally by local capital, but has no outside connections and the scope will be that of the usual mercantile collection agency.

May Term of District Court—The May term of the district court opened Monday morning with a grand jury panel reporting for duty. Most of the forenoon was spent by Judge Troup listening to requests of jurors to be excused from duty. The first case to come before the criminal court was that of John Simms, charged with a statutory offense against a seven-year-old girl. Before the jury was impaneled an error in drawing the information was discovered and the case was postponed to correct it. This is the second time the information in this case has been found defective. The first time the charge against him was changed after the preliminary hearing.

Grand Jury Tuesday—The federal grand jury will be formally empaneled at the federal building Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The matters to come before the jury are such cases as offenses as originated before February 27, when the new federal judicial bill went into effect. The purpose of the present session of the grand jury is to clean up all old cases originating in the old general district of Nebraska before the creation of the new subdivisions of the district. In the absence of Assistant Attorney General Rush and District Attorney Goss at St. Paul, Assistant District Attorney Lane will superintend bringing matters to the attention of the grand jury.

Blair-Young Not Before Court—Morris Borasky, 6 years old, was up before juvenile court Monday morning on a charge of begging. According to the stories told in court, Morris would run away from home and beg money and little trinkets from the neighbors. Judge Kennedy paroled him to his 12-year-old brother, Philip, who promised to look after him. A group of youngsters from 10 to 15 years old were in court charged with robbing a railroad car. Morris Lonergan, it is charged, broke the seal to the car, so his companions could raid it of oranges and other fruit. The mother of James Berry, one of the boys, told the court he was only 11 years old, but that she had made affidavit he was 14 in order to enable him to work in one of the South Omaha packing houses.

RIVALRY ON THE TRADE TOUR
Omaha Must Compete with Salt Lake and Portland for North-west Patronage.

An element increasing the interest in the coming trade extension excursion of Omaha "boosters" to the northwest territory has been created by the fact that competition will be had with merchants from Salt Lake City and Portland, who will hold trade excursions in the territory covered by the Omaha excursion prior to the advent of the Omaha merchants.

Merchants from Salt Lake City will hold an excursion through Utah and Idaho beginning May 19 and the Portland merchants will take an extended trip through Oregon and Idaho in June. Omaha will have to compete with these excursions and make inroads into the work accomplished.

It is confidently expected the reputation of Omaha in similar cases will be sustained and the impression given by one hundred representative merchants of "the market town" will counteract the trade effect of the excursions of the other cities who have gone before.

PLAT OF CUT-OFF LAKE PARK
Description of New Resort Filed by Board with the City Clerk.

The Park commission filed with the city clerk Monday a plat of the land which it desires the city to acquire for public park purposes at Cut-Off lake. The plat shows a tract of land extending around the north end of the lake beginning at Locust street on the west side and running around the north and east side of the lake. This tract varies in width at different places. It includes all of the North Omaha addition. The ice houses are not included, but a narrow strip runs around behind them connecting the park tract in this way.

A main entrance would be at Ames avenue, running off from Sherman avenue. It is proposed to get the title to the tract and then to lay it out in a park. The city is to be asked to furnish the authority to ask the people for a bond issue.

Theodore N. Vall, Formerly of Omaha, Becomes President of a Large Corporation.

Theodore N. Vall is receiving congratulations from his old-time friends in Omaha over his election to the presidency of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. As the company is a successful one and has a paid up capital of $100,000,000, this position of president is one of which any man has a right to take great pride in.

NASH ON POWER PROBLEM

Says it is Not Fair to Prevent Omaha as Isolated.

COST NOT PROHIBITIVE TO MANUFACTORIES
Declares Gate City Has as Cheap Power as Any City, Not Even Excepting Niagara Falls.

F. A. Nash, president of the Omaha Electric Light & Power company, says it is not fair to Omaha to keep sending out reports that tend to show that Omaha is so far away from the coal fields that the cost of power is almost prohibitive to manufacturers locating here.

"There are many things which show the cheap cost of power in Omaha," said Mr. Nash. "Our company is supplying all the new elevators with power and this has been a great help in building up the Omaha grain market. If 100,000 horse power and sell it they could afford to supply Omaha with a cheap power, but when they have water they also bring down the price of power. This will establish a main line from the east to the west part of the city and from north to south, Sixteenth street and Sherman avenue being in good repair.

