

BRIEF CITY NEWS.

New goods. Clothing for men and women, hats, shoes, furniture, carpets, linens, stoves. Cash or credit. Union Outfitting Co., 1315-17-19 Farnam.

Mayor Approves Garbage Contract—The mayor Friday morning returned to the city with his approval of the garbage contract with Guy L. Axel, and the new system will be inaugurated as rapidly as possible.

Street Cleaning Gang—For the first time this season the street cleaning gang worked at night. Thursday night sixteenth street was flushed from Dodge to Cumine streets. The force is working on Twenty-fifth street, from Dodge to California.

Street Railway Pump Out—The Omaha and Small Blue Street Railway company has bought a new dump car of fifteen tons capacity, with side and center dump. This will be used in distributing both cinders and crushed rock along the right-of-way.

Church Women Hold Exchange—The women of the First Methodist church will hold an exchange on Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 at the Rohrbough building, when some-made dainties of various kinds will be for sale. Mrs. Mary Vapor has the affair in charge.

Increase in Capital—The Crane company has filed amended articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The principal change made by the new articles is an increase of the authorized capital from $250,000 to $300,000. They are signed by R. T. Crane and A. P. Bennett.

Assault with Intent to Murder—William Trotter was arrested Friday morning by Deputy Sheriff Haase on a warrant from Dea Motnes, Ia., charging him with assault with intent to murder. A report from Sheriff from Dea Motnes went to Lincoln to secure requisition papers.

The Lewis Known in Omaha—The Lewis, who fell from a telephone pole and was killed in Los Angeles the first part of this month, was well known in Omaha. Lewis was 30 years old and lived with his mother, Katherine Lewis, widow of E. L. Lewis, 2134 Sherman avenue, for a number of years. They left Omaha about a year ago.

Boy Forgets Parole—Mrs. Towle, assistant probation officer, was called to South Omaha Friday morning to take into custody Earl Franklin, a ward of the court who had far forgotten his parole as he had made it impossible for the principal of one of the schools to permit him to remain as a pupil. The case will be heard by Judge Kennedy Saturday.

Mrs. Donaghu Gets Divorce—Judge Kennedy has granted a divorce to Mrs. Alfr. Donaghu and has allowed her $2,000 alimony with a month additional for the support of the children, who are given to her. Mr. Donaghu was formerly a Farnam street florist, and after their separation the place was run by Mrs. Donaghu. Extreme cruelty was the principal allegation.

Pro-Russian Committee—Judge Sutton, chairman of the committee having the organization of a local branch of the Russian sympathizers society announced Friday morning he would call the committee together some time next week, when a date for a mass meeting to effect an organization would be decided. Other members of the committee are Judge Kennedy, Dean Fischer and Rabbi Cohn.

Theaters at Fremont—"Doc" Bred and Frank Phelps, lessees of the Larson theater of Fremont, have renewed their lease of the same theater for another year. The theater had a prosperous season during the last winter. Negotiations are now in progress with some capitalists of Fremont who have offered to build another theater for Bred and Phelps, in which will be given high class vaudeville at popular prices.

BattleShip Nebraska June 1—From the latest information at hand it now looks as if the battleship Nebraska will go into commission about June 1. Lieutenant Commander Sigmon, in speaking of the matter, said: "I cannot say for any certainty that the Nebraska will go into commission on that date, but it looks like it now. I hope to be able in a short while to give The Bee a complete list of the officers of the new battleship."

Indictment is Not Issued—Judge Kennedy has refused to issue an indictment to prevent the appropriation of property for the north boulevard, as requested by Mrs. Elizabeth P. Shannon, a part of whose property is included in the land condemned. Mrs. Shannon secured a restraining order to prevent the appropriation of her property and to prevent the construction of the boulevard. The restraining order was also dissolved by the court.

Suit Over Misdelivery of Dirt—Suit for $10,000 damages for alleged failure to deliver to him 15,000 cubic yards of dirt was begun in district court Friday by Abraham L. Patrick against D. M. Owen company and Owen-Loveless company. In the petition Patrick says he contracted with the defendants for the dirt to be delivered on his property on Thirty-eighth street between Farnam and Dodge streets. The dirt was to be paid for at 10 cents a cubic yard. The contract, he says, has damaged him to the amount of $10,000.

