I shall be glad to meet my friends at the People's Store, Brantley East.

The sale of ladies' suits which occurs Saturday morning in the Daylight store should interest every lady in Omaha.

New Store—New goods. Clothing for men and women, hats, shoes, furniture, carpets, draperies, stoves, cash or credit. Union Outfitting Co., 1215-17-19 Farnam.

Services Are Postponed—The laying of the corner stone of Temple Israel, which was to have taken place Sunday morning, has been postponed on account of the death and funeral of Mrs. Albert Cahn. The date for the ceremonies has not been fixed yet.

Sergeant Bentrow to Resign—That Sergeant of Police Louis Bentrow intends tendering his resignation from the force to take effect June 1, is a rumor persistently afloat in the department. He is now taking his annual leave. It is added that he will go into the hotel business.

Carmen Meet McKee—Representatives of the carmen of the Union Pacific are meeting with W. H. McKee, Jr., superintendent of motive power and machinery. Among the trades represented are car inspectors, car repairers and carpenters, and they came from all along the line from Omaha to Green River.

Western Home Builders—The Omaha Lumber and Supply company has filed amended articles of incorporation to conform to changes in the scope of its business. The name of the corporation is changed to the Western Home Builders, and under the new articles it is authorized to construct, sell, buy and lease homes and other real estate and personal property. The authorized capital stock is $100,000, of which $20,000 is preferred and $80,000 common. James A. Murphy, president, and O. H. Knowles, secretary, sign the amended articles.

Slight Accident at Swift's—A slight accident occurred Friday morning in the new building of Swift and Company at South Omaha. The walls have been erected and the men are putting on the roof. The roof is cement and while green with a temporary structure of wood. This, for some unaccountable reason, gave way at 1:45 Friday morning. Two sections of the roof, containing about sixty square yards of area, caved in and fell to the floor below, which is the sixth floor. No particular damage was done and the loss will consist of the delay and labor and a few broken timbers.

After Many Years—Captain H. E. Palmer is in receipt of a letter from an old veteran in Colorado Springs from whom he had not heard since 1865. The writer of the letter saw an item in an Omaha paper that Postmaster H. E. Palmer of Omaha had authorized the mail carriers of Omaha to carry pistols to protect themselves against vicious dogs, and, suspecting he was his old captain, H. E. Palmer of the Eleventh Kansas cavalry of the civil war period, wrote to Captain Palmer. In comparing names Captain Palmer found that his correspondent was a member of his own company, Company A, and this is the first he has heard of him for forty-two years.

CATTLEMAN SUES THE BANK
William M. Baird Brings Action for Twenty-Three Thousand Dollars Against South Omaha Concern.

William M. Baird of Gillette, Wyo., has brought suit for $23,000 damages against the Union Stock Yards bank of South Omaha in the United States circuit court. The suit originates from a cattle purchase of 4,000 head from Henry M. Floto of the Floto Commission company in 1903, which were to be delivered in 1904. Certain land in Iowa was deeded in escrow, valued at $23,000, and placed in the Union Stock Yards bank until sufficient cattle had been delivered to pay for the land. A mortgage also was placed on 1,000 head of the cattle, appraised at $23,000. In the interval the plaintiff had deposited in the bank money exceeding $25,000, but the petition states that instead of this money going to the payment of the mortgage on the cattle it was applied on certain indebtedness owing the bank by the Floto Commission company, and that judgment has been secured against the plaintiff for the mortgages on the cattle, represented in two notes and now owned by the First National bank of Chicago.

The petition, therefore, asks that the plaintiff be awarded damages against the Union Stock Yards bank for $23,000, with interest from October, 1903, and that the mortgages against the cattle be released.

OMAHA CONCERN DEVELOPS
Midland Paint and Glass Company Establishes Branches at Denver and Salt Lake City.

