PENNSYLVANIA FIGHTS ACT

Eastern Railroad Makes Showing on Two-Cent Fare.

CLAIMS IT WILL RESULT IN LOSS
Company's Earnings on Its State Business Show Rate of 1.907 Cents Per Passenger Carried.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—President McCrea of the Pennsylvania railroad was the principal witness today in the equity proceeding instituted by that company against the city and county of Philadelphia to restrain enforcement of the 2-cent railroad fare law passed by the last legislature. The law goes into effect October 1 and provides a penalty of $1,000 for each violation. Other railroads have begun similar actions and today's proceedings were regarded as a test case.

Counsel for the railroad urged that the 2-cent rate is unreasonable and would not return a fair profit. City Solicitor Gendell said that the county was made a defendant because the penalty for violation of the law is payable here. He thought the proceedings should have been brought against the state. However, the railroad company presented a summary of earnings and expenses on its state passenger business for the first three months of this year. It showed the average rate per passenger per mile was 1.907 cents the three months were $2,670,356 and the expenses, $2,931,807. If the 2-cent law had been in force during these three months the earnings would have been $2,357,932.

PARIS, Tex., July 11.—United States District Attorney J. W. Garney of the eastern district of Texas, has begun action against the Texas and Pacific and Kansas City Southern railroads for its alleged infractions of the safety appliances act.

HAYWOOD ON STAND

It is anticipated he will be followed by Haywood.

A letter from General Counsel John Murphy of Denver to the secretary of the local union at Silver City, Idaho, was offered in evidence by Mr. Darrow as a part of the direct examination before the cross-examination of Moyer commenced. The letter was objected to by the state and the objection sustained.

Taking up his cross-examination of the witness Senator Borah first inquired as to where the real power of the organization between conventions existed. Moyer said it rested in the executive board, the president and the secretary-treasurer. He has been active an ex-officio member of the executive board ever since 1905. At the recent convention of the federation in Denver, Moyer said Jack Simpkins, the alleged accomplice of Harry Orchard who has never been apprehended, was continued in office as member of the executive board for Idaho, an alternate being appointed to take up his duties.

Indignities in Bull Pen.
Moyer was very deliberate in his replies again today, evidently weighing his answers carefully over in his mind before making them. He said he was living at Deadwood, S. D., during the Coeur d'Alene troubles of 1893, but became acquainted with many of the members from that district at the Salt Lake convention of that year. He also learned of Governor Steunenberg's part in the strike. Jack Simpkins was one of the men Moyer met at the convention. He heard Simpkins tell of the indignities he suffered in the Idaho bull pen and knew what his feelings were.

Senator Borah questioned the witness closely as to the extent of the rule of the federation to defend any or its members, accused of crime. Moyer declared that no man was defended unless the executive board decided his arrest had some connection with the Western Federation of Miners.

"If a member of the federation should kill a man on the streets of Boise you would not defend him unless you felt the federation was in a way involved in the affair," suggested Borah.

"That is my understanding. We would defend anyone whose act grew out of a strike or whose arrest we felt was due to his connection with the Western Federation of Miners."

"You don't hold it out as an inducement to members that the federation will defend them for any crime committed, do you?"

"No, sir."
Senator Borah next inquired as to Pettibone's relations to the Western Federation of Miners. Pettibone was not an active member, but when his business permitted would attend the conventions and would act as headquarters. He was a good friend of the organization and ready to assist in any way he could. He has often bought furniture and other supplies for the organization and for its members.

Did Not Know of Emmy.
Moyer declared he had never heard of Orchard's emmy toward Governor Steunenberg until the present trial started. Senator Borah had the witness tell again of Orchard's activity in helping the federation officials and attorneys in the alleged train wrecking case at Cripple Creek.

"You knew him as Orchard and as an active member of the organization?" suggested Senator Borah.

"Yes, sir."
As to Orchard's accompanying him to Ouzay, Moyer said he had intended hiring a bodyguard until Orchard happened to drop in and say he was going through Ouzay on his way to Silverton. The two were on the train together for a day and a night and talked very generally about their experiences in different mining districts. There was some discussion of Steunenberg, Orchard comparing the acts of Idaho's governor to those of Governor Feunbody of Colorado. Orchard also told of having an interest in the Hercules mine, but did not say he had lost that interest because of Governor Steunenberg. He also said he was peniless because of troubles in the Coeur d'Alene. Moyer repeated his statement of yesterday that from the time of his arrest in Ouzay in April, 1904, until June 25, 1905, he had not seen Orchard. "You are sure of this?" questioned Borah.

