MUSICALS FOR MISS MUNCHOFF

Mr. and Mrs. John McShane Open Their Spacious Home for Elaborate Function, Gifted Omaha Girl Singing Program.

An elaborate function which stands conspicuous among all other social affairs of the season was the musical given Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John A. McShane for Miss Mary Munchoff, the Omaha girl who has become famous for her magnificent voice on the concert stage of both Europe and this country. The McShane home on West Farnam was an ideal place for such entertainment and ample to accommodate the 200 guests that were present. The decorations were lavish and have seldom been surpassed. The guests were as far as possible seated in the garden and here quantities of peonies, iris, gladioli and roses not only lent their charm but their fragrance. The seating space had been further extended by having the large verandas that surround the house screened and cleverly lighted by electricity, shaded under Japanese lanterns. The piano was placed half way between the living room and the reception hall. This arrangement made it possible for every one to face the singer from the beginning to the finish of this delightful program. Miss Eleanor Schels of Chicago, who was Miss Munchoff's accompanist, also delighted the guests present with several piano selections, and she also responded to several queries.

Price-Peters.
One of the pretty home weddings of Wednesday was that of Miss Orielle Katherine Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Price, to Mr. Joseph Waldo Peters, which took place at 2 o'clock. The bride's home at 324 Lafayette avenue, was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed in the parlor by Rev. E. R. Curry of Calvary Baptist church and the color scheme was green and white. A large canopy had been formed in the back yard of parasols and ferns among which were intermingled white carnations. Miss Estelle Brown played the Lohengrin wedding march. The bridesmaid was Miss Florence Price, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of white silk mull over which were sprays of pink rosebuds. Her bouquet was pink. Mrs. Harry Knapp was matron of honor and wore white silk mull over pink with trimmings of silk lace. She carried a large bouquet of pink roses. The bride's gown was beautiful in its simplicity, being of white Swiss mull trimmed with Valenciennes insertion and lace, and made princess. On her hair was a wreath of white roses and the bouquet she carried was of the same flower. The best man was Dr. Rodney Bliss, and Mr. Harry Knapp and Mr. Chester Benn served as ushers. A reception followed the ceremony, about eighty friends and relatives of the young couple being present. For the reception the dining room as well as the hall, where punch was served, were decorated in pink and green. Palms and ferns were placed around the rooms and clusters of pink roses and sprays held conspicuous places. Seated at the punch bowl were Miss Jackson and Miss Corinne Samuelson. Mr. and Mrs. Peters have gone for a wedding trip in the east, which will include Washington, Jamestown and New York City. They will be at home after August 1 in Omaha at 2112 North Twentieth street.

Skanez-Shaw.
Wednesday proved to be a popular day for weddings and one that was anticipated among them was that of Miss Lella Shaw and Mr. Richard J. Skanez, which took place in the evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Shaw, 1307 South Twentieth street. Rev. Dr. Dutton officiated. The ceremony was performed in the parlor where an effective canopy had been formed of parasols fringed with white carnations. As a background, palms and ferns were used, which were elevated so as to reach almost to the top of the canopy. There were also placed in prominent places around the room. The bride party entered to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Mrs. Reynolds of Council Bluffs, preceding which Miss Joe Lyman sang "O Promise Me." Miss Stella Shaw sister of the bride was maid of honor and was gowned in pink silk mull and carried pink roses. Miss Inez Bunnell was bridesmaid and wore a becoming dress of pale green silk. The bride wore a dainty gown of white Persian lawn trimmed with real Valenciennes lace. She carried a large bouquet of brides roses. The best man was Mr. Willis Hathrook. A reception followed the ceremony from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock. For this the dining room was trimmed with pink and green. A low round of pink carnations were the table and reaching from this centerpiece to the chandelier were streamers of white satin ribbon. A large wedding cake held a prominent place on the table. In the den upstairs where punch was served the decorations were in red. Assisting here and in the dining room were Miss Fay Lyman, Miss Sue Redfield, Miss Virgil Redfield, Miss Nellie Winn, Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Maud Dinnell, Miss Caven, Miss Beatrice Cole, Miss Emma Allen and Miss Edith Marley. Miss Sue Redfield was the fortunate one in catching the bride's bouquet. Mr. and Mrs. Skanez have gone east on their wedding trip. Among the out of town guests present were Mrs. Ledwith of Harlan, Ia.; Mrs. La Grant of Harlan, Ia.; and Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman of Des Moines, Ia.

