this section of the country will open to you next fall.

To waste two or three months now means to lose two or three months' salary. It means that you put aside and waste an opportunity that may never present itself again to you. It means that you will not gain the prestige with business men that you will gain if you will only show the grit necessary to gain your business education in the summer. If you could see the number of standing applications for Summer Term graduates that we have on file right here in our office, right now, we do not believe that you would hesitate a second to enter Boyles College. The man with the will to study during the summer term will win—there's no more question about that than there is any question about the wisdom of your selecting Boyles College for your Alma Mater.

If you can't call, send for catalogue at least.