"I am willing to swear under oath, senator."

Merely Offered Reward.
Outside of offering a reward of $5,000, the Western Federation of Miners, Moyer said, did nothing toward ferreting out the perpetrators responsible for the Independence depot explosion. The witness said he had nothing to do with it and that he and Neville had left the Cripple Creek district before the explosion occurred. Moyer declared he knew nothing of a draft being sent by Haywood to Jack Simpkins on December 2, 1905. The first he ever heard of the draft was in the evidence produced in court.

"Wouldn't your name have to be on such a draft?" asked Senator Borah.

"No, sir."
"Wouldn't you have knowledge of a check being drawn to cover the draft?"
"Yes, sir."
"Did you ever draw such a check?"
"The only check I drew was given to Simpkins in person when he drew his per diem and mileage early in December in Denver."

Senator Borah asked Moyer if he had had any previous communication with Jack Simpkins prior to receiving from him January 4, 1906, the telegram, "Cannot get a lawyer to defend Hogan." He declared he had not.

"Do you know why he sent you that telegram?"

"I do not."
"Did you ever talk to him about it?"
"I have never seen him since."
Moyer said that Simpkins as the member of the executive board of the district where the trouble occurred, would be the man to handle the affairs of the Western Federation of Miners. Moyer said that at the time the federation arranged to employ a lawyer for Orchard there had been no investigation to determine the man's guilt or to learn if Jack Simpkins had been in Caldwell with him.

"Did you expect to preserve the good name of the Western Federation of Miners by defending the man who had killed Frank Steunenberg?" demanded Senator Borah.

"I did not believe at that time that Orchard had anything to do with the murder. I felt it was just another attempt to charge a crime to the federation."

"Attorney Fred Miller who went from Spokane to defend Orchard was paid $1,800 on account when he came to Denver January 30, 1906, to report the result of Orchard's preliminary hearing. The check was not made out in Miller's name, but was drawn to the order of Richardson & Hawkins, who had acted as the federation's attorney in several instances."

The cross-examination lasted but a little more than an hour and a half. On re-direct Moyer said that Attorney Hadley was employed by the federation at Cripple Creek and made an investigation of the Independence explosion. Moyer declared that he had not heard of Simpkins since some time in January, 1906. He knew where to find all the other members of the executive board, but could not tell where Simpkins was. Both sides announced that Moyer's examination had been concluded as the luncheon recess until 1:30 p. m. was ordered.

NO DRINKING MAN IS WANTED

Police Force No Place for a Boozing Fighter, Chief Donahue.

Patrolman Charles I. Eastley, who was fined for resting and drinking while on duty by the fire and police board Monday night, resigned from the police force Thursday morning after being suspended by Chief Donahue.

"The offense of drinking while on duty is one of the most serious that an officer can commit," said the chief. "In my opinion a drunken policeman is far more dangerous than most criminals. In the first place he is well armed and besides that he has the appearance of authority, and usually will not brook interference from a civilian when he is angry. There is always a great danger that a policeman who has been drinking will attempt to arrest some innocent person on a whim and do him serious injury when he shows a very natural resistance. The men who drink heavily are better off somewhere else than in the police force and we would rather not have them."

ICE COMPANY TO SHOW CAUSE

Acting Mayor Johnson Issues a Summons to Pries Lake Concern.

Acting Mayor Johnson has issued a citation to the Pries Lake Ice company and to Robert Deck, manager, commanding them to appear before the mayor at the city hall Friday morning to show cause why the license issued to them to sell ice in the city should not be revoked.

This action, taken upon complaint of J. W. Barr, who resides on a great street, and who on Wednesday complained to the city officials that the ice company had refused to deliver ice to him after selling him a book calling for the delivery of 1,000 pounds of ice at different times. The police officers to refuse the book in cash, but alleges that the demand for ice is so great that it cannot fulfill the implied contract.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT OUTLINES

Plat of Undertaking to Reclaim Bottom Lands is Filed with County Clerk.

The Farmland, Fremont & Railroad Drainage district, formed at Fremont under the law passed by the last legislature for the purpose of draining the lowlands along the Platte, filed a plat and transcript with the county clerk Thursday. The district begins west of Fremont and runs eastward along the right-of-way of the Union Pacific to a point three miles south of the north line of Douglas county, where it crosses the river and follows the bank back to the place of beginning. As it enters Douglas county it is necessary for copies of the papers to be filed in this county. J. F. Hansen of Fremont is secretary.