Longer Than That Here.
"In Washington, where water conditions are favorable for the wear of asphalt paving, the streets are allowed to lie only on an average twenty-one years without resurfacing," said Mr. Rosewater. "Here, where our heat and cold extremes are great and sudden, where there is leakage of gas from under the street and where other things militate against the life and usefulness of asphalt paving, we allow our streets to lie longer than that in fact, we let them lie until they are worse than useless."

"The asphalt paved streets in the central business part of the city have been in use for between twenty and twenty-four years. They cannot be patched with profit. They need complete repair and resurfacing with renewal of the concrete base."

"Since the failure to pass the bills in the legislature there is only one way to put the streets in repair during the next two years until the legislature meets again. That way is by petition.

Power to Consumers.
"Power is being sold to consumers in Omaha at a lower price per horse power than has ever been named by any of the promoters of the power schemes, to such large users as the street railway and electric light company. The latest engineering report on the Plattie river power scheme places the cost of the undertaking at $5,500,000, a cost absolutely prohibitive based on the present market price of power in Omaha and Council Bluffs. It would be impossible to pay bare interest on the investment, to say nothing of operating and maintenance expense, and capital generally requires some prospect at least of profit.

If these gentlemen who write so fluently of the great necessity of cheap power for Omaha knew anything of the subject, or would take the trouble to investigate it, they would ascertain that the fact in the case is that Omaha has today as cheap power as any place in the country. Niagara Falls is not excepted. The water on the river, one exception, is operated by electric power generated in Omaha, and that small consumers desiring to locate manufacturing plants in Omaha can do so under as favorable terms as at any point in the country, so far as the cost of power is concerned."

BEE SPREADS VALUABLE NEWS

Congratulations for Correct Crop Reports Printed in Columns of This Paper.

J. E. Buckingham, assistant general passenger agent of the Burlington, is in receipt of many congratulatory letters for the interview which was published in "The Bee" Saturday afternoon, following the election in the western part of the state. Here is one of the letters:

BENKELMAN, Neb., Mr. J. E. Buckingham, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Omaha—Dear Sir: I wish to thank you for your truthful account of crop conditions in southwestern Nebraska and northwestern Kansas. The Bee of Tuesday afternoon, as noted by personal observation, and the subsequent magnificent snowfall have given the correct added impetus. Old farmers who are extensive wheat growers in this region declare they never have had such a bumper crop of wheat than what at present prevails. Any remarks eulogistic of crop conditions in Nebraska for last week should not be exaggerated. We are "deliciously" happy and the sequent smile is observed on the countenances of all farmers. Respectfully yours,

WILL C. ISRAEL.

The Burlington soil and crop report of conditions in Wyoming and the Wyoming division in Nebraska for last week shows the soil is in first-class condition with half an inch of rain and four inches of snow east of Curtis. The growth of wheat was retarded by cold weather, although there is a fine stand on the Sheridan division with the wheat from three to six inches high. Oats did not make much headway. Fruit has been badly dealt by the weather and there is little prospect of any kind of a crop.

Garden truck is growing nicely on the Sheridan division, but potato planting is being delayed on the Jersey division. The cold weather is interfering with successful lambing.

OFFICIALS TO BE LENIENT

No Prosecutions Will Follow New Law Until Reasonable Period Has Elapsed.

Until a reasonable time has elapsed to permit compliance with the law there will be no prosecutions under the measure passed by the last legislature to require foreign corporations to file the name of agents upon whom service of process may be had. The certificates are still being filed at the office of the registrar of deeds and a number of inquiries about the law is being received every day. Owing to the fact so little is known of the law County Attorney English will not begin any prosecutions until all corporations have had a chance to comply. So far all corporations have shown a willingness to file the required certificates as soon as their attention is called to the law.

PAVING UP TO BUSINESS MEN

Condition of Streets Depends on Omaha Leaders, Says City Engineer.
DEALERS MUST TAKE THE INITIATIVE
Asphalt Lies Too Long and is in Such Condition It Cannot Be Patched with Profit.

"To make Omaha once more the best paved city in the United States," as it was some years ago, the business men must get together and take the initiative," said City Engineer Rosewater. Mr. Rosewater made strenuous efforts to get bills through the legislature which would permit the city to do this work, but they failed to pass.

One of these bills to give the city the right to order any street resurfaced within 4,000 feet of the curb, died because of the neglect of the senators. The other one, asking authority for the city to issue $200,000 in bonds met the same fate.

