

HOME NOTES AND SOCIAL GOSSIP

NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY

Much Coming and Going Among the Fashionable Set.

SUNDAY EVENING QUIET AT CLUBS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brandeis receive Sunday evening in honor of betrothal of Miss Sloman and Mr. Kopald.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Brandeis received Sunday evening from 8 to 10 o'clock for their niece Miss Gladys Sloman of Detroit, Mich., who has been spending the winter with them, and whose engagement was recently announced to Mr. Will Kopald.

The rooms were elaborately decorated with a variety of cut flowers, most of them being sent by friends of Miss Sloman. Preceding the reception, a family dinner was served which included Miss Sloman, Mr. Kopald, the families of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brandeis, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kopald, parents of Mr. Will Kopald. The table had artistic decorations of hearts.

Three large floral hearts were joined together with a gold chain, two of them were made of bridal wreath, intermingled with a few red carnations and pierced with gold arrows. The third was entirely of red flowers. These formed the centerpiece, while the plate cards were heart shaped and faintly designed. At the reception that followed, in the receiving line were Miss Sloman, Mr. Will Kopald, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Brandeis, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Kopald, Mr. Louis Kopald. Assisting at the punch bowl were Miss Ruth Brandeis and Miss Helen Cohn, and in the rooms, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Brandeis and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cohn. About 100 guests were present during the evening.

At the Clubs.

Among those entertaining at supper at the Country club Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Westbrook, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baldrige and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Remington had supper together.

Mr. William Hensford entertained Miss Mary Lee McShane, Miss Ada Kirkendall and Mr. Glenn Wharton.

With Mr. and Mrs. Francis Kirgan was Master Morris Brogan.

Mrs. E. H. Sprague entertained at supper her nephew, Robert Crane of Chicago. Covers were laid for ten.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Hull entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Galou.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wheeler entertained Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Cowgill.

Mr. Fred Hamilton gave the largest dinner of the evening in honor of Mrs. Robinson of Little Rock, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns.

Smaller dinners were given by E. M. Fairfield, who had four guests; Mrs. E. T. Lindsay, three; Mr. Swobe, five; E. L. Saunders, four; Mr. Warren, two; E. V. Lewis, two, and T. Lemist, two.

The following with guests had supper at the Field club Sunday evening: Dr. W. J. Madbury, two guests; Arthur Storz, two; A. I. Creigh, two; J. H. Conrad, three; F. Engsbury, two; W. D. Thomas, two; Plamie Allen, two; Samuel Rees, Jr., two; D. H. C. Sumner, two; E. Johnson, two; G. J. Ingwersen, two; C. B. Bogue, three; L. J. Smider, three; F. M. Hoel, three; W. W. Incebe, two; E. F. Epeneter, two; De Lemos, two; E. E. Brandt, two; E. C. Cobb, two; H. B. Bunch, two; Charles E. Foer, two; Paul Burleigh, two; Robert H. Manley, six; William Chambers, two, and T. P. Kelly, two.

Brownell Hall Reception.

A charming affair of Saturday was the reception given in the evening from 8 to 10 o'clock at Brownell Hall by the faculty in honor of the graduating class. The rooms were profusely decorated with American beauties and meteor roses. Dean Becker, Miss Macrae and Miss Taylor received the guests in the first parlor and Miss Stuart and the graduates in the blue parlor. All of the seniors were gowned in white and wore wreaths of white daisies, the class flower, in their hair. There were about 30 guests present during the evening.

Prospective Events.

The wedding of Miss Georgia Kennard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Kennard, to Mr. John Cayton Goodwin of New Castle, Ind., will be solemnized the latter part of June at the home of the bride's parents, 124 Dodge street. Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Kennard's father, the wedding will be very quiet; no invitations have been issued and only the relatives and intimate friends will be invited. There will be attendants. The young

GOWNS FOR THE JUNE BRIDE

More Grace in the Wedding Dress Than Formerly.

SATIN OR SHEER STUFF IN FAVOR

Long, Simple Lines Still the Effect Sought—Long Sleeve is Preferable, but Elbow Length is Much Used.

This is the traditional month of weddings, but weddings are scattered plentifully all along throughout the year and there is no month, save perhaps the proverbially unlucky Maytime, when wedding chignons are not of interest to womankind.

The wedding gown proper is, of course, absorbingly interesting only to the prospective bride, and, after all, it clings rather more closely to established conventions than most of our modes. It has grown more clinging, more graceful, more simple as materials have increasingly taken on those qualities of suppleness and softness, but certain canons of taste established for the wedding gowns of long ago still claim allegiance from the fastidious woman.

