

FAST TRAIN DITCHED

Southern Pacific Coast Flyer Leaves Track Near Los Angeles

TWO DEAD AND TWENTY INJURED

Men Killed Were Stealing a Ride Under the Baggage Car.

FISHPLATES REMOVED BY WRECKERS

Rails Spread Toward Edge of Trestle by Heavy Wire.

RAILROAD OFFERS A LARGE REWARD

Southern Pacific Will Pay $10,000 for Arrest and Conviction of the Persons Responsible for the Wreck.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 22.—Private detectives employed by the Southern Pacific and deputies from the sheriff's office in this city joined in the search for the men who are believed to have caused this morning's disastrous wreck on the Coast line when five cars of the Coast line limited ploughed over the edge of a trestle near West Glendale, ten miles north of this city. The men who are believed to have caused the wreck were the bodies of James Victor, of whose antecedents nothing is known, and T. J. McMahon, a Santa Barbara electrician, who was crushed beneath the baggage car while stealing a ride. Victor is believed to have met death under the same conditions, but his body was not discovered until the car was partially raised from the dry bed of the Arroyo Seco. The injured number a score.

Among the injured were the following: T. H. Young, Oakland, porter; cut about his hip. Mrs. Sheldy, Los Angeles, injured internally. Mrs. E. J. Cleveland, O., arm broken, lacerations of scalp and head, internal injuries. Will probably die. Mrs. F. H. Shirley, Pittsburg, Pa.; injured internally, scalp cut. Mrs. C. Young, Marshall, Mo.; cut about head and face, arm broken. W. S. Witt, Los Angeles, scalp cut, internal injuries. William McClure, Los Angeles, cheek badly cut, knee cap broken. William Love, Pittsburg, face cut, injured internally, will probably die. C. H. Robbins, Los Angeles, head cut. N. E. Jacobs, Los Angeles, shoulder broken, right arm cut. W. F. Miller, Xenia, O.; cut about face, badly bruised. H. B. Baker, Portland, Ore.; cut about head and face, hip dislocated. W. H. Shanley, dining car conductor; San Francisco, scalp wound and lacerations of face. Ben Dixon, Oakland, dining car waiter, cut and bruised. Ed Whitely, Oakland, second cook, cut and bruised. R. A. Wood, Oakland, dining car waiter, cut and bruised.

Wreck Cause of Disaster.
Two Pullmans and the observation car remain on the track. The fall crushed and damaged several of the cars and it was in the grinding crush that the passengers were hurt.

With the aid of lanterns the trainmen made an examination of the track in order to determine if possible the reason of the derailment. Under the first coach which remained on the track were found the loosened rails with the wires securely fastened through the bolt holes and the ends uniting in a single strand that led into the brush on the hillside.

Physicians in charge of the dozen or more persons who sustained serious injuries tonight report that all the injured will eventually recover.

A reward of $1000 offered by the Southern Pacific company for the conviction of the persons responsible for the wreck has enlisted many officers and detectives in the search for the miscreants.

WEEK END CINCINNATI

MATSVILLE, Ky., May 22.—Chesapeake & Ohio train No. 2, which left Cincinnati for the east at noon today, was wrecked seven miles west of this city. The track buckled, throwing the observation car from the track. It ran along the ties about a hundred feet, then went over the banks, about fifty feet high.

There were 15 passengers in the car and all were injured, 15 of them seriously, one dying here.

MRS. MARY HALSEY, wife of Judge W. T. Halsey, Milwaukee, Wis., The fatally injured. Mrs. Larriss of St. Louis, both legs and arm broken.

Among the seriously injured are: Judge W. T. Halsey of Milwaukee and R. Allen, Rockford, Ill., head cut.

ANOTHER HIGH WHEAT MARK

July advanced to $1.02 3-4. September $1.04 1-2 and December reaches $1.05 3-8.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The wheat market set a new high record for the crop today. July advanced to $1.04, September to $1.06 and December to $1.08. The pit was a closely packed mass of excited brokers and the volume of business was large. Continued absence of rain in Kansas, coupled with an advance at Liverpool were factors in the higher prices.

The close found prices practically unchanged from yesterday, but feeling was nervous. Prices fluctuated violently throughout the session.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Violent fluctuations characterized today's wheat market. Within a cent or two range the movement was from a steady advance to a nervous decline. On any time in the last two weeks. On an upward swing new high levels were established, July touching $1.03.

The market closed, however, practically unchanged from last night. Conflicting crop advices and a tendency toward professional control of the market explained the rapid changes.

MORE 'FRISCO CARS ROUNDED UP

Damage to Switchboard Caused by Short Circuiting Current Quickly Repaired.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—More street cars were run today on the tracks of the United Railroads than on any day since the carnage of Friday. Three additional lines, those running on Polk and Larkin, Polson street and Bryant street were operated today. No serious trouble has been reported.

Some damage was done late last night to the electric switch boards in the car house at Turk and Fillmore streets, the current being short circuited by the throwing of a wire or chain over the live wires nearby, but repairs were effected before the first car was started this morning.

SUMMARY OF THE BEE

Thursday, May 23, 1907.

