OMAHA, May 26.—To the Sporting Editor of The Bee: I wish to refute the report of the score of the Ashland and Sterling game of Saturday. I would like to state that the score was 12 to 4, instead of 12 to 2. It is a fact that we played rotten ball to start with, but nevertheless we should have what is coming to us. Of course it is a poor excuse to lose a game and blame it on the umpire, but in this case I think I have a kick coming, as I believe that the fans would be better pleased with the kind of umpiring that is fair and impartial. I think that if the managers of teams in the different towns and at our local parks would carefully look into this they will see where their attendance will come from, as the people do not care to see a one-sided affair, bad umpiring always makes a game.

W. J. Bryan and Bichard Metcalie Make Addresses at Memorial Services Held at Pirst Christian Church.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, May B .- (Special.) - The increase of approximately $24,000,600 in the value of the railroad property of the state by the State Board of Assessment last night brought A. W. Scribner and R. J. Clancy to Lincoln in a hurry to see how it all happened, as the Union Pacific got a But while the increase looks big on the face of it, the excess in the taxable property of the railroad is only about $5,000,000, and a portion of this is due to new roads and increased mileage. The railroads, however, were expecting to have their assessleave for Canton Tuesday night to attend ments at least to be let alone, if not reduced, and the increase came as a great surprise. This is not the greatest increase on his trip to Canton by Secretaries Root, placed on railroad valuations in one year, as was announced and believed by member of the board, for in 1904 the $19,-000,000 increase was on the taxable value. or one-fifth of the actual value, while this year the $24,000,000 is on the actual value of railroad property, one-fifth of which is the taxable value. A transposition of the terms "assessed" value and "actual" value doubtless gave the impression that the big increase was in the taxable or assessed value. Should the board adopt the figures, which it tentatively agreed to last night day, President Roosevelt will go to In-dianapolis, where he will deliver an ad-Pacific this year will be increased $2,986,700, on the program, except the salutatory by dress on Decoration day at the unveiling the Burlington $1,697,160 and the Northwest-

Printers' Memorial Day. In memory of their dead, members of the local typographical union held services at the First Christian church this afternoon, at which W. J. Bryan was the speaker, following which the graves of the departed members at Wyuka cametery were decorated with flowers and Biohard L. Metcalfe delivered an address. Mr. Bryan delivered only a short impromptu speech, in which se expressed the opinion it is fitting that man should cherish the memory of the dead and not try to forget the sorrow which comes with the death of a loyed one. He spoke of the increasing ties which bind man to the unknown world and the lessening of ties here, taking from death much of its sadness. He expressed the belief that God in some way had devised that men should know each other in the other world, not as one sees his friends in this flesh, but he belives the soul, which lives always. would gather together a body and that friends would recognize friends. Judge Sutton Hears Evidence in Fight for County Attorneyship. PENDER. Neb., May 25.-(Special Tele gram.)-Judge A. L. Sutton of Omaha heard the election contest case for the county attorneyship between W. E. Whitcomb and Hiram Chase for Judge Graves. The case is of more than ordinary interest on account of the mooted question among the people as to which of the parties is fegally qualified to prosecute the Copple murder and bank, robbery cases. Chase was given a certificate of election. The contest, which was taken up by appeal from the county court on a supersedeas bond, was called up in regular session of district court and went over by default on account of Chase's absence. The case was reopened Friday, two days being occupied in taking evidence. The contention of Chase is that as this case is pending in the courts, he holding a certificate of election is the proper person to represent the state and county in legal

The young men started skating one warm day boost of $15,000 per mile in its valuation. shortly after Christmas and were not seen afterward. Their parents advertised extensively, but no trace was discovered. It was thought that they had run away from home as young Watson had attempted to do some months before, and hopes of their discovery were not abandoned until about a month ago, when the coats of the boys were found embedded in ice under a culvert close to the mouth of Pawnee creek. The drowning is supposed to have oc curred close to the spot where Charles von Mansfield, a young attorney of Omaha, lost his life in the Platte about two years ago.

A Fire in York-Friday noon a North-Percival and leaves a family. The corener's western engine coughed slightly as it passed the rection house. A redhot coal or two landed on the roof of that building and kindled a rice little blaze. An alarm brought the brave fire laddies to the scene. Colonel Wes Fisher at once recognized that the time for action had ar rived, and right gallantly did he head the fire-fighting. He rushed up a ladder, carrying a leather bucket half full of creek water, at the same time loudly commanding his staunch followers to follow him for all they were worth. Some of them went up the ladders two steps at a time. Then once more Colonel Fisher issued an order: "My brave men," he said, "this water you have courageously fetched is for the purpose of extinguishing this fire, even as Parker was extinguished in the ampaign of 1904. All together now, give it to 'er!" The deluge knocked the three burning shingles into a cocked hat in far less time than it has taken to tell the story. Holdrege's Off Day-Going home minus his umbrella with which he parted company in the Holdrege opera house was the fate of Rev. I. F. Roach, who returned to Lincoln yesterday after delivering the commencement oration before the high school graduating class. Mr. Roach left his umbrella on the rear of the stage while he delivered the address Thursday night. On leaving he found it had departed and a search failed to reveal the direction it had taken. The umbrella was one of the common kind, but had a handle which the minister prized highly as a keepsake and on which his initials had been worked by pyrography. The high school management was highly chagrined over the affair, it being especially annoying on account of the umbrella being the property of the speaker from out of the city. Friday morning another annoyance became apparent when the folding chairs which had been hired for the occasion from the Day Furniture company were found two short. Some time during the evening the two missing chairs had evidently been assisted from their positions at the rear of the stage, but whither no one knows. Buperintendent Thompson this morning mentioned the fact that at a former entertainment given by the high school at the overa house some of the dumbhells used in the drills were found to have disappeared after the performance was over.-Holdrege Prog-

The locals had railled in the ninth, and when the last man was out the crowd, which had surged out of the stand, made for Conahan, The umpire ran for the ticket office, where he was given protection by city and county officers. The crowd refused to leave, however, until Conahan was brought out, and on the way to his hotel in company of the officers he was hooted and struck several times by thrown missiles of every description.

Jackson had two bad innings, and being given poor support in those innings, the Sloux piled up nine runs and won easily. The feature of the game was the hitting and all around work of Ryan. In the first inning, with two down, he clouted out a home run, and after getting a single he joined in the rally in the ninth by getting a three-bagger.

Corbett pitched a steady game until the ninth, when he was touched up for two singles, a two-bagger and a three-bagger, which netted three runs. Score:

Challenges All Wrestlers, MONTREAL, Can. May 24.—Sporting Editor of The Bee: I wish to issue a challenge through the sporting columns of your valuable paper. I noticed by the paper that you have had several wrestling matches in Omaha and also in Lincoln. I have just come from England and South Africa, where I have defeated all the wrestlers that went against me. I also hold the championship of the navy. I will wager $500 that I can best any wrestler in the western states, barring none. I will make a tour of the west soon and would like to meet some good man in your town.
