

BRIEF CITY NEWS

The City Savings Bank is a friend of the laboring man. Administrator of Estate—Moses Laguna has been appointed administrator of the estate of Maurice L. Caplin by County Judge Leslie. Steamer Takes a Layoff—The steamer Omaha is taking a layoff while Colonel Jordan, its manager, gets two new life-boats. They must be brought from St. Louis or Chicago and it will require several days. Agitation Bears Fruit—As result of agitation on the part of the license inspector one man has taken out license as operator of an automobile for hire, and five others have indicated their willingness to do the same, although all protest against the amount of the license—$30. Suit for Broken Leg—A jury in county court is listening to the evidence in the suit of James F. Jarvis against Alton Brock, in which he is seeking judgment for $10 for a broken leg. The injury was received while he was helping move some winegar barrels April 3, and he asserts it was due to a faulty skid. Jewelers, Wholesale and Retail—C. A. Williams & Co. jewelers have filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk. The capital stock is $25,000, to be fully paid, when issued. Charles A. Williams and Nels P. Frandsen are the incorporators. The corporation is empowered to do a general wholesale and retail jewelry business. John Power Files Claim—Former Sheriff Power has filed with the county board a claim for $1,000.50, which he asserts it was necessary to pay his deputies during the South Omaha strike in addition to the amount allowed them by the county. The claim is an old one, but it has never been acted upon by the board. It will be taken up at the meeting Saturday. Editors Going to Jamestown—The Northwestern Editorial association, including editors of the Pacific northwest, is on its way to Jamestown to attend the exposition. The editors are riding on trains, too, giving full credence to the fact the anti-pass law has not yet compelled all men to dismount. The editors are expected through Omaha Saturday morning. Nonsupport and Cruelty—Agnes Liberal has filed suit for a divorce from Anton J. Liberal, charging him with nonsupport and with such cruel treatment as to endanger her life. She adds he is given to drinking to excess and would remain away from home for several days. Mattie Campbell has been granted a divorce from Edward Campbell in Judge Kennedy's court. She charged extreme cruelty. Grocers and Butchers Flee—The annual picnic of the Grocers and Butchers' associations will be held at Fort Calhoun Thursday, July 25. The committee in charge has inspected the grounds at Fort Calhoun and finds them well suited to the purpose. A program is now being formulated which, it is hoped, may be carried out despite the rain, which has never failed to fall upon those who attend this annual event. Wall Threatens Damage—The east wall of the building occupied by Dresser & Co., standing next to the lot which is being cleared for the addition to the Hamilton hotel, gave evidence of falling Friday and caused considerable alarm. The defective wall is in the addition to the rear of the building. It bulged out several inches and in order to save the goods it was necessary to remove them from that part of the store to the vacant building just west of it. No damage was done, but it will be necessary to tear down the wall and rebuild it. Preferred Mother to Wife—In an amended petition for divorce from Edward Kubin filed in district court Friday morning, Barbara Kubin declares their marital troubles arose from the fact her husband refused to leave his mother after they were married. She says notwithstanding his agreement during their courtship to furnish a separate home for her he took her after the ceremony to his mother's home in South Omaha and forced her to live there although she and the senior Mrs. Kubin did not get along well together at all. She asserts her mother-in-law did not treat her kindly. Papa Hurt, but Baby Safe—Harry A. Wilkinson lies at his home, 511 South Twenty-sixth avenue, with a badly sprained ankle, the result of a most peculiar accident. Hearing the faint cries of his month-old baby about 4 o'clock Friday morning, he hastily jumped out of bed and took the little one in his arms to quiet it and in his anxiety and over-zealous care it fell to notice the inevitable tack or some other obstruction in the dim light of the room. In order to prevent injury to the child and save himself from falling he somehow turned his ankle and fell with a bad sprain. Dr. R. B. Harris attended him and said he will have to remain in bed at least a week. The baby was not hurt. New System of Books—Police Judge Elyce Crawford has just completed a new plan for keeping a record of the cases heard in police court and the books for the purpose are now in preparation. The old system, which had been in vogue for years, was incomplete, and it was on this ground that the attorney for former Clerk of Police Court Lee Grier fought hard to have the case of embellishment dismissed against him. By the new plan the list of prisoners to be tried will be entered in a book and numbered in the order of their arrest, instead of a loose sheet, and the book will be as complete a record of each case as the original desk sergeant's record. There will also be a book for convicted cases, which will give still more information, and the entries of the dispositions will be made by the judge himself, so that in the future there can be no question as to where money paid to the clerk comes from and for what purpose it is paid.

