More Divorce Cases—Ida McNab has filed suit for divorce from William J. McNab in district court. She asserts he uses liquor to such an extent he is unable to provide for her. Two divorce decrees were signed by Judge Kennedy Tuesday. Alice M. Bell, second one of them, charging Charles H. Bell with abandonment. Grace McNeil was given a decree from John McNeil on grounds of extreme cruelty.

Joseph Feller on Trial—Joseph Feller, charged with a statutory offense against his stepdaughter, Katherine Berlinger, was placed on trial before a jury in Judge Troup's court Tuesday morning. The girl in her testimony on the witness stand said she had supposed until the present trouble arose that Feller was her own father. He married her mother when the girl was but 2 years old. The alleged offense was committed April 1.

Party for Little Folks—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marrow entertained at a children's party Saturday afternoon in honor of the birthdays of their two sons, Walter, aged 4, and Wallace, aged 2 years. Cottage Burned While Repaired—Fire from an unknown source destroyed most of the one and a half-story frame cottage undergoing repairs at 2813 North Fifteenth avenue, owned by Louis E. Welby, at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The flames communicated to the roof of the house at 2813, occupied by Samuel Mancuso, doing a small amount of damage to the roof, and then to Declin Bros.' warehouse at 2815, where $100 worth of damage was done.

Address on Inheritance Tax—D. L. Johnson, an attorney, will deliver an address to the members of the Real Estate exchange at the regular weekly meeting of the exchange Wednesday noon at the Commercial club. The theme of Mr. Johnson's address will be relative to the provisions of the inheritance law recently passed by the legislature, which was framed by Mr. Johnson and provides for many changes in the descent of property of the estate of an intestate.

Purse Gone, but Baby Safe—A baby carriage did not prove a safe hiding place in which to put her money for Mrs. Parks, waiting relatives at 1693 Harney street. She went shopping Monday, taking her baby with her in a carriage, and upon entering a store wheeled the carriage to one side while she could look about and placed her pocketbook containing $3 among the baby's coverings. When she returned later and looked for her money it was gone, but the baby was safe.

Officer Had His Eyes Busy—Eddie Burke, a notorious character of the lower world, was sentenced to serve ninety days in the county jail by Judge Crawford Tuesday in police court on a charge of larceny from the person. She was accused of having taken $5 from a male victim and contended he stopped the money on the floor but the emergency officer testified he saw her produce the money from her person when he approached her house and peered through the window.

Old Woman Back in Jail—Mrs. Mary Schaefer, Fifth and Jones streets, was arrested by special officers of the Union Pacific railroad on a charge of petit larceny Tuesday. Old, tottering and ragged, this poor woman ekes out an existence as best she can at her shack and occasionally she is hauled to jail by the road's officers for picking up coal or scrap iron. During her last visit, a month ago, she fell from the top of the men's tier of cells at the jail to the cement floor below in a fit and it was feared for a time she had been dangerously injured. However, she recovered at the hospital and next day was released by Judge Crawford, as no one appeared to testify against her.

Railroad Wins the Case—The jury in Judge Sear's court returned a verdict in favor of the Missouri Pacific railroad in the suit brought against it by M. O. Cunningham as administrator of the estate of Adolph Larson. Larson was a laborer and was crossing a car along a sidetrack in the alley near Eighteenth street in November, 1906, when it was asserted a Missouri Pacific switch engine bumped into the car and pushed them back over Larson, who was instantly killed. Suit was brought for $5,000.

Mandate in Hughes Case—The formal mandate from the United States circuit court of appeals reversing the judgment of $5,000 awarded to Henry J. Hughes against the Western Real Estate trustees for damages sustained by the plaintiff through the collapse of a building on Douglas street near Fourteenth street in the summer of 1903 has been received at the circuit clerk's office in Omaha. The decree not only reverses the judgment of the lower court, but directs that a new trial be had in the case. Hughes sued for $50,000 originally, but obtained a judgment of only $5,000.

