mission not to adopt any blanket rate. Members of the railroad commission state that they are well aware that the railroads do not wish to have any joint rates put in and their efforts thus far have been directed to keeping the commission from putting in any joint rates. They have argued against joint rates rather than to furnish facts to the commission. Members of the commission are complaining that the railroads will not give them information and one commissioner said today that the commission might have to arbitrarily establish a schedule of joint rates as an experiment in order to ascertain the facts on which to base a schedule.

At one of the recent hearings Commissioner Eaton called upon Attorney Hamlin of the Burlington railroad. Mr. Hamlin began by arguing against joint rates when Commissioner Eaton cut him off with the statement that the legislature had settled for the time the question of putting in a schedule of joint rates by ordering the commission to put them in and that in addressing the commission he must consider that question settled and should give the commission what facts he had. After some delay it was intimated to the commission that Mr. Hamlin had facts and figures bearing on the rate question in his pocket at the time, but not till he was practically commanded by the commission did he produce them. It took a like flat order to get the attorney for the Minneapolis & St. Louis to produce the contract between that road and others that have a joint rate agreement. But the commissioners complain that they are still in darkness as to the subject, with the pros pect of many weeks elapsing before they will be able to get the schedule formu-

Examine Tea Thousand Teachers.

June 26, 27 and 28 there will be 10,000 applicants for teachers' licenses examined in Iowa. This will be the largest examination during the year, and the great bulk of the teachers who have to pass examinations before being allowed to teach will be examined at that time. This will, furthermore, be bond of $25 each, while four others were the first large examination under the new locked up in the county jail. The man- state certificate law. It is claimed by the agement at the lake has announced that friends of the new law and those who were largely instrumental in getting the law passed that there is a systematic effort to make teachers everywhere over the state believe that under the new law it is almost impossible to pass the examination It is claimed that the effort has been made to make it appear that the scarcity of teachers in Iowa is largely due to the rigid examinations under the new law so that only a small per cent are able to pass the examinations. This impression has been given out over the state to such an extent that State Superintendent Riggs has found it necessary to tasue a statement denying that the examinations are more rigid than

Under the old law the State formerly. Board of Educational Examiners made up the questions that were to be used at the examinations by the county superintendents. Under the new law the State Board still makes up the list of questions to be asked, and it is claimed that they are no more rigid than before, and that the effort to give a false impression to the "wouldbo" teachers of the state is in the hope of making the new law unpopular in order to get it repealed Study Gravel Deposits. A careful study of the gravel deposits of lows will be made by the state geological lopartment during the coming summer. The first studies will be made in the northwestern section, where preliminary survey has already been made, and the investigation from there will cover the entire state.
