It is all right to acquire a general knowledge of general matters, but it is equally important to acquire a special knowledge of the special matters which will constitute the life work of the pupil. Three-fourths of the entire population of the United States is engaged in the business of agriculture, mechanics, house-keeping and kindred occupations. These engaged in these occupations should have as good an education in their respective lines as those engaged in the professions. rates he said in part: Referring to the United States census of 1965, we find there were 4,755 manufacturing establishments at that time in the state, employing 56,603 men, and using a capital of $111,427,488, with an output in finished, pro-ducts of $160,572,313. Comparing this with conditions only five years previous, as shown by the census of 1960, it indicates that in those five years we increased our manufactured products 20.5 per cent and capital invested 30.1 per cent. At this rate of progress, the year 1810 will find the railroads conveying $35,500,000 more of manufactured goods, the products of lows factories, and the capital invested will be $35,500,000 greater. one hour a day during the four years' of a student in the high school spent in the manual and industrial training department would be all that would be needed. The feeling of the association relative to this subject will, it is understood, be Taking the fifty-two states and territories compared by the national census of 195, we find Iowa ranks eighteenth from the top, in value of ranufactured products, which is certainly a shewing to be proud of. In sev-eral special lines of manufacture, however, it can be safely stated that the output is larger than any other state in the union. One of the problems of the future is the supply of capable young men for our grow-ing industries, especially those skilled in handicraft, to do the actual work in the shop and the mechanic arts. ample facilities in our universities for edu-cating youg men as engineers or captains of industry, but we have no manual train-ing schools for those who do not desire a higher education, or who have not the necessary means to accomplish it. These schools might be established in connection with agricultural high schools, which have been proposed for the work of the farm, and thus prepare thousands of our young men for the practical affairs of life without loss of time. The larger efficies of the state have commenced manual training, to a small extent, in the public schools; which, with the aid of the state and under state control, could be made very efficient. Tangle Over Street Fair.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday adopted a resolution endorsing the proposition to hold a good roads convention in Council Bluffs during the street fair and carnival and promising the promoters its co-operation. This action was taken by the supervisors on the understanding that the proceeds of the street fair and carnival this year are to be devoted to the improvement of the roads leading into the city. There appears to be some misunderstanding in certain quarters as to what disposition is to be made of the proceeds of this year's street fair and carnival. By some of the officials of the Carnival company should feel that they are not needed or in the kindergarten. He did not advocate it had been stated that the money will be devoted to the betterment of the county roads leading into the city, while members of the city council and other municipal officers were under the impression that the money was to be turned into the Lower

Broadway paving fund. "Unfess the money from this year's street fair and carnival goes towards the Broadway paving fund there may be no street fair," said a member of the city council yesterday. "The granting of the use of the streets for the carnival rests with the city council, and as I understand it, this permission will not be forthcoming unless there is some guarantee that the proceeds of the carnival be devoted towards paving

Brondway. It is up to the officers of the Street Fair and Carnival company to set this matter right."

SOLID COMFORT

Is Assured When You Visit the John Robinson Shows.

The John Robinson Shows, one of the oldest and best known tented organizations in this country, are announcing their date for two performances on June 20, While they have ever been in the van of caterers to showgoers, their offering this season promises to outshine any of their former efforts and the bewildering array of imported and domestic talent will contribute to a program of rare excellence. The cause of Rheumatism is a sour, acid condition of the blood, brought about by indigestion, chronic constipation, and the accumulation in the system of refuse matter which the natural eliminative organs have failed to carry out, This refuse or waste matter ferments and sours, generating uric acid which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and Rheumatism gets possession of the system. One may also be born with a predisposition or tendency to Rheumatism, because like all blood diseases it can be transmitted from parent to child. The aches and pains of the disease are only symptoms which you may scatter or relieve with liniments, plasters, blisters, etc., or deaden with opiates. As soon, however, as such treatment is left off or there is any exposure to cold or dampness, or after an attack of indigestion or constipation, the wandering pains, sore muscles and joints, and tender places on the flesh return, and the sufferer finds that he has merely checked the symptoms while the real cause of the disease remains in the blood. Rheumatism can never be cured while the blood remains saturated with irritating, painproducing uric acid poison. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by driving the cause out of the blood. It thoroughly cleanses the blood and renovates the circulation by neutralizing the acids and expelling all foreign matter from the system. S. S. S. stimulates and invigorates the blood so that instead of a weak, sour stream, constantly depositing acrid and corrosive matter in the muscles, joints, nerves and bones, the body is soothed and nourished by rich, health-sustaining blood, which completely and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. is composed of roots, herbs and barks which possess both purifying and tonic properties-just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism.
