STREET OPENING DELAYED

Ordinance Affecting Twenty-Fourth Street Postponed.

MILK DEALERS LOSE FIRST ROUND

Ordinance Favored by Health Commissioner is Recommended for Passage After Debate Before Council in Committee.

The council in committee of the whole Monday afternoon had in business that had not met for two weeks and much business had accumulated. Property owners who protest against the opening of Twenty-fourth street between Cass street and Burt street succeeded in delaying the ordinance two weeks. Milkmen tried to kill the pending ordinance but failed. One or two minor ordinances were put to sleep and a new ordinance will be drawn for the sprinkling of streets.

John F. Stout represented J. O. Phillippi, who protests against the proposed opening of Twenty-fourth street. T. R. Kimball also objected, saying premature opening of the street would result in the construction of cheap buildings and "St. Louis flats" along the street, while if the matter should be delayed for ten or fifteen years it might become a good business street. Charles Battelle and J. A. C. Kennedy also made protest along similar lines.

Repeated reference to the street railway company ruled out of the consideration, who tried to force some person to positively state that the street railway company was behind the movement. Chairman Bedford said that the people behind the movement were property owners north and south of the proposed opening; that as far as the street railway company was not behind the movement, but he was in favor of an open street from Florence to Albright.

Mr. Stout insisted that the council should pay no attention to general public clamor for opening the street on the face of this protest of abutting property owners. Ordinance is delayed. Councilman Funkhouser said that after all of the discussion he was not clear as to the situation; that he had heard no demand for opening the street and would like to see a petition on the subject.

Councilman Zimmerman moved that the ordinance be placed on file. Councilman Zimmerman moved to amend by providing that the ordinance be recommended for passage. Councilman Zimmerman took exception to the remark of Mr. McGovern. He would delay the opening of Twenty-fourth street until actual business necessity demanded it. The matter was passed for two weeks.

Sever by Contract.

The question of rejecting bids for construction of a sewer on Leavenworth street was discussed by City Engineer Rosewater, who declared that allowing 20 per cent profit to the contractor the city could build the sewer for $1,000 less than the lowest bid. He was asked as to the showing made on Fourteenth street and replied that the work at that place is now exceedingly difficult, as water is struck at two or seven feet and the city engineering department is proud that in twenty years no accident has occurred and the city engineer desires to maintain the record. Councilman Bridges declared in favor of the contract system as against day labor.

Councilman Elzasser moved that the resolution be referred to the committee on public works and Mr. Funkhouser then "knocked" his own resolution, saying it was introduced at the request of the city engineer's office. Mr. Zimmerman did not favor the resolution and on his motion the amendment was placed on file and the clerk ordered to re-advertise for bids.

Two More Bad Bills Found

Secret Service of the Treasury Describes Counterfeits in Circulation.

An alarm has been sent out by the secret service bureau at Washington relative to the discovery of two counterfeit notes, one a "Buffalo" $10 treasury note, and the other a $5 National bank note on the American Exchange National bank of New York City. The $10 counterfeit is of the series 1901, check letter A, face plate No. 252, bank plate 194, serial number 262803, J. W. Lyons register and Ellis H. Rogers treasurer of the United States. The $5 note is on the American Exchange National bank of New York City, is of the series 1902, check letter B, charter No. 1284, portrait of Harrison, treasury number D9973, and bank serial number 2479. The serial number printed on that described in general paper work is that described in general paper work and this note should not prove very deceptive. These latter notes have appeared in considerable numbers in the Panama Canal zone and it is expected that sooner or later they will work northward.

CRY FOR WIVES IN CANADA

French Plan of Long Ago May Be Revived for Disconsolate Bachelors.

A cry for wives comes to the province of Quebec from the French-Canadian settlers in the Canadian Northwest territories. A Roman Catholic clergyman in Alberta is contemplating trying a scheme suggested to him by the disconsolate bachelors of his parish.

Women, except squaws, are scarce in the Canadian territories and there is an absolute absence of young marriageable women of the same race and religion as the struggling settlers from the French parishes of Quebec. The priests are anxious to see them married to wives of their own nationality and faith, so as to encourage the growth in the northwest of a French speaking and Roman Catholic population.

The northwest settlers are only too anxious to fall in with the desires of their priests in the matter of marriage. The lack of marriageable women in the northwest territories cannot be obviated by any means of their own. They cannot afford the time and expense of a long journey to France to visit to Quebec to select wives for themselves.

But they are prepared to do so to a certain extent, by proxy. Provided a sufficiently large assortment is brought to their doors to afford them some little chance for selection, they are prepared to depute their priests to do the rest. The scheme has been discussed in the French-Canadian newspapers and the first party of candidates for matrimony will probably leave for Calgary in a few weeks.