Fall Through Elevator Shaft—W. J. Williamson, an electrician, fell down the elevator shaft at the Racine-Sattley company's building, Tenth and Jones streets, at noon Friday and struck on his head. He was removed to St. Joseph's hospital by the police and attended by Dr. Riley. It is feared he received a fracture of the skull. Williamson roomed at 1317 Capitol avenue, coming to Omaha from Minneapolis. He is 34 years old. He was employed in repairing the electric apparatus of the elevator for the Omaha Electric works and stepped into the opening when the car was not there, falling twelve feet.

Twenty-Eight Hour Law—Another suit was instituted by the United States against the Burlington in the United States district court Friday against the violation of the twenty-eight-hour law in the shipment of cattle. This law provides that live stock shall not be in transit over railways in the United States for a longer period than twenty-eight hours without being unloaded for rest and fed and watered. A penalty of $500 is fixed for each violation of the law. About twenty of these cases are now pending in the United States district court of Nebraska, most of them being against the Burlington and Union Pacific Railway companies.

METCALFE'S MEASURE OF MEN

Lincoln Editor Delivers Pleasing Lecture to Baptist Church Society.

Richard L. Metcalfe of Lincoln, associate editor of the Commoner, delivered an address in the lecture room of the Calvary Baptist church, Twenty-fifth and Hamilton streets, Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Baptist society of the church. The room was well filled and expressions of keen appreciation were numerous.

The title of the lecture was "Measuring Men." Mr. Metcalfe undertook to review in a few words the accepted ideas held today regarding the men who have been prominent in matters affecting the United States as formed from the writings of historians and then showed how these conceptions of them were erroneous so far as giving a true impression of their real nature. Popular clamor, he asserted, is apt to have too much to do with the measuring of men's real personalities. Thus he showed George III. of England to have been a kind and gentle man at heart; Aaron Burr to have been capable of the finest sentiments; and George Washington, on the other hand, to have been at times subject to violent fits of anger. He mentioned practically all the characters of note in each which do not comport with the popular idea entertained of them.

Of President Roosevelt, he said the battle in which he is engaged against the monopolistic powers places that of Jackson in the class with a snowball fight, and paid a tribute to his ability and high purpose. In the measuring of men, he said, none is more nearly infallible than the little child, and his talk frequently held the audience in a tension while he recited beautiful thoughts and simple truths.

The speech was something in the nature of a lecture, containing some whom pedice or lack of knowledge has led the people to underestimate and criticize and pointing out faults in others who have been crowned with laurels. It was his purpose to point out that what is looked for in any man always be found, and if the right standard is used much good will be discovered in all.

At the close a rising vote of appreciation was asked and unanimously given. A social program was also to have been a part of the evening's entertainment, but because of the death of Dr. Cummings, a member of the congregation, this was dispensed with.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY QUITS

Fourteen Indictments Returned by Body in Session Since Early in May.

The federal grand jury completed its work Thursday evening after being in session since May 2 and was discharged for the term. Fourteen indictments were returned, of which four were for selling liquor without first procuring the government tax therefor; two for introducing liquor into Indian reservations; one for mailing non-mailable matter one for tearing down a United States mail box; five for perjury and one for conspiracy to suborn perjury. Captives have been issued for the arrest of ten of the indicted parties, and as they are not yet in custody or on bond their names will not be divulged by the government authorities.

Among those indicted are James Smith, charged with introducing liquor into the Santee Indian reservation; Arthur Logan, Indian reservation; and a second indictment against Logan for selling liquor without paying the government tax, and against William C. Brown of Bradshaw, York county, for selling liquor without paying the government tax.

The exorbitating pains from corns or bunions may be avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

HOME FROM MISSION WORK

E. N. Groh Returns from Mexico and Central America to Visit Friends.

After an absence of eleven years, during which time he was engaged in missionary work in Mexico and Central America, Eulalius N. Groh, son of Rev. Dr. Leonard Groh, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran church, arrived in Omaha Thursday evening for an extended visit at home.

Mr. Groh received his education at Roanoke college, Virginia; San Diego college, California, and Mount Ayr Theological seminary, Philadelphia. He was engaged in lumber work in New York for a time and in 1898 he passed through Omaha on his way to southern California, where he remained only a short time, and then went to southern Mexico and entered upon his work.

For the last few years he has been located in Honduras. Mr. Groh obeyed the Bible injunction literally and went on his mission with absolutely no promise of support. He went independently and alone, but he says, whenever the need arose it was always supplied and he was enabled to carry on the work in which was his whole interest.

When he arrived in New Orleans a few weeks ago and waited there for the climate to moderate sufficiently to make it safe for him to come north.

