Indications that Championship Lies Between Yale and Fennsylvania.

MICHIGAN MAKES A GOOD SHOWING Wolverines Qualify Nine Men in

Seven Events-Yale First with Thirteen Men in Nine Events.

BOSTON, Mass., May 31 .- If the elimination events that opened the thirty-second annual intercollegiate games in the Harvard stadium today failed to disclose a probable champion for the finals tomorrow. they did show that Yale is unexpectedly strong in agile jumpers; that Pennsylvania has some very fleet sprinters; that the newcomers from the University of Michigan are speedy in the hurdles and factors many points in the distance runs to retain its title. Close followers of the seemed to feel tonight that the championship lay between Yale and Pennsylvania, with the chances slightly in favor of the blue. Thirteen Yale men qualified in nine out of the eleven events which were run off during the afternoon. Cornell was next, with twelve men still left for tomorrow, but the champions failed to get men into four of the eleven events today. Michigan and Harvard qualified nine men in seven events and Pennsyllvania had triais today. Harvard, however, is not regarded as dangerous for the championship. One of the developments of today's events was the ability of the team from the University of Michigan, headed by Captain Garrels, to qualify nine men in the events today against so many athletes from eleven eastern colleges.

CHICAGO, May 31.-The annual western intercollegiate track meet will be held on Marshall Field tomorrow, without representation by the University of Mighigan. A controversy over the freshmen rule brought about a split in the Big Nine conference this year and Michigan withdrew from the organization. In the past Michigan has always taken a prominent part in these yearly meets, having either finished first or second each year. Tomorrow, howover the athletes from the Michigan school will compete against the eastern colleges at Boston. With Michigan out of the way first place in tomorrow's meet will probably go to the University of Illinois, the University of Chicago or the University of Wisconsin. Illinois seems to have the best chance to score the most points.

WISCONSIN WINS 'VARSITY RACE Badger Eight Crosses Line Four Lengths Ahead of Syracuse.

Lengths Ahead of Syracuse.

MADISON, Wis., May 31.—Wisconsin university won the varsity eight-oared race with Syracuse (N. Y.) university on Lake Mendota this evening and the Syracuse crew won the four-oared race with Wisconsin. The Wisconsin freshmen won from St. John's Military academy of Delafield, Wis., The races did not start until after sundown, on account of choppy water. A seventeen-mile wind was blowing from the east nearly all afternoon and the coaches would not let the crews venture out. About 7 o'clock the breeze died down somewhat and, aithough the lake was still quite choppy, the freshmen race was started.

Before the Wisconsin-Delafield race was finished the four-oared crews left the symnasium for their pull of two miles to the starting point. Wisconsin drew the outer side of the course. When about outer side of a mile on the way the the starting point. Wisconsin drew the outer side of the course. When about three-fourths of a mile on the way the Wisconsin's boat struck a floating buoy which had drifted into the course. This disconcerted them, causing them to fall behind. The two crews were nearly even for the first half mile, when the Syracuse gradually gained upon Wisconsin. As they neared the last quarter Syracuse was leading by about two lengths. Wisconsin then seemed to go to pieces, wandered off its course and into the water of the Syracuse crew, their shell at the same time dipping considerable water. Syracuse crossed the line between four and five lengths ahead of Wisconsin.

Wisconsin.

It was nearly dark when the 'varsity eights set out for the starting point, and the race could not be seen by the spectators. It was not until the crews were near the finish could the shells be recognized, and it was then seen that Wisconsin was alightly leading. At the mile and one-half stake Wisconsin forged ahead and gradually increased the lead, crossing the line about four lengths ahead of Syracuse, covering the two miles in 10-34.

The members of the crews, as soon as they landed, were immediately taken upon the shoulders of the admiring fellow students and carried to their quarters. Coach E. H. Ten Eyck of the Wisconsin crew said:

E. H. Ten Eyck of the Wisconsin crew said:

"We are not crowing, because if we should race again we might lose, but I am proud of Wisconsin, for it met a strong and splendid crew. It looks as though we could do something down east."

J. A. Ten Eyck, coach for Syracuse and father of the Wisconsin coach, was too busy to be interviewed, but said: "I am well satisfied; the boys all did well."

No time was taken in the four-oared and freshmen races.

The Syracuse team is composed of M. M. Dodge, D. A. Davis, W. W. Andrews, H. S. Duvall, L. C. Rice, R. A. Nelson, W. C. Fisher, J. Ten Eyck (stroke) and L. Ellis (coxswalre). Their average weight is 1744.

The Bee published the full box scores of twenty-five games of ball Friday, and results on twenty-seven other games, more than any other paper in the west. The fans are showing they like to follow the players in the larger leagues and the only way they can do it is by seeing the scores

Wonder if Rooney is satisfied. He dewonder if Rooney is satisfied. He de-manded as the terms of his wrestie with Gotch that the champion threw him twice in one hour. Gotch did the job in thirty-four minutes instead, probably to save any hard feelings on the part of the big Chi-cago policeman who for some unaccount-able reason imagines he is a wrestler. able reason imagines he is a wrestler.

If Hart's wrist had not been broken the world might be better prepared to say whether or not Jeffries chose the right heir apparent. At any rate the Kentuckian made a good showing and for a man with a broken wrist, a most remarkable showing. He says himself, but for his lame member he would have finished Schreck. Perhaps. But now let's see what about Lord Squires. A most unusual decision by Umelre. G. D. Thomas.

It is believed the returns from the May carnival, "The Streets of Paris," will aid materially in reducing the amount to be raised by public subscription for the completion of the building and a campaign for obtaining the remainder of the funds necessary will be begun early next week by F. About $40,000 is needed to complete the Auditorium, but nearly $15,000 of this amount has been subscribed already and with the receipts from the "Streets of Paris" it is believed it will be necessary to obtain only about $18,000 more.

Paying More for Water than Wine. Probably in no other country than this are mineral waters drunk to so large an extent and the consumption in constantly increasing. This, it is said, is true not only of a world-known table water from a spring at Neuenahr, Germany, and the table waters of Maine, Wisconsin, Callfornia and other localities in the United States, but also of medicinal ones like the Apenta waters from Hungary, And so partial are Americans to mineral waters that they are willing to pay more for them wine; there are many illustrations of this, but the most recent and pronounced one is given by the fact that they pay as high as 20 cents for a sparkling apenta split imported from far away Budapest; as a split contains but a glassful, this is the highest price that has ever prevailed.
