MUZZLE ON THIRD EDICT

Restraining Order Granted Against Mayor's Dog Proclamation.

GREEVY STILL FRIEND OF TIGE

Attacks the Manifesto on New Grounds and Succeeds in Getting it Held Up for White.

A legal attack upon Mayor Dahlman's third dog muzzling ordinance has been started by M. J. Greevy through John O. Telsor, his attorney. The attack is made by means of supplemental proceedings in the second case which was decided adversely to the mayor by Judge Burton about a week ago. Permission from the court has been secured to file a supplemental petition based upon entirely new grounds.

Judge Troup issued a restraining order Monday afternoon to prevent the enforcement of the proclamation until a hearing is had.

The order is made returnable before Judge Burton Saturday.

The new petition alleges that the authority vested in the mayor by the ordinance to determine when an epidemic of rabies exists is a judicial function and the mayor's decision can be appealed from. If this is true, it is asserted the mayor should have held an open hearing, at which both sides could be represented. Mr. Greevy sets up that he asked the right to be heard before the mayor, but was denied that right. As there is no record of any proceedings before the mayor it is claimed no appeal can be taken, and hence the legal right of the plaintiff to go into the courts is denied. The court is asked permanently to enjoin the enforcement of the terms of the proclamation until a formal hearing before Mayor Dahlman, open to those interested, is had, and a new proclamation issued if the result of that hearing convinces the mayor conditions warrant a new decree.

The original case was decided purely upon the question whether or not the referendum law had been legally adopted. Judge Burton decided it had been. The other question raised in the original petition were not settled and are again raised in the supplemental petition. It is contended that a dog becomes personal property after a license has been issued for it and the destruction of them under the proclamation is the taking of property without due process of law. It is also contended the city enters into a contract with the owner of a dog when it issues a license and cannot break that contract by any new conditions such as requiring dogs to wear muzzles.

WILD SCARE OVER WILD REPORT

Some One HOLLERS Mad Dog and Everybody Starts.

The police station was thrown into excitement Monday noon when a mad dog scare loomed up threateningly to require a good share of the force in a hunt for a roving dog foaming at the mouth and snapping at objects in passing. A message was received the other day from Mrs. George W. Kelley, 348 Corby street, saying her dog was acting strangely, but that she did not want to kill it until she was sure it was mad. Captain Mostyn advised her to take no chances, but have the animal tied up securely to await developments.

Monday noon there was no question about the dog's illness, and it was discovered, the story goes, at its repo, biting the kennel and foaming at the mouth. "Unmistakably mad," the police were requested to send a man to kill it, when suddenly it disappeared and then the whole force was asked to give chase so that it might not run wild over the city.

It was then matters took a serious aspect at the station and arrangements were being made hurriedly to gather every possible policeman to start after the dog, when the welcome news came over the telephone that instead of having disappeared up the street the dog had merely gone inside its kennel and was there still securely tied.

Officer Thomas arrived at the scene and put an end to the animal's existence.

EAST THINKS PANIC IS DUE

Cannot Understand Why West Peoples in Surviving Wall Street Gambling Breaks.

"The east is looking for a turn in the tide of affairs and cannot understand why it does not come," said E. H. Sprague, president of the Omaha Rubber Goods company, who has been in New York for the last two weeks. "I talked with some pretty big men in my line of business and they have been looking for some time for a break in the business of the west because of the fluctuation and depression of stocks in the east and they don't understand it."

"Of course, I had to tell them that it was great and glorious west was in fine shape and prospering and not dependent upon any stock fluctuations in the east; that we had great prospects and did not propose to be scared."

The presidents of some of the larger concerns admitted their business was far ahead of anything they had ever had and that they were faring behind on their orders than ever before, having reached a stage where they were practically not looking for new business until they could clean up on the old.

Mr. Sprague played golf on a couple of the noted golf courses of the east on which immense sums of money had been spent,