Could Not Wait to Prosecute—Al Pardon, proprietor of a barber shop in the basement at Fifteenth and Farnham streets, and Ed Pittman, his barber, charged with swindling O. A. and William O'Brien, farmers, from Belgrade, Neb., were discharged in police court Tuesday, the complainants failing to appear. The O'Brien brothers each asserted he had been charged $2 for tonsorial services, when all he had authorized was a shave and hair cut. Both men were obliged to return home, however, and could not remain in Omaha to prosecute.

Woman Sues to Stop Abuse—Edna E. Hoag has filed a cross-petition in the divorce suit brought against her by her husband, Fred Hoag, in which she asks for an injunction to prevent him from abusing her or assigning his salary in any way to take it out of the jurisdiction of the court until the case is decided. She charges Fred left her penniless on a number of occasions and has been guilty of cruelty. She wants a divorce and the custody of her child given to her mother. One of the peculiar features of the case is that the plaintiff in the eyes of the law is an "infant," being under 21 years of age and the suit is brought for her by her father.

Litigation Between Contractors—Lamoureux & Peterson have begun suit in district court against Phelan, Shirley & Cahalan for $11,172 damages alleged to have been suffered by their failure to keep a contract the plaintiff claims to have made with them for the grading of a portion of the right-of-way of the Pacific coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. The petition states the defendant company claimed to have a contract for the construction of a part of the road and subcontract the grading to the plaintiff company. After the contract had been accepted and the plaintiff had begun preparations for carrying out its part of the work the defendant refused, according to the petition, to make good the contract.

Brain Shaken by Fall—Asserting he was forced off a moving street car, owing to the overcrowding of the car, John J. Schmitz, brick mason, has begun suit against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company for $5,000 damages for personal injuries. September 23, he says in his petition, he boarded a southbound Sherman avenue car. He was forced to stand on the back platform, he says, owing to the crowd on the car. At Douglas and Farnham streets more people got on until he asserts the car was dangerously overcrowded. He says the conductor while collecting fares in the crowd jostled him so he lost his grip on the hand rail and was thrown onto the pavement. He says his brain was shaken up and since then he has suffered from dizziness and numbness of the head and his eyesight has been badly impaired.

COLONEL PRATT NOT SERVED

Returns to Omaha to Fight Divorce Case and as Yet Escapes Summons.

Colonel James H. Pratt has returned to Omaha for the purpose of fighting the suit for divorce, which comes up before Judge Kennedy on a preliminary motion Friday morning. The matter to come up is the motion of Colonel Pratt and several of the defendants in the suit to quash the service upon them. Colonel Pratt contends Douglas county is his residence and he has notice by publication upon him to void. The plaintiff has taken steps to secure personal service upon him, but Colonel Pratt had gone to his farm at Bennington Monday and was still there Tuesday morning and the summons had not been served at noon Tuesday. Henry W. Magee, Colonel Pratt's son-in-law, an attorney from Chicago, will appear with General Cowin in the case.

OTHER ENGAGEMENTS PRECLUDE THIS

Details of the Plans for the Trade Excursion Complete and Assigned to All Participants.

Governor Sheldon has written a letter to the Commercial club formally accepting the invitation of the club to accompany the Omaha trade excursion to the Pacific coast states, but is unable at present to assure the club that he will be able to do with the excursion until its return. He has had an engagement of long standing to deliver an address before the middle of June and before the excursion will return and has not been able to be released from this engagement, but will accompany the excursion, with his secretary, for the greater part of the trip.

Arrangements have been made for the governor and several prominent representatives of Omaha business interests to deliver brief addresses at the reception to be tendered the Omaha invaders at Spokane and a program is now in preparation. Active preparations for the entertainment of the Omaha trade excursionists at Buffalo have been made and much space is being given in the Butte newspapers to the subject. Committees of prominent business men have conferred with Mayor Corby of that city and a royal good time is assured the Omaha visitors.

