Paid Monday is Anticipated and Pinal Prices Are Highest of Week. NEW YORK, June 19.—The stock market made some stand today against the disappointment caused by failure of the New York City bond offerings. It appeared that most of the selling, prompted by the disappointment, had been completed yesterday and prices were bid up again today. Assistance was given to this mevement by the circulation of rumors that the bank statement would prove an agreeable disappointment.

the circulation of rumors that the bank statement would prove an agreeable disappointment.

The statement failed to reflect the heavy loan contraction which had been alleged in these rumors and the cash loss ran to the full figures of the estimates. There was some loan contraction, however, evidently the result of calling in of funds placed in the market pending the necessity for their employment in the payments of dividends and interest which begins on Monday. The professional movement amongst the stock operators showed a renewed confidence that these disturbances will redound to the benefit of the stock market and they worked to hold prices so as to get the benefit of the weeks advance on sales, which it is expected to make next week. Foreign markets also were affected by the expectation of coming relation in the money market. Prices rose to the highest level of the week in the final dealings and closed strong without important reaction.

The bond market held steady, although very dull and was not affected by the unfavorable investment inference from the New York City bond failure. Total sales of bonds par value, $258,000.

Discounts were easy. On the Stock exchange the dealings were restricted, but the tone was good, though weakened realizations in a few directions caused irregularity. Americans received a temporary check, owing to the New York City bond sale failure and dear money in New York, but after recovering to parity renewed support lifted values. Favorable conditions prevailing at eastern consuming points have combined to render the mutton market very unsatisfactory, at the same time reducing the consumption. On this account the demand for live sheep and lambs at this point has been very much reduced, so that the market has been unusually dull and weak for lack of buying support. Friess have been satseling downward and on most kinds of sheep and lambs are about 25c lower for the week.

Moderate receipts at all market points for a few days would be very acceptable as giving time for the receivery of the eastern mutton market. Until the demand for lack of buying support. Friess have been satseling downward and on most kinds of sheep and lambs are about 25c lower for the week.
