PUTTING IN WIRELESS PLANT

Preparations Being Made to Install One at Fort Riley.

KANSAS FARMERS PLAYING POLO

Surprise Crack Team of Army Men Which Defeated Missouri Hunt and Polo Team in Recent Game.

FORT RILEY, Kan., June Z.—(Epecial.)
—Preparations are now in progress for the establishment of a wireless telegraph station at this post which will work with a similar one at Fort Leavenworth. The eignal corps has been making great progress in its research into the wireless field and it is to the end that practical work may be carried on that these two stations are to be established. Captain George H. Cameron, secretary of the school of application, has been to Fort Leavenworth to confer with Captain Squier of the signal corps on the subject.

The quartermaster general has given the necessary instructions for the construction of a bungalow on the new pole field on the Smoky Hill fatz, and if the bids, which are to be opened on Monday, are satisfactory, the work will be commenced by the end of this month. The building will be of the style knewn to architecture as "random ruble," with wide porches, reception room, locker rooms, etc. A large freplace of brick, which will accommodate the largest logs, will be a feature.

Four young farmers from the eastern part of the county aprung into publicity, when on Sunday afternoon they all but defeated the first pole team of the garnison, the one in fact that put it on the Missiouri Hunt and Pole team of the game appealed to them, as they are all natural horsemen, and it was but a short step to begin practice on their home fields. Although lacking in the finer points of the game, they played so well that the second team, which was the first aggregation put up against them, was withdrawn in place of the first, and even these four had to hump themselves all over the field to stave off defeat. The final score was 2 to 3 in favor of Fort Riley. The Humboldt team as the farmers style themselves, presented a marked contrast in their red shirts, broad brimmed cowboy hats, high boots and rowboy saddles to the well stroomed cavairy and Fillery officers who componed cavairy and Fillery officers who componed accommence on the feel of the second and Thirteenth cavairy squadrons, which

The visit of the secretary of war and General Bell, chief of staff, will settle the building question for the coming year at least as far as Fort Riley is concerned. It is the idea of the post authorities that the artillery and cavairy posts should be thoroughly completed, even to the most minute detail, as far as construction is concerned, before the work on the brigade post extension is taken up. The plan as laid before the secretary of war some time ago contemplates the construction of forty buildings which it is estimated are necessary for the proper completion of these two posts. To do this work would require about a year and a half, at an estimated cost of about $600.000.