1907	MAY	1907
SUN	TUE	WED
1	2	3
4	5	6
7	8	9
10	11	12
13	14	15
16	17	18
19	20	21
22	23	24
25	26	27
28	29	30
31

THE WEATHER.
FORECAST FOR NEBRASKA—Showers and cooler Thursday. Friday fair.
FORECAST FOR IOWA—Showers Thursday, cooler in west portion. Friday showers, except fair in northwest portion. Cooler in central and southeast portions.
Temperature at Omaha, yesterday:
Hour. Deg. Hour. Deg.
5 a. m. 58 1 p. m. 68
6 a. m. 58 2 p. m. 70
7 a. m. 58 3 p. m. 72
8 a. m. 58 4 p. m. 74
9 a. m. 58 5 p. m. 76
10 a. m. 58 6 p. m. 78
11 a. m. 58 7 p. m. 80
12 m. 58 8 p. m. 82
1 p. m. 58 9 p. m. 84
2 p. m. 58 10 p. m. 86
3 p. m. 58 11 p. m. 88
4 p. m. 58

DOMESTIC.
Southern Pacific coast flyer derailed by train wreckers near Los Angeles. One man was killed and twenty-five persons injured, three of them fatally. The railroad company offers a reward of $10,000 for arrest and conviction of persons responsible.
National Association of Manufacturers strongly favors an early revision of the tariff and negotiation of more reciprocity treaties. It also decides to raise a fund of $1,500,000 for a campaign of education.
Officers at Boise are securing the country for men for the new venire of jurors.
President Roosevelt returns to Washington.
Wheat makes a new high record on Chicago, July advancing to $1.04 1/2, September to $1.04 1/4 and December to $1.05 3/8.

New York senate and assembly pass the public utilities bill fathered by Governor Hughes.
Kentucky supreme court renders decision that makes complete change in county and city officers of Louisville.
Presbyterian general assembly unanimously adopts the resolution endorsing the work of the Anti-Saloon league and the permanent temperance committee is instructed not to interfere with or embark upon political work.

July wheat rises to $1.02 3/4 on the Chicago board of trade on higher prices in Liverpool and lack of rains in the states.
Nicholas Murray Butler is elected president of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration.
Ohio independent oil dealers complain that rate from Cleveland to Omaha is so high that they are unable to compete with the lower grade oil from the Kansas field.

NEBRASKA.
Group five of the Bankers' association holds a convention at Kearney with about ninety members present.
Considerable wire-pulling is being indulged in over the appointment of a successor to T. J. Majors on the normal board, but the governor is silent. Local politics in Lancaster county warming up. Some interesting figures on corporation earnings and mileage of Nebraska roads in their relation to the earnings of the great grain crop.
Rains are reported from several sections of the state, ranging from one to three inches.
Wife of young farmer near McCook is brutally assaulted by an unidentified man, who makes his escape. Victim probably will die.

WASHINGTON.
Major McLaughlin concludes an agreement with the Shoshone Indians whereby the Wind River reservation is opened up to oil and mineral prospectors.

LOCAL.
Big trolley car for sightseers will be run twice a day by street car company over eighty lines of Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs.
June 24 is fixed as the date of the Huntley land opening in Montana and railroads are anticipating a rush of land-seekers.
Transvaal wins the Manhasset stakes at Grandstand.
Results of the ball games:
3—Des Moines vs. Omaha—0.
2—St. Paul vs. Denver—4.
1—Lincoln vs. St. Paul—4.
1—Philadelphia vs. Pittsburg—4.
10—St. Louis vs. Boston—2.
2—St. Paul vs. Chicago—1.
2—New York vs. Chicago—1.
2—Detroit vs. Philadelphia—1.
1—Cleveland vs. Washington—2.
6—Indianapolis vs. Louisville—4.
6—Columbus vs. Toledo—4.
3—St. Paul vs. Kansas City—5.

MOVEMENTS OF OCEAN STEAMERS.
Part. Arrived. Sailed.
NEW YORK—Boston—Admiral.
NEW YORK—Messia—St. Laurent.
NEW YORK—Tennessee—Admiral.
NEW YORK—Republic—Admiral.
NEW YORK—Savona—Admiral.
LIVERPOOL—Metra.
LIVERPOOL—Oreola.
LIVERPOOL—Oreola.
QUEENSTOWN—Admiral.
QUEENSTOWN—Admiral.
QUEENSTOWN—Admiral.
ANTWERP—Admiral.
BRISTOL—Admiral.
BOSTON—Admiral.
BARTLETT—Admiral.
ROUHLAMPTON—Admiral.
K. W. de Groot.

TALES MEN ROUNDED UP
Sheriff Hodgins at Boise Having Strewn Time Finding Prospective Jurors
BOISE, Idaho, May 22.—By the use of train, stage and horse and some active bustling Sheriff Shad Hodgins and his deputies managed today to round up a majority of the fifty men included in the special venire issued yesterday in the Steuenberg murder case, and they are now all expected to be on hand when the trial is resumed at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

It has been decided that James H. Hawley, senior counsel for the state, will make the opening statement. He and his associates were in conference on the subject today, and they also spent some time considering the testimony to be offered next week and the order in which it will be offered.

It has not yet been decided by the state to call Steve Adams as a witness. He is on the list of the state's witnesses and it was for a time deemed certain that he would be brought here, and, willing or unwilling, be placed on the stand, but now the matter is in doubt and will probably not be determined until later.

TEMPERANCE FIGHT SETTLED

Presbyterian General Assembly Endorses Work of Anti-Saloon League.

FULLEST CO-OPERATION IS PLEDGED

Permanent Committee on Temperance Instructed Not to Interfere with Political Work.

Permanently Settled.

COLUMBUS, O., May 22.—Following two hours of exciting debate which at times became acrimonious, the Presbyterian general assembly today adopted without dissenting vote resolutions declaring permanent committee on temperance work and endorsing the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was in his seat and the gallery of Memorial hall was filled with spectators when the assembly called for the reports of the committee on church polity and temperance. It became evident almost at the outset that a majority of the commissioners were bent upon settling the controversy with the Anti-Saloon League. A program which was brought in by the Anti-Saloon League and adopted by the assembly, pledging to the league the fullest co-operation "consistent with the constitution of the church."
In anticipation of a momentous fight on the temperance question, every commission was