NEW YORK GENERAL MARKET Corn Strong and Holds Well-Mola-

OMAHA, May 22, 1907. to blow. The Nerthwestern Miller's daily report says while weather is cool the northwest wheat outlook is lavorable. Cash business was small, the wheat being too unsettled for buyers to follow the market. Cables were strong and higher.

Wheat opened standy with generally heavy buying, but realizing is also heavy and of sufficient volume to hold the market.

Corn opened steady and held well. The extreme cool weather has put crops a long way back. Moisture and warmer weather are needed badly throughout the corn belt. On the grounds of the seven year cycle theory there should be a short crop this year, the last short crop being in 1901. July corn opened at 500 bid and closed at 500 bid.

Oats opened somewhat weaker, but raified later, owing to some heavy buying of the September option. Damaging weather reports continue and are working east of Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of Be cars, compared with 372 hast week and Be a year ago.

The corn market was weak because of active sellings by cash houses, who were hedging against large purchases in the country. There was a good commission house demand in evidence, but that buying was inndequate to sustain prices.

Weather conditions were quite favorable in most sections for planting and for the crops already planted and advices from lowareported 80 to 39 per cent of the total acreage already in the ground. The market closed weak. July opened a shade to bridge, sold off to the countract grade.

Cats opened strong in sympathy with wheat, but soon weakened on realizing by leading holders and continued weak the remainder of the day. Wet weather in lowa and Illinois was a heartsh influence. July opened set to Schigher at $15 to $86 c. sold off to 47c and closed at $15 c. Local receipts were 9 cars.

Provisions were weak on local selling and by outside packers. The decline in coarse grain was partly responsible for the selling pressures. Liberal receipts of live hogs furnished amother reason. I continue to believe that higher prices for cotton are justified. I cannot but be amused by the various rumors current with regard to my posi- tion in the market. I have heard today alternately that I was heavily short and heavily long. As a matter of fact, I be- lieve that cotton is going higher, and very much higher, before spinners will be able to secure from the crop now be- ing planted any reasonable proportion of the cotton they require. I shall publish my report, giving the acreage and condition of the crop, on Friday next. As far as I have been able to digest the replies thus far received the indications are that it will be an ex- tremely buillah document. THEODORE H. PRICE.

Wool Market. BOSTON, Mass., May 22.—WOOL—The wool market is showing little signs of activity and recent transactions have not been on a large scale. Australian stock figures as the most active feature, but some domestic wools have had a share in the sales. Receipts from the new citp are growing heavier, promising to relieve the	tion of the receipts, but among the cattle offered there were a good many short-feds of not overly good quality. The market was very slow in opening and was in fact a drag from start to finish. Buyers began bidding lower right from the start and the general trade could hardly be described as other than slow and agroc lower. There was quite a sprinkling of cow stuff, but the market on that kind of cattle was in about the same condition as the steer market—that is, slow and fully agroc lower than yesterday. Stockers and feeders were in light supply, but, as mentioned yesterday, not many were wanted, it was, in fact, a case of	St. Joseph Live Stock Market. ST. JOSEPH. the question of gold exports undecided. The falling sterling exchange at Paris and the hardening of the London discount rate was offset by the fall in sterling exchange here. The grain markets derived their greatest share of strength from foreign crop news today and were of correspondingly lessened effect on stocks. The obvious subsidence of the pressure of liquidation caused growing uneasiness among the bears and there was something like a scramble amongst them to cover shorts in the late dealings.
