MAYOR DEFENDS HIS ACTION

Better to Give Peddler Permit Than Make Him Beg.

WAGGONER SIDES WITH DAHLMAN

License Inspector Expresses His Opinion of Democratic Councilmen Who Try to Embarrass Democratic Mayor.

The resolution passed by the city council Tuesday night has created considerable discussion at the city hall, and the mayor and license inspector are saying what they think about members of a democratic council who will try to put a democratic mayor "in the hole," by resolution. Incidentally, said the members of the council who voted for the resolution, an ignorance of city affairs in a manner which will do them more harm than good. License Inspector Waggoner said:

"If the councilmen who voted for this resolution had any knowledge of the municipal affairs as men in their position should have, the resolution would never have passed, for they would have gone to the office of the city comptroller and from the monthly statements of this office, which are passed by them twelve times a year, would have secured just the information asked for in this resolution. During the year, as shown by the last report, there have been a dozen lunch wagon licenses issued for which $450 has been received. A deposit of $61 has been made on five other licenses and $20 in due on two. Licenses have been recently granted for which $90 has been paid. When I went into the office there were two lunch wagons paying license and it has required some work to get the business where it is."

Mayor is More Emphatic.

Mayor Dahlman is more emphatic in his remarks on the subject. He said: "Yes, I have issued permits and I will issue them whenever I think it for the best interests of the parties concerned, which are the city and the applicant. It is better to let a man support himself than to have him supported by charity. Frequently some men unable to do manual labor are 'taken to $5 or $10 by a friend and he buys a few notions and other things at wholesale, hoping to support himself by hawking them about town. He can't afford to spend the money for a license or he could not buy the goods. Then I give him a permit, and if he fails to make enough money to pay for his license before that permit runs out I will give him another permit and I'll keep it up as long as the man can keep himself out of the pauper class by such work."

Another Plan Proposed.

"Again, there are many people who have a little money and they want a license, but cannot afford to pay the fee in a lump sum. I have issued permits on such cases, to take an installment of the total fee, issue a permit for thirty days and at the end of that time collect another installment, and continue to do so until the entire fee is paid. This is business and it is also a favor to the man who is trying to make an honest living."

It was suggested the trouble arose over a lunch wagon operator who had complained that a rival was running on a permit, while he was compelled to pay the fee. Investigation showed that the rival was one of the men paying the fee on installments, but this fact was not mentioned to the mayor, he saying he "would see his councilman."

"I wish I had the name of that lunch man," exclaimed the mayor when he heard of the visit. "If I knew where his stand is operated he would find it to his advantage to attend strictly to business rather than try to make trouble for less fortunate men."

REALTY MEN TO ZENITH CITY

Omaha Real Estate Exchange Invited to Duluth by Organization There.

An invitation of the Duluth Real Estate exchange to visit Duluth with representatives of a number of other cities August 2, was accepted by the Omaha Real Estate exchange Wednesday and five members will be appointed to make the trip if that many can be found who are able to go. The Duluth organization will send the visitors out to see the immense electric power plant located there, the second largest in the world; also the big iron ore banks, the largest in the world. The visitors will be entertained otherwise. Similar invitations have been extended to the real estate exchanges of Kansas City, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, besides other eastern organizations.

A communication was read at the meeting of the exchange from M. A. Alexander of Detroit, asking for immediate information as to the possibility of getting a location for a large ladies' ready-to-wear garment store in the heart of the retail district.

A telegram from President Bestwick, on the trade excursion, dated Ansonia, June 8, was read, as follows: "Finest ever. Boatmen hard. Harry makes great hits with the girls."

County Commissioner Ure addressed the exchange on "Mexico," to which country he recently made a visit.

PRATTS TALK BUT THAT'S ALL

Colonel on His Farm, Wife in Boston and Still in Court.

General John C. Cowin, attorney for Colonel James H. Pratt in the divorce suit, Wednesday afternoon emphatically denied the rumor which has been current that Colonel and Mrs. Pratt had settled their differences and had gone to Boston together.

"There is absolutely no truth to the report," said General Cowin. "Mr. and Mrs. Pratt had a conference the other day, but it amounted to nothing. Mrs. Pratt is in Boston, but Colonel Pratt is on his farm near Bennington. The divorce suit will be tried, but probably not until next fall. The preliminary motions will probably come up sooner."

HAMILTON ON PRICE OF GAS

Says Legislature Must Lengthen Franchise Limit Before City Gets New Gas.

Frank T. Hamilton, president of the Omaha Gas company, returned Wednesday from New York, where he had gone to meet his sister who had been in Europe for some time. Mr. Hamilton left Omaha before the latest move was made by the city council for dollar gas and said that he had not taken the matter up in any form with the eastern stockholders of the company.

"We are willing to submit a proposition for dollar gas whenever the state legislature decides to give the city council the right to grant a franchise for over ten years, which is now the limit," said he. "We want to do the best we can, but the city will have to grow more before dollar gas will pay in Omaha, and in our opinion no one can afford to give dollar gas with only a ten-year franchise. We will be willing to submit the question to the people if the next legislature will give the right for a longer franchise. I do not believe any other responsible company would come to Omaha and install a plant to give dollar gas on a ten-year franchise. It would take it at least seven years to duplicate the main and properties of the present plant and that would leave it but from three to five years at the most in which to get its money back. It would be a hard proposition to sell bonds under those circumstances."

"The proposition is fair today with gas at $1.15 per 1,000 feet. The price of every thing is advancing which is used in running a large gas company. Material has greatly increased in cost as well as the cost of labor—everything is advanced and still we are getting less for our gas."