GROWING CHILDREN

The Period When the Nervous Activity is at Its Greatest.

A medical journal says:
"Against the practice of giving tea and coffee to children, we cannot speak too strongly."
"Childhood is the period when the nervous activity is at its greatest. The brain is ever busy receiving new impressions."
"Reflex action, co-ordination of muscles, and the special senses are all under a special course of training. The nervous system is pushed to its utmost capacity, and long is the list of victims that follow its over-stimulation. In these little people nothing but harm can come from the use of such articles as tea or coffee."
"By then, as this practice is let us as physicians be aggressive in its prohibition. Do not be satisfied by answering 'No,' when asked as to its use, but let us teach the families with whom we come in contact, that such practice is evil. We speak emphatically, but do not, only among the poor and educated, but among the rich, who should know better. This practice is marvellously prevalent!"
A man who tried Postum Food Coffee, said that it might be sold nourishment, but he didn't like its taste. He had not discovered the secret of making delicious Postum. After boiling commences, allow it to boil full five minutes. Not simply to put it on the stove for 15 minutes, but count the fifteen minutes after boiling commences. That brings out the food value and the delicious flavor. It certainly does make the children bright and healthy, and has proved a Godsend to the mother who daily sighs were not understood until Postum was used in place of coffee. "There's a Reason." Postum properly made has a coffee taste similar to the mild, high grade Java. Read the little health classic, "The Road to Wellville," in page.

PEARSE GIVEN A ROASTING

Miss Elisabeth Shirley Attacks His Record on Convention Floor.

NEW CHARTER FINALLY ADOPTED

President Cooley of the Association is Also Touched Up by Miss Shirley, Who Formerly Taught in Omaha.

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—(Special Telegram.)—In a sensational speech before the National Educational association yesterday Miss Elisabeth Shirley, formerly a principal of an Omaha school, attacked G. G. Pearse, now of Milwaukee, but formerly of Omaha, and charged him with graft. Although nearly alone in an effort to defeat the adoption of the new charter which was granted to the association a year ago by congress, Miss Shirley made much of an impression upon the gathering. She stirred up so much disension that the backers of the movement to have the charter adopted admitted that they felt very uneasy until after the movement had been carried to completion. By the new charter the trustees, five in number, are granted nearly absolute power of expending money of the association. Miss Shirley took the position which Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago was expected to take had she attended. During the meeting she arose, and in the course of her address said:

"There is graft in high places in the association, and I can prove it. A member of the board of trustees was proven a grafter and I can prove that."
Following the meeting Miss Shirley was asked what she meant by the statement. She announced:

"Mr. Pearse, a newly elected trustee, in Omaha seven years ago was under investigation on the charge of grafting, and confessed on the witness stand that he received $200 from the American Book association. This money he received for writing a single page in the geography which related to Nebraska. Mr. Pearse was ignorant of Nebraska geography and he had a teacher write it for him."

"I believe that President E. G. Cooley is just as deep in the mud as Pearse is in the mire. That was what I referred to in my address today when I said that there will cause one of the biggest sensations that has involved the association in some years."

When your stomach is working right you feel light. You sleep well and you eat well.

FIRE RECORD.

Coal Sheds at Beatrice.

BEATRICE, Neb., July 11.—(Special Telegram.)—This morning at an early hour destroyed the coal sheds of Louie Graff in the Burlington yards, together with a large amount of coal. Sparks from an engine are supposed to have caused the blaze. Loss, $1,200, with $50 insurance.

Denver Boy Somewhere in Nebraska.

JULESBURG, Colo., July 11.—(Special.)—A boy answering the name of Frankie Canouse and in company with a traveling negro fakir named Warkin was wanted by a widowed mother at Denver. The boy was taken by Warkin on July 7, having been engaged by him to assist in a show he claims to run. He passed through Julesburg on the fourth and was picked up by Daniel Bower and wife, who took him to Big Springs, Neb., where the negro claimed him. Bower learned from the boy, who is about 10 years old, that he came from Denver, but answered all questions reluctantly as if in fear. Becoming suspicious of the actions, Mr. Bower reported the circumstances to the Denver police, and yesterday received word that a boy answering to his description was missing canvas shoes, red stockings, a white blouse suit, decorated with all colors, and a white cap, with a colored sash around it. He is doubtless in Nebraska, headed eastward.