The city engineer will get the asphalt repair plan in operation some time this week. He plans to put Howard street in good repair from Tenth street to Sixteenth, South Sixteenth from the viaduct to Farnam street, Farnam street from Eighteenth street west to Fortieth, and then some street, probably Thirty-ninth, from Farnam north to Cuming street. Work will also be done on Cuming street. This will establish a main line from the east to the west part of the city and from north to south, Sixteenth street and Sherman avenue being in good repair.

Longer Than That Here.

Little Boys Rob Uncle Sam
Two Children Confess to Looting Mail Boxes—Detectives Get Reward for Arrests.

Otto Hyland, 260 Himebaugh avenue, and Harry Kronmire, 824 North Twenty-sixth street, two little boys, aged 12 and 11, were arrested Saturday in deep trouble with Uncle Sam, having confessed to robbing rural mail boxes west of Benson Thursday of last week, and they are now in the hands of the juvenile authorities waiting to see what the government's agents will do with them. Meanwhile, Detectives McDonald and Donohoe, who effected the capture of the little fellows, are pleased over the prospects of being awarded $200 for each of the prisoners, which the Postal department has standing for the capture and conviction of any persons stealing from mail boxes.

The boys were arrested by the detectives Monday on a charge of having stolen a watch belonging to the brother of one of them and attempting to pawn it, and after they were taken into custody the more serious crime was disclosed. They could not long deny their guilt and a confession was called at the city jail and took the prisoners away and the postoffice inspectors took up the matter of prosecuting them.

FIRST OF SCHILLER'S PLAY

German Amateurs Present "Die Rauber" at the Boyd in an Acceptable Manner.

"Die Rauber" (The Robbers), the first production of Schiller's pen, was given in German Sunday night at Boyd's theater by local German talent, under the auspices of the Schiller Monument committee. The characters as sketched are full of youthful vigor. This scene is laid in Germany during the middle ages. The reigning count, von Moore, has two sons, Karl and Franz. Karl, the first born, is his father's favorite, while Franz, the younger is physically and mentally deformed—a sort of Richard the Third. Karl and Amalia are betrothed, and while Karl is away to school his brother hatches a plot to wrest from him Amalia and to rob him of the succession which by right of birth is his by ingeniously spreading the report that Karl is leading the life of a libertine at college. The father has Franz write a letter which amounts to a dowry. He also tries to win Amalia's love, but falls. One day Karl returns home in disguise. He is determined to test Amalia's love and she gives ample proof that she still loves him. Karl liberates the man in the tower without knowing it is his father. He then recognizes him and learns of Franz's crime. Franz is made a prisoner and placed in the tower. Since Amalia cannot marry a robber chief she prefers death by her lover's hands. Karl kills Amalia and offers himself up to the authorities.

The character of Franz was well taken by Oscar Niemann. While it is an ungrateful role he acted it in a manner that brought forth many manifestations of approval. Miss Marie Breier as Amalia was good both in her interpretation of the part and in her acting, and was encored repeatedly. Philip Andres played the part of Count von Moore in an acceptable manner.

SECOND DEATH AGAINST HIM

Grave Charge Hangs Over Head of George Breckner, Youth of Nineteen Years.

Coroner Bralley held an inquest Friday afternoon over the body of Frank Dubuc, who died as the result of a wound received Friday morning, April 28. Death occurred at the County hospital Saturday evening. The man was first taken to the South Omaha hospital, but last Thursday or Friday was transferred to the County hospital. He died of infection of some nature. The wound in itself, though serious, was not thought dangerous. It gave Dubuc considerable pain the first few days and there was loss of considerable blood before the arteries were taken up. The wound was sustained in a fight or scuffle at the Omaha Packing plant with George Breckner, Twelfth and Polk streets.

Breckner was arrested Sunday afternoon, but no charges have been filed against him. The recommendation of the county attorney after he receives the verdict of the coroner's jury will be awaited. Breckner claims the wound was accidental, but that Dubuc was in the act of striking him. He said that they had been "fooling" all the forenoon and passing words and Dubuc had at last become angry. Breckner was breaking legs in the killing beds and was constantly using his knife. As Dubuc struck he attempted to ward off the blow by raising his right arm, in which was the knife. The wound was the result.

Breckner is a boy of 19. He will be remembered as the boy who accidentally shot and killed Arthur Kuhn about two years ago. The jury exonerated him of guilt in that affair. He seemed much grieved when arrested that he should again have been the cause of a man's death. He is a young fellow of good appearance, rather slight build.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prime ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but we neglect the most vital organ of the body, until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter where located or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicine from which it will be seen that they contain no drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advice will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 51 cent stamps. Address Dr. Pierce's above.