Letter of Directions.
Many minor details essential to the success of the excursion, which will leave Omaha from the Burlington depot Sunday at 2 p. m., are being given consideration by the trade extension committee of the Commercial club and a letter was issued Tuesday by J. H. Taylor, chairman of the committee in charge of the excursion, to the persons who will participate, giving explicit instructions regarding the arrangements on the train.

The train will be made up of a baggage, composite, dining, compartment car, two standard sleeping cars and a fine observation car. It is announced that the train will leave Omaha promptly at 2 p. m. Sunday and arrangements have been made to receive mail at nine cities along the route. The individual members of the trade excursion committee have worked indefatigably for the success of the excursion and its success is greatly due to this committee. H. S. Weiler, who is chairman of the committee, has been unavoidably absent from the city on business and J. H. Taylor was selected as chairman pro tem. The other members of the committee, who have worked night and day for nearly a month, are: Joe Kelley, Dan B. Fuller, G. H. Pratt, C. E. Johannes, D. J. O'Brien, E. H. Allen, E. A. Hinrichs, W. W. Johnston, Z. T. Lindsey, W. E. Reed, C. S. Hayward, C. J. Lane and J. C. Colt.

BIG REALTY DEAL WOUND UP
Deeds for Hundred and Sixty Lots in North End Are Placed on Record.

Deeds were placed on file Tuesday transferring the title to 162 lots in Moonmouth and Collier places, which are bounded by Ames and Grand avenues from Thirtieth to Thirty-sixth streets, to Hastings & Hayden from the Byron Reed company. The deeds conveyed title from Rev. Francis J. Collier and wife of Woodstock, N. J.; Rev. F. C. Collier and Mary C. Dennis, wife of Dr. J. C. Dennis, and Miss Hettie E. Collier, who lived for many years at Nineteenth and Dodge streets with her sister, Mrs. Annie C. Meredith.

The large tract was formerly a cornfield and was bought last March by Hastings & Hayden for over $25,000 cash and has been platted and improved by the installation of all modern conveniences. The streets have been paved, gas and water pipes laid and shade trees planted. Moonmouth park contains sixty-three lots and ninety-seven lots have been platted in Collier place, many of which were sold last Saturday, when the new residence subdivisions were placed on the market.

The ladies of Kountze Memorial church will serve food with luncheon in the "Streets of Paris" afternoon and evening Auditorium. Admission 10 cents.

Protect Baby's Skin
Here's the difference in thickness between the outer skin of baby—and you, mother.

The outer layer of baby's skin is so tender that it is easily burned, and also offers little protection to the intricate under structure of oil and sweat glands, tiny bloodvessels and nerves.

Coarse, unguilty skin is caused by not knowing how to protect it in babyhood.

Pond's Extract Soap
feeds the skin, keeps it soft, helps its perfect development, preserves its fine delicacy. The Pond's Extract tones the glands and stimulates circulation, preserving health and rosy color. Its whiteness indicates its purity. Buy it always for Baby.

A boost of valuations in Douglas county amounting to about $5,000,000 is predicted by County Assessor Harry Reed, who is now at work on the schedules returned by the deputies. If this prediction comes true it will be $1,500,000 larger than the increase last year. Mr. Reed estimates $2,000,000 of the increase will be in real estate improvements and $3,000,000 in personal property.

Real estate will not be reassessed until next year, but the assessor is allowed under the law to add to its valuation the value of improvements made since the last assessment. This includes new buildings and additions to buildings.

The principal part of the increase will come from the large business buildings that have gone up in the last year. Among these are the M. E. Smith building, the Carpenter Paper company building, the Byrne-Hammer structure, owned by Creighton university, the Webster-Sundarland building and the Brandeis building, which is only partially completed.

The tabulation of schedules will not be completed for several days and the force in the assessor's office are rushing their work to get ready for the meeting of the County Board of Equalization, which will be held June 11.