The smart wedding gown, matter of excellence is satin, a satin delicately soft, light of weight, compared with the handsome satins of earlier days, but a satin for all that. To be sure the wedding gown of filmy sheer stuff, such as chiffon cloth, silk museline or net is permissible today and is chosen by many youthful brides, particularly for summer weddings and informal weddings.

A gown of this kind costs quite as much, probably more than a satin gown, for it requires layers of chiffon underlining, much handwork and trimming, while the satin gown is but little trimmed and relies upon line, draping and quality for its effect. However, the sheer wedding gown can be put to more general service after the wedding.

Shades of our sainted grandmothers! Have the days of romantic sentiment quite passed by us? Today the average bride, if she is of moderate means, does not lay her wedding gown away in tissue paper and lavender to yellow peacefully and at some far off day stir faint sentimental wonder in the breasts of granddaughters.

Not she. She whacks the train off, rips out the guipure, throws aside the tulle blossoms, and presto changes. A charming evening gown good for two seasons, with proper care and freshening.

As has been said, the sheer wedding gown lends itself to this treatment, but for the formal wedding and for the bride who gives no thought to her gown's tomorrow there is nothing so lovely as a beautiful simple satin.

The first principle of the successful wedding gown is that its silhouette should be simple. By rights, all brides should be slender and litely, wearing draped gowns of fine material, simple lines and clinging folds, leaving the enveloping veil to soften the outlines.

For a good figure some form of softly draped princess robe is perhaps the most charming type of wedding gown, and this great dressmaker strongly favors these lines. The empire tendencies of recent seasons have been reflected in wedding gowns and some very lovely brides gowns have been made with the shortened waist line which is usually described as semi-empire.

These robes are in themselves graceful and picturesque, but many artists say that they are not so effective under a veil as a robe defining the natural waist lines and curves—that they tend to make the general silhouette a trifle separate and broken. Several June brides whose gowns we have seen have disregarded this ruling and have big armholes and draped sleeves in their wedding gowns, but while the gowns in themselves are lovely, it is extremely doubtful whether the wearers will look so well under the veils as they would look in more clinging, curve defining gowns.

A bridal gown made recently for a European princess by one of the greatest French makers illustrates excellently the point in regard to simplicity of outline and grace of drapery. Some makers object to any horizontal trimmings on the bottom of the wedding gown on the ground that it detracts from the apparent height and, in consequence, from the desired effect of slenderness; but if a bride has sufficient skirt length this double bounce of lace—so straight and so draped in tiny sprays of orange blossoms—is an attractive trimming.

If the skirt length will not stand cutting a perfectly plain, gracefully cut skirt or one with some flat, inconspicuous bottom trimming is desirable in the satin wedding gown. To cut and drape a princess model demands skill, but nothing is lovelier for a bride than such a gown if it is cleverly made. The fishy folds of fine dotted net laid from shoulder to bust between the satin and the lace of the guipure are graceful and becoming and the simple sleeve is modish without being extreme.

The elbow sleeve has made its way into the bridal gown, which for a long time retained the long, transparent cuff; but recently indications have been seen of a return to the long wrisped, transparent sleeve, and one of the most chic of Parisian brides this season wore such sleeves fitting the arm quite closely below short draped oversleeves. The slipper of white satin with a little knot of lace and orange blossoms in the toe is the usual footwear for the bride, and, though any woman who possesses a lovely real lace veil is likely to wear it, nothing is quite so becoming as the ampler veil of tulle.

A California Tour.

A pleasantly appointed trip to Los Angeles, including the principal points of interest en route, is being planned by Miss Elizabeth P. Allan, in a special car, leaving Omaha on June 22, returning at the end of three weeks with those who cannot remain longer.

A tour has been outlined and expenses approximated, including all necessary outlay for side trips, hotels, etc., for three or seven weeks.

Liberal stopovers on route or in California, if desired. Address Elizabeth P. Allan, 262 Cass St., or 124 Farnam St.

NOTABLE MEN FOR BELLEVUE

LaFollette, Gonsalus and Father Daxley Expected to Speak at Summer Conference.

Sentiment Put Aside.

Have the days of romantic sentiment quite passed by us? Today the average bride, if she is of moderate means, does not lay her wedding gown away in tissue paper and lavender to yellow peacefully and at some far off day stir faint sentimental wonder in the breasts of granddaughters.