Two branch offices will be established in the west by the Midland Paint and Glass company, one at Denver and another at Salt Lake City. Branch warehouses will not be established at this time, but the products of the company will be handled from agencies to be established. The Denver office will be established next week with L. R. Wilson, formerly the credit man of the local house, in charge. Four traveling salesmen will work from the Denver office and will cover the state of Colorado, while the Utah territory will be covered from the Salt Lake City headquarters as soon as they can be established.

COAL MEN OFFER TO PROTECT

Dealers Show Desire to Buy Early and Ward Off Famine.

LEND HAND TO HELP UNION PACIFIC

Say if Proper Course is Pursued No-body Need Suffer for Want of Fuel Next Winter.

The recent published statement of W. L. Park, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, predicting a famine of Rock Springs coal next fall unless dealers take the precaution to lay in advance stores during the summer has resulted in concerted action by Omaha coal dealers for the protection of their customers.

Circulars are being sent out by a number of prominent coal dealers to their customers throughout Nebraska and Kansas advising them most strongly to lay in ample supplies during the summer in order to avoid a famine next fall when traffic will be congested.

When asked what effect the curtailment of coal from the Rock Springs mines of the Union Pacific will have L. T. Sunderland of the Sunderland Bros. Coal company, said:

"In the first place the Union Pacific has not gone out of the mining business. For two or three years the Union Pacific company has been unable to supply enough domestic coal to take care of its Nebraska business. It has been buying more eastern coal for its own locomotives and throwing its Rock Springs coal either into the domestic trade or for use on engines. The western business has been developing for several years and the company has been able to get higher prices in the west."

"That's the milk of the coconut. There is no danger of any soft coal famine in this section, as a very small proportion of the coal for consumption here comes from the Union Pacific mines, but we always advise dealers and are advising them as usual this year to stock up during the summer. The supply of coal at the time of the greatest demand is limited by transportation facilities and the object of Mr. Park is to induce dealers to stock up this summer to a greater extent than in previous years. If the dealers heed the advice given them by the railroad and the wholesale firms they will be better able to care for their customers' demands."

Expects No Shortage.
H. T. Lemist, manager for C. B. Havens & Co., said:

"We do not anticipate any shortage of coal this fall if dealers will only exercise a little common sense and fill up their sheds this summer. We have prepared circulars, which will be sent out Friday afternoon to all our customers in Nebraska and Kansas, advising them to store up large supplies of coal this summer in anticipation of the usual heavy fall demand. In view of Mr. Park's interview, which indicates that there will be no Rock Springs coal on the market this fall, we are advising dealers to buy coal of other western grades than Rock Springs in as great quantities as possible. There will certainly be a shortage and famine this fall unless dealers heed the advice of such men as Mr. Park, but there need be no apprehension on this point, as dealers will certainly take advantage of the lower prices now prevailing and the less congested traffic conditions."

BOY LEAVES IT WITH JUDGE

Lad Who Becomes Chronic Runaway Throws Himself on the Court.

Andrew Albonesi, a 13-year-old Italian boy from Omaha, has given himself up at the Kearney Industrial school and has requested Superintendent Hayward to send to Judge Kennedy of the juvenile court for his commitment papers. He said he had violated a promise made to the judge and he knew the judge would send him to the Industrial school any way. He asked that if he done without the formality of sending him back to Omaha.

Andrew has been persistent in the runaway habit. His parents have brought him back from Des Moines twice and from St. Louis once. Three weeks ago he was before the juvenile court and Judge Kennedy told him the next time he ran away he would have to go to Kearney. Andrew disappeared a few days later and was not heard from until he woke Superintendent Hayward a night or two ago and asked to be admitted to the institution.

"Don't send me back to Omaha," he said. "Just send to Judge Kennedy and he will give you my papers. He said he would send me here if I ran away again and I know he will, so there is no use in my going back."

The request for the papers will be completed with the state will be saved the expense of sending him to Kearney.

