Few Changes Made in the Returns of the Local Assessors.

SOME FIGURES ON LIVE STOCK

Sitting as Board of Supervisors, the Members Refuse to Concur in Reduction of Assessment on the Nonpareil.

Except for adopting the formal resolution, the Board of Supervisors completed yesterday its work of equalizing the assessment in the various townships of Pottawattamie county. But few changes were made in the assessment of live stock. The books of the assessors show the following totals in the different classes of live stock: Colts, 1 year old, 1,721; colts, 2 years old, 1,590; horses, 3 years old and over, 15,872; heifers, 1 year old, 7,709; heifers, 2 years old, 5,832; cows, 22,109; steers, 1 year old, 12,672; steers, 2 years old, 4,101; steers, 3 years old, 4,101; steers, 3 years old, 4,101; steers, 3 years old, 5,837; stall@ms, 69; mules, 1,262.

Cattle in feeding in 1906 numbered 15,901 and were valued at $33.76 a head. This year the number of cattle in feeding is 17,643, valued at $40.72 a head.

In session as a county board the supervisors refused to concur in the action of the city council reducing the assessment of the New Nonparell company for 1906 from $44,500 to $30,000. The board took the position that it had no authority to change the assessment at this late date.

At the suggestion of Sheriff Canning, it was decided to install two electric lights in the alley north of the county jail.

DANISH LUTHERAN CONFERENCE Eleventh Annual Meeting Commences

This Morning.

eleventh annual meeting of the

Inited Danish Evangelical Lutheran church will open this morning for a six days session at the First Presbyterian church. A number of the delegates arrived yesterday, among the first being Rev. L. Johnson of Tuxedo Park, St. Louis, secretary of the association. It is expected that about 1,000 delegates, ministers and members of the hurch will be in attendance. The proceed ings will be entirely in the Danish language. The United Danish Evangelical Lutheran thurch was formed in 1896 by the union of the Danish Evangelical Luthern church and the Danish Evangelical Lutheran Church of North America, both these bodies | the measure. 'It is a better ordinance being offshoots from what is called the mother church in Denmark, the Danish Latheran church. At the time of the union the membership was 12,000, and it has now increased to 18,000, with 158 churches, fortyfive home missions, ninety-nine ministers and a business organization that last year expended $67,000 in building new houses of worship. The union was effected after two years of negotiating at the annual sessions of the two bodies in Minneapolis, which, after the union was consummated, became the first annual meeting of the present organization.

At this meeting a secretary, treasure and two members of the church council will be elected. Rev. G. B. Christiansen of Audubon, Ia., president of the association, holds office for two years more, having been elected at the meeting last year at Kenmore, N. D.

The local committee, of which Rev. J. P. Heede is chairman, has erected a large frame building adjoining the church at the corner of Ninth street and Avenue A. where meals will be furnished the visitors. The homes of the church members and their friends have been thrown open to the

IMPORTANT CASES COMING UP

Brown Contempt Case and Portland Mining Company Tax Suits. The members of the petit jury panel of the district court, with the exception of those impaneled for the trial of the suit of the Continental Realty company against F. West, were discharged yesterday by Judge Wheeler. In dismissing the jurors Judge Wheeler complimented them highly, saying that in point of intellect he considered the jury one of the best which had ever served in his court. He thanked them for their long drawn service, the jury having been in attendance since early in April. In return the members of the jury presented Judge Wheeler with a gold chain and a Masonic emblem, the presentation being made by C. W. McDonald. With the jury cases out of the way, Judge Wheeler probably will make an assignment of equity cases today. The contempt case against J. Brown, the saloon crusader from Kansas, is expected to reach a hearing in the near future, and following that will come the large number of injunction suits brought by Brown against the saloonmen of this city and other towns in Pottawattamie county. Brown has not been in evidence much of late, but his attorney, N. A. Crawford, is authority for the statement that he will be on hand when the time comes for his appearance in court. There are also about sixty tax cases involving the Portland Gold Mining company which are scheduled for a hearing at this term of court, and some of these probably will be taken up the latter part of this month or early in July. The last batch of Portland Gold Mining company tax suits, which number close upon a thousand, will not come up at this term.

Articles of incorporation of the Western Lumber and Supply company were filed for record yesterday. The incorporators are S. H. Bowman, B. C. Bowman and H. A. The incorporation of the Western Lumber and Supply company means the establishment in Council Bluffs of a wholesale lumber concern which will occupy the enblock between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets and Broadway and First avenue. Mr. Quinn will be general manager and will be succeeded in the management of the Quinn Lumber company's business by Frank W. Arnold, who has branch lumber yards at Woodbine, Ia. Speaking of the new company, Mr. Quinn sald: "The Western Lumber and Supply ompany, while organized by the owners of the Quinn Lumber company, is an entirely separate concern. My associates in the Quinn Lumber company own forty lumber yards in this section of Iowa. Shipments on railroads are too slow for the mable to carry a very heavy stock. The needs of these country lumber dealers and our own forty lumber yards prompted us to establish in Council Bluffs a large wholesale yard, from which we will not only supply our own yards, but those of the country lumber dealers within a radius of 10 miles of Council Bluffs east of the Missouri river. The company will keep on hand, besides all kinds of lumber, building material of every kind. The construction of the big sheds and other buildings on our property on Broadway will be commenced at once."