Johnson-Rice.
A very quiet but pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Johnson, 428 Franklin street, when their nephew, Mr. Leon P. Johnson, was married to Miss Bertha C. Rice of Worcester, Mass. The rooms were prettily trimmed in green and white, palms, gladioli and white peonies being arranged in effective combination. The bride was gowned in light blue silk, with lace trimming and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bride couple entered the parlor to the "Lohengrin" wedding march played by Miss Cecil Burnap, and were attended only by cousins of the groom, Mrs. Howard C. Johnson as bridesmaid, and Mrs. Howard C. Johnson as best man, while Helen and Louise Johnson preceded the party carrying a basket of smilax and syringas. Rev. Charles W. Savidge was the officiating clergyman. The guests included only relatives and a few intimate friends. After July 1 Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be at home to their friends at 1329 Emmet street.

Young-Whiting.
Announcement is made from Chicago of the engagement of Mr. Charles Somers Young and Miss Marjorie L. Whiting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander T. Whiting of 46 Cedar street. The wedding will take place in October. Mr. Young is being congratulated by his many Omaha friends on the announcement. His bride-to-be is said to be a charming young woman of education and culture and the eldest of three children. Her father is engaged in the foundry business extensively.

Dundee Luncheon.
One of the most successful luncheons of Wednesday was given by Mrs. P. J. Barr at her home in Dundee in honor of Mrs. W. R. Lighton, who will leave Saturday for St. Louis to make her home. The table was charmingly decorated with white syringas and red roses. Those present were: Mrs. Lighton, Mrs. M. Thompson of St. Louis, Mrs. Reed of Illinois, Mrs. Herbert of New York, Mrs. J. H. Hart, Mrs. R. C. Peters, Mrs. S. R. Rush, Mrs. M. Perry, Mrs. W. L. Selby, Mrs. D. L. Johnson, Mrs. Elizabeth Colfax, Mrs. Elmer Thomas, Mrs. J. W. Marshall, Mrs. W. E. Curtis, Mrs. E. A. Benson, Mrs. W. M. Pindell and Mrs. E. V. Heatford.

At the Field Club.
Wednesday was a delightful evening for dancing and the hop at the Field club brought out a large crowd, and many gave dinners before the dance. The largest of these was given by Mr. R. Rainey in honor of Miss Ethel Condron and Mr. V. Shotwell, who are to be married this week. His guests were Miss Condron, Miss Hortense Eads, Miss Julia Willard, Miss Holmes, Miss Cora Laverty, Mr. A. V. Shotwell, Mr. C. A. Mann, Mr. John Laughlin, Mr. Theodore Helgren and Mr. McCreesh.

Complimentary Gatherings.

Dunn, Mrs. Brandt, Miss Anna O'Connor, Miss Belle Booth, Miss Dolly Cowdrey, Miss Mable Tromberg, Miss Irene Langdon, Miss Ida Dunn, Miss Gertrude Martin and Miss Henrietta Burkman from San Francisco.