Not she. She whacks the train off, rips out the guipure, throws aside the tulle blossoms, and presto changes. A charming evening gown good for two seasons, with proper care and freshening.

As has been said, the sheer wedding gown lends itself to this treatment, but for the formal wedding and for the bride who gives no thought to her gown's tomorrow there is nothing so lovely as a beautiful simple satin.

The first principle of the successful wedding gown is that its silhouette should be simple. By rights, all brides should be slender and litely, wearing draped gowns of fine material, simple lines and clinging folds, leaving the enveloping veil to soften the outlines.

For a good figure some form of softly draped princess robe is perhaps the most charming type of wedding gown, and this great dressmaker strongly favors these lines. The empire tendencies of recent seasons have been reflected in wedding gowns and some very lovely brides gowns have been made with the shortened waist line which is usually described as semi-empire.

These robes are in themselves graceful and picturesque, but many artists say that they are not so effective under a veil as a robe defining the natural waist lines and curves—that they tend to make the general silhouette a trifle separate and broken. Several June brides whose gowns we have seen have disregarded this ruling and have big armholes and draped sleeves in their wedding gowns, but while the gowns in themselves are lovely, it is extremely doubtful whether the wearers will look so well under the veils as they would look in more clinging, curve defining gowns.

A bridal gown made recently for a European princess by one of the greatest French makers illustrates excellently the point in regard to simplicity of outline and grace of drapery. Some makers object to any horizontal trimmings on the bottom of the wedding gown on the ground that it detracts from the apparent height and, in consequence, from the desired effect of slenderness; but if a bride has sufficient skirt length this double bounce of lace—so straight and so draped in tiny sprays of orange blossoms—is an attractive trimming.

If the skirt length will not stand cutting a perfectly plain, gracefully cut skirt or one with some flat, inconspicuous bottom trimming is desirable in the satin wedding gown. To cut and drape a princess model demands skill, but nothing is lovelier for a bride than such a gown if it is cleverly made. The fishy folds of fine dotted net laid from shoulder to bust between the satin and the lace of the guipure are graceful and becoming and the simple sleeve is modish without being extreme.

The elbow sleeve has made its way into the bridal gown, which for a long time retained the long, transparent cuff; but recently indications have been seen of a return to the long wrisped, transparent sleeve, and one of the most chic of Parisian brides this season wore such sleeves fitting the arm quite closely below short draped oversleeves. The slipper of white satin with a little knot of lace and orange blossoms in the toe is the usual footwear for the bride, and, though any woman who possesses a lovely real lace veil is likely to wear it, nothing is quite so becoming as the ampler veil of tulle.

A California Tour. A pleasantly appointed trip to Los Angeles, including the principal points of interest en route, is being planned by Miss Elizabeth P. Allan, in a special car, leaving Omaha on June 22, returning at the end of three weeks with those who cannot remain longer.

A tour has been outlined and expenses approximated, including all necessary outlay for side trips, hotels, etc., for three or seven weeks.

Liberal stopovers on route or in California, if desired. Address Elizabeth P. Allan, 262 Cass St., or 124 Farnam St.

W. B. REDUSO CORSETS

Erect Form 748

For Summer Wear

Is an excellent model for well developed figures. It subdues abdominal prominence and rounds the figure into graceful lines. Made of white batiste. Trimmed across top with lace and ribbon. Hose supporters at front and hips.

Sizes 19 to 30. Price, $1.50

Erect Form 711

For Summer Wear

Is a corset for average figures. Has medium bust and long hip. Made of white batiste. Hose supporters on front and sides. Trimmed across top with lace and ribbon. Sizes 18 to 30. Price, $1.00

Norm 404

For Summer Wear

Will fit any slender or average figure. Long above the waist which it defines very distinctly, showing a perfectly straight line down the front of the figure. Made of white batiste. Trimmed with lace and ribbon. Hose supporters front and sides.

Sizes 18 to 30. Price, $1.00

The W. B. Reduso Corset

Is a boon for large women—the ideal garment for over-developed figures requiring special restraint. It not only restrains the tendency to over-fatness, but it moulds the over-developed proportions into those pleasing, graceful outlines, hitherto thought to be attainable only by slender figures. The particular feature of this model is the support of the abdomen and hips, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

Reduso Style 750 for tall well-developed figures. Made of a durable cotton in white or drab. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 22 to 36. Price, $3.

Reduso Style 760 for short well-developed figures. Made of white and drab cotton. Hose supporters front and sides. Sizes 24 to 36. Price, $3.