CONDEMNATION ONLY PROCESS

McHugh Says This Is Only Way for City to Get Street Opened.

Arguments on the application of the Omaha Grain Terminals company against the city of Omaha for an injunction to prevent the mayor and city council opening a portion of Thirtieth street now occupied by tracks for a grain terminal west begun before Judge Redick Friday morning. Judge W. D. McHugh appeared for the Grain Terminals company and City Attorney Dunn for the city. The object of the city in opening the street is the construction of a viaduct across the tracks.

Judge McHugh in his argument contended the city, when it passed the ordinance vacating the street to the company, entered into a contract with the Grain Terminals company. He raised the question whether this ordinance having passed and $500,000 having been spent by the Grain Terminals company, the city could now take away the rights accruing to the Grain Terminals company under the former ordinance. He held the only way for the city to proceed would be by the condemnation process whereby the damage to the Grain Terminals company by the opening of the street could be determined.

SHE AIN'T GOT NO DIVORCE

Statement of Man Accused of Knocking Tooth Down His Wife's Throat.

A. H. Holz, whom it was said struck Mand Wilson, or Holz, as she swallowed a false tooth about a week ago, was called before Judge Crawford in police court Friday morning to answer a charge of assault and he sought to prove to his honor that the woman is still his wife and not divorced from him as has been reported.

"She ain't got no divorce," he assured the judge. "I saw her lawyer and he said she had only paid $5, and she can't get no divorce for $5."

Granting the attorney had a right to set his own price, his honor still was of the opinion Holz was under obligation to keep away from the woman, especially if divorce proceedings are on, and upon his promise to let her alone he was discharged. The woman, who was apparently recovered from her alleged injuries, was also called and gave the promise to move away from the lodging house where she was found and go to her mother.

Mrs. Dakin Celebrates Birthday.
Mrs. Julia W. Dakin celebrated her 85th birthday Thursday at the home of her son, T. D. Dakin. During the afternoon and evening she received about thirty of her old friends including some from Decatur, Plattsmouth and Schuyler as well as Omaha. She was assisted by Mrs. T. D. Dakin, Miss Dakin and Mrs. H. S. MacMurphy. A feature of the afternoon was a birthday cake which instead of lighted candles had eighty-six sugar roses on it, and quite in contrast with a tiny birthday cake similar in design with four sugar roses in celebration of the birthday of Master Gordon Mammill, who was also present. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Van Nostrand, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Hayes, Mr. Charles Mayes, Mrs. Charles, Mrs. Paul Rigdon, Mrs. Ruth Rigdon, Mrs. Joseph Charles, Mrs. W. H. Club Meetings.
The Comix club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. W. S. Heaton. The dining room and reception hall were fragrant with apple blossoms, the same flowers making a pretty centerpiece for the refreshment table. Most of the afternoon was spent in needle work, but in a guessing contest later the prize was won by Mrs. G. Kuhn. An informal musical program was given by Mrs. Haynes, who played the piano and Mrs. J. L. Webster, the violin. The Misses Heaton played a piano and violin duet. Those present were: Mrs. G. Kuhn, Mrs. Benjamin Marit, Mrs. G. E. Townsend, Mrs. E. B. Ferrie, Mrs. W. E. Haynes, Mrs. C. J. Fumish, Mrs. J. L. Webster, Mrs. D. E. Lovejoy and Mrs. Heaton. The next meeting will be in two weeks at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ferrie.

Kensington Harmony club Thursday. The entire afternoon was spent in needle work and a social good time. Those present were: Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Harry Withrow, Mrs. L. J. Withrow, Mrs. John Benthall, Mrs. George B. Rathbun, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Chapman, Miss Taber and Mrs. Taber. Mrs. Rathbun will be hostess at the next meeting of the club in two weeks. Mrs. Arthur Gross entertained very informally at cards Thursday evening in honor of her guest, Mrs. Kring of Yankton, S. D.
