NASH DENIES POWER IS HIGH Speech at Commercial Club He Says Columbus Plan is Not Fensible.

F. A. Nash of the Omaha Electric Light and Power company delivered an address These are moisture and Tuesday afternoon at the Commercial club cient moisture and warm weather would from the Real Estate exchange appointed to inquire into the power situation in Omaha. Weather and soil conditions have been Mr. Nash said the plan for a great hydroelectric power company was not feasible, that the power question, as far as Omaha was concerned, was settled and that the agitation of the question was only inimical to the best interests of the city.

"Here's one of our papers coming out with double-column spread-head stories and editorials advertising that Omaha is laboring under the liability of expensive power. and I am going to spend my energy, time and money counteracting such an erroneous impression," said Mr. Nash.

"Omaha hasn't been under any disability as to the cost of steam coal for the production of power, as the public has been led to believe. The water power project at Columbus isn't feasible, for power is being sold cheaper here now than such a water power company could hope to sell it. It is a fact that one of the largest manufacturers of the city is getting electrical power for less than $10 per year per horse power. The power question is simply a question of coal cost. We are today selling power cheaper than they are at St. Paul, Minneapolis and other cities, with the possible exception of St. Joseph and this question isn't given any consideration by manufac turers who are thinking of locating in the city, for the city isn't under any disability in this respect.

"It hurts the community. Omaha has the reputation all over the country of being under this power disability, but conditions have changed in the last twenty years and power is comparatively cheap in

"What I want you gentlemen to do is t investigate the subject thoroughly and I think you will find that Omaha is well provided in the matter of power at reasonable cost, but if you should find otherwise the condition must be remedled. I can assure you of my hearty co-operation to settle this power question once and for all. for its needless agitation is causing the city trreparable damage."