ON SALE EVERYWHERE. WINGGARTEN BROS., MFG. 377-9 Broadway New York

Norm 407

For Summer Wear

Is a splendid corset for medium figures, pleasingly free from any bulky effect common to previous models of this type. Medium, high bust and deep hip, ending in an unboned iron extension. Made of white batiste. Hose supporters front and sides. Trimmed with lace and ribbon. Sizes 19 to 30. Price, $1.50

WORK OF THE CLUB WOMEN

Mrs. Page Says Spring District Meetings Are Unpopular.

Y. W. PLANS EDUCATIONAL WORK. Miss Kate McHugh Will Instruct Literature Classes—Fine Arts Society Loans Slides for Art Study.

The educational committee of the Young Women's Christian association has already planned several good things for next fall's classes. Miss Kate McHugh has consented to take charge of the literature classes, and the usual classes in millinery and dressmaking will be held. Some languages as there may be demand, elocution, English for foreign speaking girls and several other things have been planned. The Society of Fine Arts has offered the association the use of its stereopticon slides in the study of the art of the past.

The library has offered the use of its lantern. General disappointment was evident at the rooms of the Young Women's Christian association when it became known that the bids on the contract for the new building were over $30,000 in excess of the available funds. The building committee hastily revised the plans, however, and they are now in the hands of the contractors. The contract will probably be let very soon unless material changes in the plans for the departments. Some of the beauty of the elevation will have to be sacrificed and the tile floors planned for and some other such features will have to be given up, but it is hoped to keep intact all the original ideas of gymnasium, bath, lockers and swimming pool, besides the school of domestic science, offices, class rooms, lunch and rest rooms and auditorium.

The Sunday afternoon gospel meetings have closed for the summer, Sunday, June 9, having been the last. The gymnasium classes have all closed for the summer and Miss Florence Dennison, physical director, has returned to her home in Illinois. Miss Dennison will not return to Omaha in the fall, having made other arrangements.

The Fellowship club of the association held its last meeting of the spring on June 8.

The triumphant result of forty years of earnest effort, devoted entirely to the science of pure foods, is

DR. PRICE'S WHEAT FLAKE CEREAL FOOD

Its superiority over other Cereal Foods cannot be questioned. It is the kind of food that strengthens and assists in establishing healthy action of the bowels.

10 cents a package. For sale by Grocers.

It was a children's party, and an altogether good time was enjoyed by all. The Italian young women of the M. E. Smith factory are meeting two evenings each week after work for the study of English under the direction of the association's extension secretary.

The following bulletin has been issued regarding dates of the various summer conferences of the Young Women's Christian association:

Pacific Coast—Capitola, Cal., March 29, April 10.
Southern—Asheville, N. C., June 7-17.
Eastern—Silver Bay, N. Y., June 21, July 1.
Western Student—Cascade, Colo., August 2, September 1.
Central City—Lake Geneva, Wis., August 16-28.

Northwest—Beaside, Ore., August 30, September 10.
Any young women interested in association work will be welcome at any of these conferences. For further information inquire at the rooms. Why not get up a big delegation to go to Lake Geneva, August 16-28? It would be an ideal place for a summer outing. More about this later.

Mrs. Page Writes Letter. Commenting upon the convention of the clubs of the first district of the Nebraska Federation held at Lincoln last month Mrs. W. E. Page of Syracuse, general federation secretary for the Nebraska federation, said in a letter recently:

Colorado Gives Mrs. Decker Gavel. The delegation generally seemed very much interested in the meeting. All real-estate work was handled very wisely, taking the meeting upon short notice, but Lincoln, like Omaha, was perfectly willing to accept the part of the big sister when it was necessary. Omaha has entertained the second district federation twice.

It is a fact, however, the district meeting will not be popular as a spring meeting, because of the hot weather. The district meeting failed to change the state meeting to a biennial. A fall meeting in each district would greatly relieve our state officers, especially our state president, who could then make the circuit. Now that each district is holding annual sessions the enthusiasm would be amply sustained for the biennial.

The amendment changing the state convention to biennial gatherings has twice been voted down, but a sentiment is growing stronger in its favor.

At the council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs held last week at Jamestown the Colorado federation presented Mrs. Decker with a handsome gavel. It is made of ebony decorated with silver, the pattern of the column, the Colorado federation's flower. An amethyst is set in the end of the handle, and the insignia of the general federation on one side of the gavel and that of the Colorado federation on the other, with the inscription on a ribbon running round the handle: "Presented to Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs by the Colorado Federation of Women's Clubs, June, 1907."