The ordinance will now have to be published a certain number of times during a period of thirty days before it can be submitted to the people of Council Bluffs for their approval or rejection at a special election. The special election will have to be called by

The interests of the city are well safeguarded and it assures many improvements in the system in the near future. Sentor Class Day.

The class day program given by the senior class at the high school auditorium was an innovation in many respects and entirely different from former class day entertainments. There was a large attendance and the program proved highly interesting and entertaining.

One of the pleasing numbers was the reading by Miss Ellen Dobson, appropriately costumed, of the class history, written in biblical style and embracing four chapters.

For the presentation of the class gift, consisting of a handsome silver loving cup, to be contested for annually by the two literary societies of the school, there was an Indian scene. Two tribes of redskins. with their respective chiefs, appeared in a war dance when the curtains were drawn. Then followed the smoking of the pipe of peace and the presentation by Big Chief Gien Mills of the cup to Big Chief Roy Seeger of the juntors.

A pretty novelty was the "Cremation Ceremony," in which several of the seniors, costumed to represent different text books, took part. As each pronounced a short oration in the old-time Marc Antony style, the particular text book which the speaker represented was placed upon an altar and then "cremated," the cremation illusion being effected by electric lights.

Esther Hansen recited the class poem and Paul Wadsworth the class prophecy. Frank Henninger, the class president, delivered the opening address. Lucile Jarvis and Bertha Wheeler and the double quartet contributed the musical numbers.

Litigation Over Consolidation Has Because it is a "Six"_

Tied Up all Funds in Des Moines.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN MUDDLE

TREASURERS HOLD OUT CASH

Proprietors of Summer Resorts Com plain That the Unsensonable Weather is Ruining Their Business.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., June 4.-(Special.)-Educators and school men throughout the state are interested to a marked degree over the school situation in Des Moines. Searcely over a fortnight ago the people of the city voted in favor of consolidation of the thirteen districts which have made up the city school system for many years. By a big majority of the vote this proposition carried. The measure was submitted to the vote of the people after a bill to that effect had passed the state legislature at the Thirty-second assembly. This bill in the legislature was desperately fought by the opponents of the measure. Now the situation has developed into a plot that would serve admirably for the basis of a comic opera war or for a South American revolution.

Schools are legally consolidated. The board of what was formerly the West Des Moines district is now legally constituted as the board of the combined districts. But the wheels of the school system in Des Moines are blocked today as effectually as though a railroad iron were thrust into the cogs of a big machine.

The echool district heretofore known as Valley Junction has, through attorneys, filed an injunction in the district court against consolidation. This case may not be heard until in September, and Judge McHenry has issued no injunction claim ing that it is impossible to issue an infunction against consolidation after consolidation has already been effected. The plea is made, however, that this consolidation was made illegally, and the endeaver now is to set it aside.

But three days ago the treasurers and the trustees of the outside districts held their meeting and settled up accounts. They made an invoice of stock and moneys on hand. In each instance this amount was placed in the hands of the district treas-

Treasurer Burgacott of the Eeast Des Moines schools had over $300,000 in buildings and $26,000 in cash. To make a test case he secured an opinion from County Attorney De Grafff as to his (Buracott's) personal responsibility should the school consolidation in the future be proven illegal and in the meantime he having turned over the central board his funds. He was advised that his bondsmen might be held liable if the West Side board should spend the money turned over to it by Burgacotte and not be in a position to pay it back when the districts were divided again, if this latter contingency should happen to be the judgment of the court. Consequently Treasurer Burzacott has refused to turn over his money. Every other treasurer has followed his example. Funds are all tied up. The West Des Moines board has money in the bank, but will not spend any of it. Because, as it is legally the head of the entire city school system now, it can not spend a cent in South Des Moines unless it spends a proportionate amount in North, East and West Des Moines. The board is loath to spend its own money for the other districts when these districts are not turning in their cash to the general fund.

So things are at a deadlock and conditions have reached a crisis never before seen in the history of Iowa schools. Repair work amounting to thousands of dollars ought to be done this summer. Janare refusing to work without ries. Things are at a standstill and there is no reason why school should begin in the fall unless the courts have decided one way or another before the opening of the September term. The secretary of the West Des Moines board refuses to draw a warrant for expense and the treasurers of the outside districts are afraid to spend money that may not be their own.

Summer Resorts Suffer. A wall that can be heard all over the state comes from the summer resorts of Nothing doing. Nobody suffers so lows. much from the continued cold weather as do these places of amusement and recreation. Up at Spirit lake and at Okoboji there is weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. "Just five weeks ago," a prominent hotel manager says, "we threw open our doors to the public and opened wide our arms to receive them. You recall that warm spell in March? Well, we judged from that that the season would arrive early. This is the condition we are in: We not only have gone broke, but we have had to borrow money to keep warm while waiting for summer boarders. You know these institutions are run under great expense. It is true that we get good prices for our services, but the fact of the matter is that we just about come out even. Well, you can see how our profits of past seasons have gone glimmering with this six weeks of cold weather."

Summer resort men assert, moreover, that the anti-pass law has effected them in a great measure. They declare that many of the poorer class of people never fre quent the summer bathing and fishing places, but that most of the patrons are drawn from a wealthier class, and that these always, were provided with passes. It is stated that this class of citizens, now that they are forced to buy their transportation, have this year determined to go outside of Iowa for their summer trips and that the local summer resorts are practically deserted. Many of the popular amusement resorts of the state have already cut down their forces.