Miss Mary Munchoff was honor guest at a beautiful luncheon Thursday given by Mrs. Pen Gallagher at her home. The table was decorated with quantities of pink peonies. The same tones of pink as the flowers were used on the plate cards. Her guests were: Miss Munchoff, Mrs. John A. McShane, Mrs. P. P. Kirkendall, Mrs. Charles Greene, Mrs. John L. Webster, Mrs. E. W. Nash, Mrs. L. P. Crofoot, Miss Miller, Mrs. Baum and Mrs. Will Paxton. Mrs. Sol Goldstrom and Mrs. D. A. Miss Ethel Miller, daughter of Rome Miller, gave a luncheon at the Her Grand at 1 p. m. Thursday to a party of twelve young women in honor of Miss Opal Goodman of Council Bluffs. The table was prettily decorated with flowers. Following the luncheon the young women were the guests of Mrs. D. E. McCulley at a box party at the Boyd theater.

WORK OF THE CLUB WOMEN
Virginia Club Women Organize State Federation After Many Years of Uraing.

Virginia has at last come into the General Federation of Women's Clubs with a state organization. For years such an organization has been worked for, but the conservatism of the southern women was hard to overcome until recently, when the progress has been rapid. The new state federation comes in with twenty-five clubs, a splendid beginning. This leaves Nevada the only state in the union without state federation of women's clubs. Virginia has for some time had several individual clubs in the general organization, and this state association is welcomed by all who appreciate the benefits of such organization. The United Daughters of the Confederacy has for years supplied in the south the place that the federation of clubs has care for and 100 visits made. Among these there was one death and three patients were taken to hospitals. Mrs. Adams, superintendent of the nurses, gave a report of the recent charities meeting held at Minneapolis. Over $50 was netted from the association from the opening of one of the soda fountains, half the proceeds of which were given to the women.

Seven thousand children have taken part in the illustration of games at the convention of the National Playground association in session yesterday and today in Chicago, and from all over the country club women gathered for the occasion. Photographs of this spectacle of children at play will be used at the Jamestown exhibition and other places to promote the work for public play grounds.

THE ART OF CONVERSATION

What Natural Gift One Has Should Be Studied and Cultivated.

General knowledge is the chief essential to really good conversation. In these days there are so many opportunities for mental improvement that it is almost inexhaustible for anyone to be unimproved. Books, magazines and newspapers are within the grasp of everyone. The best authorities will help anyone to culture, or at least to a correct use of the English language. A thoughtful woman, while speaking recently of shyness and self-consciousness, suggested that much benefit might be derived from reading aloud every day several pages of good English prose and some good poetry. The voice and the mind will become trained in this way and there will be less nervousness in conversation. Books and new authors afford good topics for conversation. Many people claim some knowledge of books absolutely essential to easy conversation.

While there are no rules by which one may learn to become a clever entertaining talker, because the natural gift is the foundation upon which this accomplishment is built, everyone can cultivate what gift he has and there is no reason or excuse for one's not improving. At least everyone should make an effort to discover what qualities are necessary requisites for agreeable conversation, what faults prevent one's appearing to advantage and what is the reason for shyness, embarrassment or dullness. It is everyone's duty to himself to make the most of himself and to appear his very best, while he owes it to society, if he mingles there at all, to make an effort to be bright, entertaining and sympathetic.

Keep up with the events of the day, general and local, and be able to speak intelligently of them. Conversation must be natural and spontaneous to be really attractive. Agreeable talk alternates quickly between the serious and gay. All dullness, dryness, detail and tediousness should be avoided. There is no end of pleasant things that may be talked about without including personalities. Bright stories, if one has a faculty for telling them, help out. It should not be forgotten, however, that the ability to listen well is also an important requisite. Learn, if you can, what others are interested in, and then get them to talk. If this can be accomplished one need not fear for the result. Intelligence, a good mind, the desire to learn and the determination to improve oneself are aids to success in conversation as well as in life.

ATTEMPT AT HOLDUP FAILS
Burly Criminal Confronts A. Wolf with Gun, but is Brightly Sent Away.

A burly negro entered the loan office of A. Wolf at 1321 Douglas street shortly after 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, snatched a revolver from the show case, pointed it at the proprietor and commanded him to throw up his hands. At the police station after his arrest, half an hour later, he gave his name as Red McFadden and his home as South Omaha.