RED LETTER NIGHT IN MUSIC

Home Recital of Miss Mary Munchoff Reveals a Wealth of Good Music.

Last night was a red letter occasion in Omaha music annals, because Mary Munchoff, who has just returned after three years of wonderful success in the large cities of Europe, gave her usual "home recital" for her hundreds of friends and admirers, who look upon her with the greatest pride and affection, and take her career with a personal touch of ownership. Mary Munchoff's voice is not large, but it is heavenly sweet and she uses it as few, O so few, ever dream of doing. Her scale is perfect. Who can hope to describe the charm, the exquisite delicacy of her pianissimo phrases? She is one of a very small marching battalion who know what a real pianissimo is. Do these tones carry? Indeed, yes. To the uttermost corners of the house her staccato work, electric in quality, she wins the sort of applause that rolls out almost involuntarily, sometimes not waiting for its proper placing. The program last night was charming in its make up. It passed all too swiftly.

- (a) "Oh! Had I Jubal's Lyre".....G. P. Haendel (b) "Oh Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me".....G. P. Haendel (c) "Una Voce Poco Fa".....G. Rossini II. (a) "Who is Sylvia".....Franz Schubert (b) "Wohin".....Franz Schubert (c) "Wiegenlied".....E. Humperdinck (d) "Die Nachtigall".....A. Alabiet (a) "Etude, E Major".....F. Chopin (b) "Valse Caprice".....Strauss-Tausig IV. (a) "Solveig's Song".....Ed Grieg (b) "The Cuckoo".....L. Liebmann (c) "Pastorale".....G. Puccini (d) Waltz from the opera "Romeo and Juliette".....Ch. Gounod "O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me" was given a most beautiful interpretation. The first phrase, barely breathed into being, was a revelation in tone work. O, ye students, were you there to recognize the light burning far along toward the end of your path? "Una Voce Poco Fa" is always a favorite with prima donnas. Miss Munchoff gave it more than the usual brilliant rendition, interpolating a bewildering lace work of trills and roulades, which she executed with ease and cleanness. Schubert's delightful "Wohin" was one of the gems of the evening. She was obliged to repeat it. Such charm! It was good just to be alive and listening! "Who is Sylvia" was taken at a very slow tempo. Doubtless there is some good reason for it. "Die Nachtigall" might be called Miss Munchoff's war horse. It is peculiarly suited to her voice and never fails to bring forth immense applause. Her art is shown to splendid advantage. The song combines great technique, with a very decided temperamental appeal. Grieg's "Solveig's Song" was most lovely. "The Cuckoo" was repeated after much enthusiasm.

At the last, when the audience absolutely refused to go home, another heavenly little Greg song was sung. Indeed, Mary Munchoff has been blessed by the gods—always remembering "the gods help them who help themselves." One has only to meet this gifted singer for a brief space to realize that she is an earnest, faithful worker. She prizes her gift and will always keep it bright and shining. As an accompanist Miss Schreb did splendid work. Her Chopin solo number was full of poetry and individuality. The Strauss-Tausig "Valse Caprice" was given with grace and good style. Miss Schreb has a very winning personality. She was obliged to play again and gave a transcription of "On Wings of Song" I'll Bear These.

Omaha music lover thank Miss Munchoff most heartily and sincerely for the great pleasure of hearing her in her only American concert this season. MARY LEARNED.

NINE CHURCHES ARE ADMITTED

Evangelical Danish Lutheran Church Grows During the Year.

