men at present. Figures on Sewers. Now that most of the legal obstacles are removed which have prevented the advance of the work on the sewers, the city defense that the death of the girl resulted engineer yesterday submitted figures to show exactly how the city stands financially on that much discussed proposition. The following are the estimates of Andrew Rosewater on part of the work now undertaken. The cost of the Mud creek main sewer, $144.250; the N street guich main sewer, $29,675; the Jetter creek sewer (in part), $26,160. The total was $210,096. His estimate made no mention of the Twenty-first street sewer for $8,000; Higland Park, $10,000; north branch of the N street gulch main sewer, $12,000 and part of Jetter creek sewer through district No. 17 for $15,840. These, added to the totals, increase them by $45,840, making a grand total of $25,985. An admitted advance of the cost of materials at 25 per cent makes another addition of $64,000. The estimated cost of the system quoted in reasonable figures is, according to the engineer, $319,935. Now the actual bids for all this work are as follows: Mud creek sewer, $166,179.58; Jetter creek, $46,905.94; N street gulch, $32,350.19; north branch N street gulch, $17,228.97; Twenty-first street, $7,215.62; Highland park, $12,021.95. This is a total of $280,902.26. There is on hand for sewer construction $325,000, as soon as the authorized bonds are sold. There will be $45,000 left in the fund. This may be used as extras not provided in the terms of the contract.

Y. M. C. A. Notes. Sunday will be Young Men's Christian association day in South Omaha, so will the days that follow, for that matter. Sunday morning the various church pulpits will be occupied by association representatives who will present the work and its needs. No appeal for money will be made at these services, nor at the one held in the evening. There will be no church services Sonday evening, but all will attend the servtees in the high school auditorium, where State Secretary Bailey will give an illustrated address again, representing the work and its needs and opportunities. The association male quartet will sing and the different ministers of the city will participate in the program of the evening meet-