ELKS LODGE OF VOTING AGE

Event is Fittingly Celebrated by a Stag Social at the Auditorium.

BIG STRUCTURE CROWDED TO THE LIMIT

Many Brothers Present from Surrounding Towns and These with the Invited Guests Enjoy Themselves.

A thousand Elks with an equal number of their friends as guests filled the Auditorium to overflowing Thursday and commemorated the twenty-first birthday anniversary of Omaha lodge No. 39, Benevolent Protective Order Elks.

The big building was already decorated for the Streets of Paris. All over the main floor tables were distributed as thick as they could stand with six chairs to each. The crowd began to arrive early and kept coming until the floor committee was at a loss to know where to put all the people.

The judges of the district court, city officials, county officials, lawyers, physicians, clergymen, business men, in fact, most of the good men of the city and surrounding country were there.

Large delegations were present from Fremont, Plattsmouth, Council Bluffs, South Omaha and many other towns. The building was already crowded when still another band was heard approaching and behold, the Nebraska City delegation, headed by the Merchants band and in charge of Dr. A. P. Ginn, appeared.

Committees Are Busy. W. I. Kierstead was chairman of the reception committee which was made up of 25 of the local Elks, each in full dress suit and with a white boutonniere on his lapel proclaiming to the stranger that he was a member of the committee and would give him whatever he wanted.

William Green, James Dewar, Harry E. Moores and P. E. Swifley were on the floor committee. Tom Brailley and Frank Fara were also on the floor committee, as was chairman of the social committee, was the busiest person in the house when the men were all seated and he turned loose upon them his force of assistants and waiters. Then there issued forth from some mysterious corner great tubs and hampers full of bottles which were placed on the tables and over the white benches came also many men with white pitchers full of ice cold lemonade and other waters with innumerable boxes of cigars. And in a few moments that hospitality for which the Elks are famous was flowing throughout the building and there was such a rumble of talk and hearty laughter that even Finn's band of forty-two pieces, which held forth on the stage, could hardly hear itself or be heard.

At this juncture an emergency call came from the gallery and it was discovered the brothers up there had been overlooked. Whether by accident or playful design cannot be said. Dave O'Brien immediately threw himself into the breach and, with a number of intrepid men following him, carried supplies to the famished detachment above.

And then Robert Cowell made his official bell four times and called the meeting to order. Shots of "Louder" came from all over the house. Gus Renze, always on hand at the proper moment, hurried forward with a megaphone nearly as tall as Mr. Cowell, which, however, the speaker refused to make use of.

Program of the Evening. The program began with "The Teddy bears, acrobats," who performed some feats of strength. This was followed by the address of welcome, delivered by W. F. Purley. Mr. Gurley roused much mirth with a couple of funny stories, and then said: "One of the cardinal creeds of Elksism is hospitality, and this includes our friends as well as our brothers. It gives us pleasure to meet our brothers of other cities and our friends here in the Streets of Paris, where we can entertain them with copious draughts of prairie champagne, which we have imported regardless of expense, in large schooners.

"And standing here in these Streets of Paris I remember that it was a Parisian Frenchman who said there are two great principles of humanity—the fraternity of men and the paternity of God.

"Within a year it is our hope that we will be able to receive you in our own building, not with greater hospitality than we do here, but with the satisfaction that we are beneath the shade of our own vine and figtree.

When the Fun Starts. After the applause had died away the sound of drums was heard from the lobby and "The Rotterdam Band" entered and took its place on the stage. The conductor, who bore a striking resemblance to Sook or Gilmore or one of those fellows, took his place and the twelve musicians in all sorts of clothes and whiskers got their instruments ready. The band played two selections with great eclat, but the crowd was extremely suspicious of a large photograph at the back of the stage which a young man was vigorously operating.

This was followed by the policemen's quartet from the "Pirates of Penzance" and "The Jolly Musketeers" by the Omaha Choral society. Carl Heller in monologue came next and was followed by Mr. Hamilton in a solo, accompanied by a pianola.

The Council Bluffs Elks' quartet sang and then Teddy Cunnansman performed an acrobatic feat which consisted of a vigorous wrestling match with himself. The Dahlmann Cowboy quartet sang. Just on the stroke of 11 o'clock George Elmore of the Elmore Stock company gave the "11 o'clock toast" and every brother in the house arose and drank "to the absent brother."

William Kirby, with Gordon A. White as accompanist, gave a song and dance, and the program was closed with several numbers by professional actors from the theaters.