"Omaha does not consume the amount of gas that do many other cities which have reduced the price. The large manufacturing interests and the packing houses do not use gas in any such quantities as do some of the other cities of the size of Omaha. In consideration of reducing the price of gas at Kansas City a thirty-year franchise was granted in case the company used artificial gas."

Mayor Dahlman has decided to submit the people in his effort to force his "dollar" gas ordinance into existence.

"There is no hope of co-operation on the part of the council," he said, "therefore I have made up my mind to ask the voters to fight their own battle. It will be necessary to get 15 per cent of the voters to sign a petition to submit the ordinance at the next general election."

NO PLANS FOR WAR WITH JAPS

Order for Troops to Take Heavy Clothing Does Not Mean That.

"Not the slightest significance can be attached to the fact that the Thirtieth United States infantry, which is about to depart for the Philippines, is ordered to pack up its winter clothing with the view of taking this heavy raiment part of the way with the regiment," said an army official at Department of the Missouri headquarters. "When the order was issued from Washington directing the transfer of the regiment to the Philippines last December it was directed that the heavy winter clothing of the command and overcoats of the men should be securely packed and taken to San Francisco and stored there until the return of the regiment from the Philippines. This precaution was made necessary because the regiment was ordered to a tropical climate and would have no need for the heavier clothing."

CHANGES MADE AT BELLEVUE

New Trustees and Officers Elected and Faculty Will Be Some Different.

The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred on Reva Warren B. More of Santa Barbara, Cal., and John L. Stuart of Hang Chow, China, by the board of trustees of Bellevue college Tuesday.

The board decided to make certain changes in the faculty which it believes will be beneficial to the interests of the college. The making of these changes was placed in the hands of the executive committee and will be effected later. C. M. Winters, head of the college committee, having been re-elected Tuesday, when Gov. A. S. C. Clarke, D. D., was elected secretary and Rev. Edwin Jenks, D. D., first vice president. John A. Wharton and Dr. W. S. Gibbs were elected trustees, as was also Rev. E. B. A. McBride, to succeed Rev. T. Y. Moore, D. D., moved away.

The trustees canvassed the affairs of the institution thoroughly, finding them in an encouraging condition, requiring, of course, some attention in order to start the college off on another year of successful work. A very active campaign has been laid out by the board in conjunction with President Wadsworth. The administration of the president was cordially commended.

CHILD LABOR LAW A STUDY

New Statute Matter of Interest to Employers Who Will Hire Children.

Public schools close Thursday and with the advent of the summer vacation employers of child labor are greatly interested in the terms of the law governing the employment of children. That law is especially true of the South Omaha packing houses, where many boys apply for positions during the summer.

Inquiries are now being made from officers charged with the enforcement of the law asking what steps must be taken by employers to secure required help without violating the provisions of the law. At this time such questions are more easily asked than answered, as the officers are not fully advised of the intent of the legislature. As soon as Governor Sheldon returns from his western trip he will confer with these officers and the duties of each will be defined. One thing that many a copy of the law is the only answer given inquirers.

BOARD CAN BUY SYNDICATE

South Omaha Park Commissioners Win Before Redick.

COURT REFUSES AN INJUNCTION

Property Owners Who Sought to Prevent Purchase of Tract Do Not Indicate Future Action.

Another of the South Omaha injunction suits was decided in district court Wednesday morning when Judge Redick refused to issue an injunction to prevent the Park board from buying what is known as Syndicate park for park purposes. The restraining order, which has tied up the board since early in the spring, was dissolved. The property owners interested did not indicate whether they would carry the case to the supreme court or not.

The controversy is among the partisans of several tracts which were offered to the board. Syndicate park was selected in preference to the Cassidy tract and people living near the latter endeavored to have the action of the board set aside. The principal points upon which the case was fought were allegations that the Park board was not a legal body. The plaintiff contended the law conferring upon the district judges power to appoint the South Omaha Park board was unconstitutional on the grounds it gave executive functions to judicial officers. Judge Redick held there was no provision in the constitution to prevent this if the legislature saw fit to do it. It was also contended the duty of appointing the board was not mandatory on the judges and they could not be compelled to exercise it if they refused. Judge Redick decided the mere fact the judges could not be compelled to exercise this function would not invalidate their acts if they were willing to make the appointments.

The charges of fraud and excessive price made in the petition were abandoned by the plaintiff, not being sustained by the evidence.

Upholds City Council.

The decision of Judge Kennedy upholds the South Omaha city council in its action so far as legality is concerned.

Under the decision the expenditure of $34,000 for four parks in the city will be complete. This is the close of a long chapter in municipal affairs and has caused much comment both favorable and bitterly unfavorable to the present city administration. The people of the east side in South Omaha at the time of the contest for the sites openly threatened to evict the entire city government and to join in a vigorous campaign for annexation if their rights in the matter were not preserved. They desired the purchase of the Cassidy tract. It is now hopeless. The parks bought are Syndicate park, $21,000, Dec's park, $4,000, block 35 in Corrigan place, $5,000 and the Patrick Hector tract for $4,000. The total expenditure is therefore $34,000 out of the $40,000 bonds voted. It is likely the mayor and clerk will issue the warrants within a day or two in settlement of the claims. There are many people who urge the proposition that the city paid too much for Syndicate park, and objections on one ground or another are presented on all the other tracts.

No matter how severe an attack of diarrhoea may be, Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy never fails to give relief.