The convention of the United Evangelical Lutheran church at its morning session in Council Bluffs yesterday admitted eight new congregations into the fold. There was an additional application from a congregation in Canada, but as the association is not incorporated in Canada it was thought best not to admit the new body until the legality of the action would be assured. The newly admitted congregations are located in Kiowa, Colo., Cushing, Neb., Missouri Valley, Ia., Danville, N. D., Rock County, Wis., Clinton, Wis., Kansas City, Mo., and Woodstock, Ill. Rev. L. Johnson of St. Louis and Marcus Beck of Blair, Neb., were re-elected secretary and treasurer respectively. P. Clausen of Albert Lee, Minn., was re-elected one of the trustees. The election of the second trustee was postponed, it being stated that the man named, while still a member of the church, had joined a congregation which was not identified with the association. Rev. C. C. Cloth of Hampton and Rev. L. M. Hanson of Chicago were elected members of the board of education of the church society. Rev. A. Lund of Denmark, Wis., opened the morning services with prayer and address, while Rev. J. T. Lund of Sioux City opened the afternoon session with devotional exercises and a short address. The report of the secretary showed there were only forty-four children in the orphan home conducted by the church, twenty-four at Elkhorn and twenty at Waupaca, Wis. There had been little sickness, no contagious diseases and only one death in ten years. The receipts of the two homes had exceeded the expenses. The report of J. P. Jensen, president of Trinity seminary and Dana college at Blair, showed that the institutions had been more than self-sustaining the last year. There are nine Sunday schools in the association in which English is spoken exclusively and several in which both English and Danish are spoken. It was decided to provide hymn books in English for these schools. Other reports showed that the various institutions conducted by the church were progressing.

FATHER THOUGHT CHILD WOULD DIE

Suffered with Cuban Itch, and Sores Covered Body from Head to Foot—Would Claw Himself and Cry All the Time—Could Not Be Dressed—Mother Advised to Try the Cuticura Remedies.

CURED BY CUTICURA AT EXPENSE OF 75c.

"My little boy in the Spring of 1901, when only an infant of three months, caught the Cuban itch from one of my neighbor's babies. Sores broke out from his head to the bottom of his feet. He would itch and claw himself and cry all the time. He could not sleep day or night. He had to be held in his carriage most all the time. He was still. He could not bear to have his clothing touched. He had only a light dress in which he could speak in words the suffering the poor child had to endure. I called one of our best doctors to see him. He said he believed he would have to die. I had almost given up hope when a lady friend told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. She also cured her little girl's case. I got a cake of Cuticura Soap and one box Cuticura Ointment and he at once felt like a new man. He slept with ease for the first time since two months. When he awoke I applied it again, and it gave him much ease, and after three applications the sores began to dry up and improvement began to show, and in a few days the itch from the bottom of his feet and inside of his hands began to peel off. I used the Cuticura Soap and one box Cuticura Ointment to complete the cure of the dreadful disease, and in just two weeks from the day I commenced to use the Cuticura Remedies my baby was entirely well. The treatment only cost me 75c, and I would have gladly paid $100 if I could not have got it any cheaper. I had said to myself that the Cuticura Remedies saved his life. He is now a boy of five years, and is as healthy and happy as ever. Mrs. W. A. Miller, 1000 Union City, R. B. No. 1, Branch Co., Mich., May 17, 1904.

"A MAD LOVE" AT THE KRUG

Regular Mid-Week Change of Bill at This Theater Gets Good Crowd.

The Elmore Stock company presented the four-act drama, "A Mad Love," Thursday night at the Krug before a good sized house. The play is taken from the widely read novel, "Lady Audley's Secret," too well known to require further exposition. Lydia Powell, as Helen Talboys, bent on the destruction of Helen Talboys, bent on the destruction to her happiness, surmounting them one by one, and always emerging from the wicked accusations of Robert Audley and the machinations of George Talboys innocent and spotless. Robert Audley, near-sighted and convincing, bent on the destruction of Helen Talboys, was an ideal suitor, who at no phase failed to portray his part properly. There is enough excitement in the drama to keep the gallery in a fever and enough romance to keep the parquet billowy with handkerchiefs in the moist places. The scenic embellishments are especially beautiful and complete in detail. The play will be repeated Friday and Saturday nights, with a matinee Saturday afternoon.