Wolf was seated in his loan office near the safe when the negro entered and inquired whether he had any 28-caliber revolvers. Wolf prepared to cross to the other side of the store to show his stock, when the negro suddenly dived behind the show case, grabbed a big revolver and commanded, "Hands up!"

People across the street had been attracted by this little tableau and the negro, seeing this, ran out and north on Fourteenth street with Wolf and the crowd in pursuit. He dived into the alley between Douglas and Dodge streets and ran east throwing the revolver away as he fled. At Thirteenth street he ran into the crowd and a dozen men grabbed him.

After a fierce and somewhat bloody fight he was subdued and held until the arrival of Officers Mitchell, Heelan and Sullivan. The man was somewhat intoxicated.

FICHUS ARE IN HIGH FAVOR

Long, Graceful Shoulder Draperies in Soft Stuffs for Summer Frocks.

"Most of my customers look—what shall I say? Forlorn? Yes, that is the exact word—forlorn in the extreme sloping shoulder. I have not the heart to copy the models exactly for them, I will not allow them to wear the extremes. I modify, I adapt to the individual figure," said one of the most fashionable of New York's dressmakers, and she was quite right.

The ordinary woman does look forlorn in the exaggerated drooping shoulder, which cuts her waist length sadly. When this exaggeration is combined with a short skirt the result, save upon an unusually long, slim and graceful figure, trailing skirt, is absolutely demoralizing. Fichu drapery or even by an extreme kimono sleeve arrangement.

Fortunately it is quite possible to modify a majority of the draped models to meet the requirements of any figure, and the models sketched for this page are of course open to such modification, but their main features may be retained in each instance.

In the cut are three models, all showing variations upon the one theme of the fichu or scarf drapery and all within the understanding and grasp of any clever dressmaker. In the frock of Belted fichu taffeta the drapery assumes the air of a separate shoulder wrap, although it is attached to the bodice, and is little more than a long wide scarf of silk bordered by fringe matching the silk, drawn in soft folds around the shoulders and held in at each side of the front, just above the waist line, by handsome buckles. The scarf is caught low on the back between the shoulder blades by a buckle similar to those used in front.

A second shoulder drapery was a detail of a lovely frock in marquisette, trimmed in cloth and flet of the same color. Here a back view has been sketched, showing how the peloric drapery of marquisette cloth and lace, falling low on the shoulders, is drawn to a square buckle in the middle of the back, at empire waist line, and from there falls in long shawl-like ends over the skirt.

On the same order was the drapery of the frock in chiffon voile and lace; but here a long oval buckle was used, and the drapery ends fall in short pointed basques. Here, too, a liberty satin girdle passed from the buckle around to the front and the drapery ends in front were crossed and fastened to this girdle.

Monday evening a number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Meallo in honor of the seventy-third anniversary of Mr. Meallo's birth. The house was prettily decorated with cut flowers and Mrs. Meallo was the recipient of many remembrances. The evening was spent in a social way and several of the guests rendered musical selections, after which light refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Meallo, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Lawless, Mrs. Miller, Misses Lucy Miller, Edith Miller, Ella Bentz, Myrtle Cole, Edna Cole, Kathryn Lawless and Messrs. John Morrissey, Leo Hoffman and George C. Hurd.

Personal Gossip.
Miss Emma Goff and Mrs. B. Richards of Fremont, Neb., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Smith have arrived from San Francisco to spend two weeks with relatives and friends in Omaha. Mrs. James H. Manning and son, Will, among the northern, western and eastern states. Its work has been largely educational and so has covered the ground. It was not until the club women asserted themselves so actively in the interest of the child wage earner that the majority of the southern women recognized the value of the concerted action of a great national organization. Almost all the southern states have their child labor problem, and the influence of the club women has as much as anything else helped to relieve this condition.

