from General Land Office Interpreting Phrase in Circular of Instructions.

CNEILL, Neb., June 30 .- (Special.) -- In to a letter from Congressmen Kinkaid to R. A. Ballinger, commissioner of the general land office, Fred Dennett, act ing commissioner, has replied that the words "actual operation" as used in the circulars of instructions regarding the sale of isolated tracts do not mean "residence" and are not intended to prevent the acquisition of the land by a homesteader on an adjoining tract.

Congressman Kinkaid secured the enactment of the isolated tract act, June 27, 1998, enlarging the isolated tracts in Ne bracks from one-quarter section to threequarter sections. The correspondence refer to the operation of the law and are of considerable importance to the sixth district, as well as to the people of the state

Commissioner is as follows:

O'Nelli, Neb., June 12. Sir—I beg to say a good many constituents have become anxious to learn when the isolated tract act, public No. 18s, of which I secured the paganage at the last session, is to be put into operation, as they have been informed at the various land offices that no instructions or rules and regulations, relative to the administration of the act have yet been received. In order te be able to answer such inquiries, I shall esteem it a personal favor if you will advise me when such instructions will be sent out to the several land offices in this congressional fistrict, as all the lands, I believe, effected by the act, are within this district. the act, are within this district.

American flag. The new law has been in effect practically six months. Its provisions are not fully understood yet by the Immigrants generally, although they are rapidly "catching on." Since January 1 the average number of declarations of intentions to become American citizens has been approximately 10,000 per month. Twenty-five hundred petitions for citizenship papers have also been recorded each month since the first of January and in that period final natural tration papers to the number of 1.000 per month have been issued. This does not begin to approach the number of immigrants which have arrived in the various parts of the United States monthly in recent years but the figures indicate a very strong desire on the part of immigrants to acquire the when found to be detrimental rights of Amercian citizenship and it is believed that as soon as the law is thoroughly understood and that aff the officials become perfected in the details of the stat ute the number of naturalizations will very materially increase. Up to the present time it is asserted the new act has been operated with very little friction. Court officers everywhere have shown a disposition to do everything in their power towards perfecting the machinery of naturalization and it is the general belief that the problem has been solved and that hereafter Uncle Sam will have a complete and perfect record of every foreign born resident who aspires to be-
