Can New Stock Go at Par? Toward the close of the week it was heard that the company was planning to issue part of the $100,000,000 preferred stock authorised in May of 1966. Before that conclusion is accepted as explaining this week's unward movement, it should be learned whether the new stock can be sold to shareholders below par. The shareholders authorized the new preferred stock blindfolded and no official reference to the subject has since been made, but from recent events it would seem from the following statement made in May of 1905 that two years ago the conductor, on an Albright car Wednesday Union Pacific management had some holding company idea;