At its June meeting held Thursday morning at the Paxton hotel the Visiting Nurses' association decided to adjourn its meetings until September, the work of the association to be carried on in the meantime under the direction of the board. This adjournment is customary owing to the absence from the city of so many of the members during the midsummer. The past month has been a busy one with the nurses, forty-four patients having been formerly of Omaha, but now residing in Albany, N. Y., are in the city for a few days.

Miss Ona Troxell has as her guest Miss Jewel Holben of Lincoln for two weeks.

Mrs. P. J. Barr and Miss Margaret Barr expect to leave early in July for a visit in Maine.

Mrs. L. D. Magoon, now Miss Ethel Giest of Omaha, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Cahoon.

Miss Mona Klocke, Miss Julia Higginson, Lou Clarke, Lawrence Brinker and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Powell will make a week's end party at Lake Manawa this week.

Edward Creighton will give a dinner at the Country club Saturday evening followed by a week-end house party at his home, which is located near the club.

Mrs. Samuel E. Wherritt of Chicago is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Standish, for a few days.

Mrs. W. W. Nash, Mrs. Will Paxton, formerly of Omaha, spent the early part of the week in the city with friends.

TO WASH CLOTHES WITHOUT RUBBING

Take two quarts of boiling water and add a small handful of Wiggle-Stick Wonder-Wax and half a cake of soap cut up, and boil until wax and soap are dissolved. Add half of this mixture to the hot suds in the wash tub and keep half for the boiler. If you boil your clothes first, put all of the mixture into the boiler and boil your clothes for twenty to thirty minutes, stirring them well to send the Wonder-Wax through them.

Always wet the clothes in cold water and wring out before putting into wash-tub or boiler. Rinse clothes well twice or three times after boiling or washing in the water with Wiggle-Stick Blue, making the water a very light shade of blue, and your clothes will be as white as snow.

Use Wiggle-Stick Glad-Wax for "Saddling" and you will save nearly all the labor and half the time in ironing.

The Biggest Kind of a Change that Ever Happened to Any Magazine Has Happened This Month to

THE SCRAP BOOK

THE SCRAP BOOK for July is issued in two sections—two complete magazines, each with its own cover and its own table of contents. One of these sections is an ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine; the other is an ALL-FICTION magazine. Each is a mammoth magazine in itself. The one presents an overwhelming array of human interest articles and illustrations; the other an enormous tonnage of fiction—160 pages of absorbing stories.

Ten years ago I created a new type of magazine—the ALL-FICTION magazine. Now I am creating another distinct type—the ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine. This is the age of specialisation. The conventional magazine, with its smattering of illustrations and its smattering of fiction and its smattering of special articles, doesn't contain enough of any one thing to make it satisfying. The ALL-FICTION magazine and the ALL-ILLUSTRATED magazine, joined together as a unit, strengthen each other, and make something really big and forceful and convincing.

The Only Way to Know a Thing is to Try It

The two-section magazine idea is brand-new to the world. It is not quite new with me, however, as I have given it, at odd times, four or five days of thought. It first came into my mind in response to a desire to couple, in some way, the strength of the all-fiction magazine with the illustrated features of the conventional magazine. It has been a difficult problem to work out. Now that the idea is perfected, I wish to see what there is in it. It looks to me to be very good, but the only way to know a thing is to try it.

Two Magazines for a Quarter—Easy Money

The price of this two-part magazine is twenty-five cents, which is equal to twelve and one-half cents a magazine. Most magazines which were selling at ten cents have been advanced to fifteen cents. THE SCRAP BOOK in two parts means two magazines for twenty-five cents against thirty cents for two fifteen cent magazines.

MEN ADMIRE

A pretty face, a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the healthy, happy, contented woman is most of all to be admired.

Women troubled with fainting spells, irregularities, nervous irritability, backache, the "blues," and those dreadful dragging sensations, cannot hope to be happy or popular, and advancement in either home, business or social life is impossible.

The cause of these troubles, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs. It acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centers, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms for which other medicine in the country has received such unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female ills as has