Lunch put up in purple and white boxes was served late in the evening. It was after the midnight hour when the birds were finally deserted by the great crowd. And the twenty-first anniversary of Omaha lodge No. 39 has gone down in history as a day to be remembered with good will and openheartedness and good fellowship.

The Nebraska City contingent was later entertained at the Elks' club rooms until 1 o'clock, as their train did not leave until that hour.

In the rush several hats were inadvertently exchanged, but the Elks will make a hectic holiday and get the right hat back from the wrong man and return it to the right one.

STOCK COMPANY AT THE KRUG Elmore Organization Opens Its Summer Engagement with "The Scout's Revenge."

The Elmore Stock company appeared at the Krug last night in "The Scout's Revenge." The scene is laid in Texas. Buck Henshawe, as the scout, is in love with Olive Benson and the villain, Castro, swears she shall marry no man but he. He manages to hoodwink the girl's father into the belief that he is the man for Olive, and between them they manage to cause the lovers considerable annoyance. The monotony of the love making scenes is occasionally relieved by pistol fights and hand fights with knives. Henshawe finally convinces the girl's father that Castro is a villain and the father ends Castro's career with his trusty gun. The company is fully up to the average stock company and played to a full house last night. The play will be repeated Friday and Saturday nights.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Surveying Party Excites Much Curiosity South of the City.

RUNNING LINES NORTH FROM AVERY

Rumor Has It the Party is in the Employ of the Burlington and is Running a Line Around West of Stock Yards.

A surveying party between Avery and Albricht has awakened considerable local interest during the last few days. The party is said to be in the employ of the Burlington road and has been working this way into the city. On reaching the outskirts it struck levels in a wide detour west to about Thirtieth street, then north, with the evident intention to pass just west of the South Omaha yards. The people who are willing to express any opinion on the proposed route think it is a man a connection with the tracks of the Burlington road at Thirtieth and L streets. The mere presence of a surveying party likely has little significance in the direction of immediate improvements, but it is sufficient in a cause considerable speculation. The further investigations will be watched with greater interest.

Leg Broken in Elevator. Adolphus Baruch, a Belgian, broke his leg last night at 8 o'clock. He was working at the cooper shop at the old Omaha plant. When he was leaving work he was caught in the elevator and his right leg broken. The brewer ambulance was called and the man taken to the South Omaha hospital. Dr. Kelley attended him. Other than the injury to his limb the man is unhurt.

Improvements Along Boulevard. The last year has seen a great deal of improvement along the Thirtieth street boulevard. Especially is this true of acreage property in Sarp county in the direction of the South Omaha Country club. Property along the boulevard which sold a year ago for $600 sells now for $1,000. There is a large increase in the demand for this kind of investment. During the last season six new residences have been erected. Prominent among these are the residences of Hathaway, Jacobson and Henry Peterson. Within the city limits in this section of the city there is also a great demand for residence lots. Many new houses are planned there.

Ball Games Saturday. Saturday afternoon, if fair weather prevails, will be a great time for amateur baseball in South Omaha. The South Omaha Country club will play the Omaha Real Estate exchange at the club grounds. The game is to be called at 1:30. The footballers will play the Nonpareils and the local Young Men's Christian association will play the Overlands at Duffy's park. Good games are anticipated in each case. On Sunday afternoon the Independents will play at Fort Creek and the Hoopers will play the Sterlings of Omaha. The Hoopers and Invincibles will play also on the same grounds. The Independents play at Ashland Saturday.

Fireman Dies Suddenly. The sudden death of Walter H. Murphy, or Walter H. Daughter, as formerly known, occurred at 1213 S street Wednesday night. He was a fireman at Swift's plant. He began to feel ill shortly after 1 o'clock, after he had returned home from work, and died at 1:30 a. m. Dr. R. E. Schindel laid the cause of his death to cerebro-spinal meningitis and exposure. He leaves a wife and three children in destitute circumstances. There was no food in the house and the family had had an unusual amount of hard luck. Daughter for this reason changed his name to Murphy, believing rather superstitiously that if he changed his name he would have better luck. It is understood that Mayor Hoctor will allow the family to draw on charity funds for the funeral expenses. G. H. Brewer has charge of the body.

Maste City Gasps. Dana Morrill attended a shooting tournament at Columbus yesterday. E. M. Rohrbough was confined to his home yesterday by a severe cold. Men wanted. Sewer work. National Construction Co., South Omaha.