Club Women Encourage Schools. The Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs has arranged for an exhibit to be held at Tifton, Ga., November 8 and 9, from the workshops of the industrial departments of the model schools at Danieleville, Waters district, Cass Station and Floyd county. The federation offers a prize of $50 for the best exhibit as a stimulus.

SPECIAL NOTICE. To the Public for June 12th on the Steamboat Omaha. The funeral directors and undertakers, assembled here in convention, will take a ride on the Steamer Omaha. They have chartered her to be exclusive for Wednesday, June 12. General public not admitted only by invitation.

See Want Ads always bring results.

WHEAT ONLY NEEDS HEAT

Grain Promises Heavy Crop, Says Spens of Burlington.

WARM WEATHER WILL DO REST. After Special Tour of Nebraska and Part of Kansas He Makes Prediction of Good Sized Crop.

"The prospects as far as wheat is concerned are much better than we expected to find them," said C. E. Spens, general freight agent of the Burlington, who has returned from a tour of Nebraska and a part of Kansas in a special train. He was accompanied on the trip by O. L. Dickson, assistant superintendent of transportation; W. W. Johnson, assistant general freight agent; Charles T. Neal, grain agent of the Burlington at Kansas City and Division Freight Agents J. J. Cox and H. L. Lewis. The trip included the high line as far as Elwood, the Oberlin and St. Francis branches in Kansas and the Nebraska lines from Holdrege to Tobias and from Tobias to Lincoln via York.

"On the St. Francis and Oberlin branches, while the estimate is probably for not more than twelve to fifteen bushels to the acre as against eighteen to twenty bushels last year, there is such larger acreage, enough so we believe that the balance will equal that of last year.

"In Nebraska, while as a rule the straw is short, at the same time it seemed to be the unanimous opinion of the larger grain dealers that with some warm weather during the next few weeks wheat will develop surprisingly and will yield but four or five bushels less per acre than last year. We have plenty of rain all over the state and all we now need is warm weather.

"We also made an estimate that approximately 45 per cent of the old corn is still in the hands of the farmers and the grain men of the state."

OFFICIALS CONSIDER LAWS

Passenger Men Will Go to Chicago to Wrestle with the Problems.

An important meeting of the passenger officials of western railroads will be held in Chicago Tuesday at 11 a. m. to consider the questions involved in connection with

OATH TO STICK TO WAGON

Wielander Makes Pledge to Abstain and Children Are Returned Home.

Lilla, Dora, Mildred and Clifford Wielander have been allowed by Judge Kennedy of the juvenile court to return to their home at 404 Hamilton street, and Mr. Wielander, their father, has taken a solemn oath in open court forever to keep firm on such the wagon wagon. The order of the court was made after Mr. Wielander had promised before witnesses that he would never take another drink and the juvenile authorities have been directed to keep an eye on him to see that he carries out his promise.

Complaint was made in the case on the ground that the children were neglected and were not given proper parental care. At the hearing it developed drink was apparently at the bottom of the trouble, so Judge Kennedy exacted the pledge before allowing the children to return home.

Ralph Piper, one of fifteen children in the Piper family, was sent to the industrial school at Kearney Monday morning on a charge of incorrigibility. He was accused of stealing some diamonds from Mrs. Clements, Twenty-fifth and I streets, South Omaha, with whom he was living. Ralph broke into sobs when sentence was pronounced and begged not to be sent to Kearney. Several of his brothers have preceded him to the industrial school. One of them, Ray Piper, escaped from there not long ago. He was caught by Chief Strigg of South Omaha, but gave him the slip while the chief was taking him to the jail and has not been seen since. Of the fifteen children in the family twelve are living and three dead.

If you have anything to trade advertise in the For Exchange columns of The Bee Want Ad page.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. By its aid thousands of women have passed this great crisis in perfect safety and without pain. Sold at $1.00 per bottle by druggists. Our book of priceless value to all women sent free. Address: ARABFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

SO CLEAR YOU CAN READ THROUGH IT

JAPROSE TOILET SOAP

ITS FIVE STRONGEST POINTS ARE

1. It is twice the size and less than one-half the cost of any brand of really good transparent soap.
2. It is transparent—so clear that you can read through it.
3. It lathers freely in all kinds of water. For use in hard water its strongest point.
4. Women say there is nothing equal to it for washing the hair.
5. Made from the whitest, purest and best vegetable oils—that you can eat.

Kirk's Own Process Japrose Toilet Soap CHICAGO Established 1829