The apparent novelty of the scheme has drawn the attention of a large number of ridicule. Those who are encouraging it argue that it not only does not savor of any impropriety, but also that not even the charge of novelty can be brought against it. They point out that a similar course was followed in France for supplying wives to the earliest French settlers in Canada.

Under the fostering care of Colbert, Lewis XIV's great minister of finance and of the colonies, girls were taken from the houses of refuge of Paris and Lyons and sent out to Canada as prospective wives for the settlers. Mother Marie de l'Incarnation wrote in 1650 that a hundred had come that summer and were nearly all provided with husbands and that 200 more were to come the following year. In 1672 Count Frontenac, the governor of Canada, wrote home to Paris complaining of the scarcity of the supply of young women for matrimony from France.

"If 150 girls and as many servants," he said, "had been sent out this year they would all have found husbands and masters within a month."

After some of the young women had been married at Quebec it was found that they had husbands at home. The priests became cautious in tying the matrimonial knot, and Colbert thereupon ordered that each girl should provide herself with a certificate from the cure, or magistrate of her parish, to the effect that she was free to marry.

It is expected that the same qualification will be required of all those who are to be taken to the Canadian northwest under ecclesiastical auspices. Instead of exhibiting them for the inspection of suitors for their hands, in imitation of the course adopted at Quebec two candidates for matrimony will be encouraged by their conductors to accept places as domestic servants until sought out for wives by their future husbands.

Girl Tries to End Life.

CRESTON, Ia., July 9.—(Special.)—Because a young man of this city with whom she was infatuated refused to return her love and slighted her Miss Rose Dowling of this city, a 16-year-old girl who has been employed at various homes as a domestic, attempted to kill him and falling tried to commit suicide by swallowing a bottle of laudanum. A physician's services were promptly obtained and by heroic work her life was saved. Her mind was thought to be unbalanced and as a further attempt on her life was feared on account of finding a razor concealed in her baggage, she was taken to the insane asylum at Clarinda Friday.

Floater Found at Plattsmouth.

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., July 9.—(Special Telegram.)—A floater came down the Missouri river today and was taken to the east side of the stream and proved to be a man of middle age, wearing a blue checked shirt and blue overalls and a glove on one hand, but nothing on his feet. There were no papers on his person that would assist in establishing his identity.

School Money Planified.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., July 9.—(Special.)—The Board of Education of Irapuola finds itself in so good a financial condition that it, a few days ago, took up and paid a school bond which was not due until the year 1931. It was only after great difficulty that the holder of the bond was prevailed upon to surrender it for payment now.

Glass Workers in Convention.

DETROIT, July 9.—Three hundred delegates representing 1,000 glass workers employed in the independent glass factories of the country, were present when the annual convention of the Amalgamated Association of Window Glass Workers of America was opened today with an address of welcome from Mayor Thompson. The convention will remain in session for about two weeks.

SOUTH OMAHA OPEN MARKET

Commission Men Ask Modification of "Cow Stuff" Agreement

QUESTION PUT UP TO PACKERS

Kansas City and Sioux City Adopt the Chicago Agreement and it is Now in Effect at Those Two Markets.

The packers have ratified the agreement with the stock men, emphasizing a rigid inspection of all cattle, as well as "the stuff."

The South Omaha Live Stock exchange held an important session yesterday afternoon and practically agreed to all of the plans laid down for the settlement of the difficulties between the members and the packers on the matter of "the stuff" for the last month or more. The stuff is the exact text of the agreement proposed in Chicago.

Brother of Nebraska Man Kills Himself Because of Incurable Illness.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 9.—After suffering for some time from cancer, Eric Johnson committed suicide by shooting himself today in Lafayette park. He left a note addressed to his brother, Peter Johnson, Cedar Rapids, Neb., in which he said he had been driven to self-destruction by his affliction.

Hicks is Under Arrest.

LARAMIE, Wyo., July 9.—(Special Telegram.)—The afternoon Deputy Sheriff Thirkalden placed William H. Hicks, the defaulting ex-county treasurer of Albany county, under arrest. The county commissioners are now fixing the amount that Hicks' bondsmen will need to raise to keep him from behind the bars.

The order for his arrest was given by the county commissioners after State Examiner Henderson, who resumed the investigation of Hicks' accounts, had found another shortage of $250. Hicks was found at the family home on North Fourth street, where he has been under surveillance. Hicks has many friends in Laramie and it will not inconvenience him greatly to acquire the necessary bond.