The funeral of Bertha Mittelmeier was held at 1:30 yesterday afternoon. The decision in the sewer injunction case is not expected before next week. Jetter's Gold Top Beer delivered to all parts of the city. Telephone No. 8.

City Clerk John J. Gillin was ill yesterday. He is undergoing an operation for throat trouble. Visit the Sweet-Land grand opening at Crawford & Bemis Saturday and Sunday. Carnations free, ice cream come to children free; bucket of ice cream, one quart, 20 cents only—only to introduce them. Little Bela reported to the police the loss of a gold watch yesterday. The watch was lost last Tuesday. Charles W. Miller, 222 E street, reports the birth of a son, Charles Egbert, Twenty-sixth and J, also has a son. Charles Kohler's automobile was slightly injured yesterday afternoon. The driver ran it into a telegraph pole.

The women of the Missouri avenue division of the Methodist church gave a dinner at the parsonage yesterday. The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church will hold a rummage sale at Twenty-fourth and Q streets Saturday. Thomas Kozol was sentenced to a fine of $5 and costs for discharging firearms within the city limits. The shooting took place Wednesday night at Thirty-ninth and L streets. Kozol was the boy who shot the chin of Pete Lebecka last year.

The greatest chance of the season—every trimmed hat in my store for sale at 25 per cent reduction Saturday, May 18; suit to begin at 1 o'clock and continue during the evening. Yours for bargains, 519 No. 24th, South Omaha.

FIFTH WARDERS OUT EARLY L. L. Belsel is Voted an Endorsement for County and City Treasurer.

The annual meeting of the Fifth Ward Republican club was held at Young's hall, Sherman avenue and Corby streets, Thursday evening with about forty members present. The purpose of the meeting was the election of officers for the ensuing year. F. A. Squires was chosen chairman of the meeting and Ben Stone secretary. A motion prevailed adopting the constitution and bylaws of last year. The election of officers resulted in the choice of W. B. Christie, president; George Sargent, vice president; Ben Stone, secretary, and W. I. Kierstead, treasurer. The appointment of the standing committees was left with the new chairman. Short talks full of republican harmony and enthusiasm were made by Tony Donaghu, chairman of the republican county committee; Robert Smith, I. L. Belsel and others. After some further discussion on various topics a motion was proposed that the club endorse the candidacy of I. L. Belsel for the republican nomination of county and city treasurer. The motion prevailed unanimously. No other candidates were endorsed.

The club then adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, which probably will be in about three weeks. As soon as the campaign opens it is the intention of the club to hold meetings every Thursday evening.

Mangum & Co., LETTER SPECIALISTS. MARY IS FOR THE WHISKERS Dr. Walker Says Burlington Ought for Health's Sake Rescind Its Order.

Dr. Mary E. Walker has addressed a postal card to "The Daily" of Omaha, expressing her views regarding the Burlington anti-whiskers order, in which she takes strong grounds against the order for sanitary reasons. As Postmaster H. E. Palmer is the daily receptacle for all miscellaneous "daily" information and queries from the country at large, he submits Dr. Walker's protest to the press of Omaha. It is as follows:

DR. MARY SANITARIUM, R. D. T., OSWEGO, N. Y., May 8, 1907.—Mr. Editor: Please say to the Burlington Railroad company that the order "to remove the whiskers of conductors" should be rescinded, as such protection is needed as a sanitary matter. It is the worst of orders, endangering lung troubles. MARY E. WALKER, M. D. Expert in White Plague Troubles.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

There is no other part of our physical system upon which so much depends as upon the blood. The muscles, nerves, bones, sinews, skin, and other portions of the body are sustained, developed and enabled to perform their different functions, because they are supplied with nourishment and healthful properties through the circulation. In various ways the blood becomes contaminated and polluted. A sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the vessels of bodily waste, will cause the refuse and waste matter of the body to sour and form uric and other acids, which are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism, or some itching, disfiguring skin disease is the result. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, spots, pimples, etc., all show that some humor has taken root in the circulation and rendered it sour and unfit for nourishing the body. There is scarcely any disease which cannot be traced to the blood. Often the disease-tainted blood of parents is handed down to children and their lives are a continual battle against disease in some form, usually of a scrofulous nature. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood troubles, and until this vital fluid is purified they cannot be cured. For all blood diseases S. S. S. is the best remedy ever put upon the market. This great medicine is made of roots, herbs and barks of recognized blood-purifying and building-up properties. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities and humors, supplies the blood with the healthful properties it needs and combats every blood disease of every kind. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., because it purifies the blood. Book on the blood and medical advice free.
