DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Volume of Business Exceptionally Heavy for the Season.

CROP OUTLOOK LESS UNCERTAIN

Buyers are Numerous in the Larger Cities Preparing for an Active Fall Season—Cotton Goods Firmer.

NEW YORK, July 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Encouraging reports are received from leading commercial centers, the volume of business being exceptionally heavy for the season and stocks are depleted by the usual clearance sales, providing more prompt payments and greater confidence in the future. Buyers are numerous in the large cities preparing for an active fall trade, now that the agricultural outlook is less uncertain. Clothing manufacturers report much new business and few cancellations.

Dullness in the pig iron market is not unusual at this time of the year, but evidence that furnace owners are seeking business at lower prices. At some of the steel mills there is also more or less noticeable absence of new contracts, but specifications are large on that order and the plants that must stop for repairs will not remain idle longer than necessary.

The most definite evidence that the situation is perfectly sound is the absence of pressure to find business even at concession in prices. Thus far the iron and steel market has avoided this week that is so significant. On the other hand, producers are confident that much delayed business will appear when the crops work only waits for a normal money market. A small tonnage of structural shapes was placed during the last week and another large volume is expected to be placed in the near future.

A firmer tone has appeared in the primary market for cotton goods, many factors securing without difficulty the prices asked. While a few lines are distinctly quiet, there is more evidence of satisfactory business than at any time for several weeks. Although prices are considered high, it is felt that there is much to warrant further advances, so that buyers feel justified in operating freely even for remote deliveries.

Advances from jobbers indicate that advance negotiations for fall have largely exceeded expectations and there is much anxiety regarding the inability of the mills to make shipments according to specifications. Little export trade is accomplished by the Chinese market has improved. No developments are expected in the market for woolens until the finer grades of worsted fabrics are opened. Few new lines were shown this week, but it is believed that quiet business is being arranged without waiting for formal openings.

Accumulations in all leading markets both here and abroad, make lower quotations for hides, although some increase in volume of business is noted, especially with western packers. Despite the large volume of business, sales are less than in slaughter and stocks in the hands of packers are greater than at any preceding date this year. River Plata hides are in excessive supply in all principal markets. Improvement is noted in the leather market, buyers taking sample lots and a scarcity of calskins is expected. That section of the market, glazed kid, is neglected, recent reductions in prices failing to provide a demand equal to the output. Boston footwear market is buoyant from all sections, but thus far few big contracts have been placed.

Iowa Man Ends Life.

BAN DIEGO, Cal., July 19.—James A. Taylor, a lawyer of principal city, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid yesterday. The deceased came from Bloomfield, Ia., where he had a wife and family. He had a brother living here. Despondency is the supposed cause of the suicide.

COREAN POPULACE ENRAGED

Not So Much Over Ruler's Abdication as at Japanese.

MARQUIS ITO WILL GO SLOWLY

Dramatic Scene Enacted at Palace When Ministers Made the Final Presentation of Their Case.

SEOUL, July 19.—Enraged crowds are assembled at various points throughout the city and inflammatory documents against the Japanese are being freely distributed, giving rise to a fervent hope that some active opposition is about to begin. Serious collisions, it is believed, will take place tonight between the police and the rioters. Marquis Ito is not likely, it is thought, to resort to extreme measures of repression until all mild means of pacification have been exhausted. Extraordinary police precautions are being taken throughout the city.

It is reported that a most dramatic scene occurred at the palace Thursday night when the ministers, headed by Premier Yi Wang Yong appeared before his majesty and made the cabinet's final representation in urging the emperor's abdication. His majesty was in a high state of excitement, but the premier in the most humble, but firm tone dwelt at length upon want of precaution and prudence of the emperor's policies hitherto, especially in diplomatic affairs whereby he was endangering the safety of the nation. The premier enumerated the facts of his master's duplicity, which culminated in the dispatch of a deputation to The Hague peace conference and forcibly reasoned the uselessness of the emperor's disavowal of his relation with The Hague affair.

Deserted by Elder Statesmen.

Unable to successfully combat the logic of the premier's representation, the emperor sought a last refuge in the counsel of elder statesmen, doubtless anticipating their sympathies. The council immediately convened. Four elders quickly responded and appeared before his majesty at 1 o'clock this (Friday) morning. The emperor's disappointment and surprise was boundless when they unambiguously agreed with the minister. His majesty's mind was finally made up and he consented to the draft of an imperial rescript announcing his abdication, which was placed before him for his signature. The emperor's condition was indescribable. Greatly agitated and perturbed, he signed the document and the seal affixed amid impressive silence.

A suppressed sten from the emperor was the only sound which broke the death-like stillness that reigned throughout the memorable scene.

Briefly, the emperor in the imperial rescript of abdication, expressed his regret that during the forty-four years of his reign, national calamities have followed in rapid succession and the people's distress become so aggravated that he deemed it now time to transfer the crown to the heir apparent in conformity with ancestral usages.

Arch Inquisitor Disarmed.

TOKIO, July 19.—While much sympathy is expressed here for the Korean emperor, who has retired, the public is breathing easier for the sake of both countries now that the arch inquisitor has been completely disarmed. It is confidently expected that hereafter the relations between Japan and Korea will be smooth. Unqualified admiration is felt for the capacity of the ministers of the present Korean cabinet in effecting the solution in a most aggravated situation without the shedding of any blood and in a manner evincing more than ordinary moral courage.

Coreans Never Consented.

"Corea never consented to the Japanese taking control of her territory," continued Hurlbut. "The Japanese had used it to be applied to the protectorate, but that is not the fact and it was to protest against this that the emperor sent a delegation to The Hague. This led to Japan bringing about the abdication. The treaty between the United States and Korea which Japan guaranteed to preserve will not stand in the way of Japan's ambition to gain exclusive commercial mastery over Korea. Japan will effect a customs union with Korea and today is to drive out American and British trade in Korea. Every one in Korea knows it and every Englishman and American in Seoul will tell you of Japan's outrage upon the Korean people. Had the protectorate which Japan placed over Korea been attended by honesty of purpose, Korea would have made its protest. But these protests seem to fall on deaf ears."

Coreans Are All at Sea.

The Coreans are all at sea regarding the extreme gravity given the situation by the Japanese, who regard the offense of the emperor as unpardonable. Members of the progressive party from Japan and others opposed Marquis Ito's policy of leniency preceding the arrival of Foreign Minister Hayashi are now holding meetings. Viscount Hayashi, it is believed, has two missions to fulfill. The first is to assist Marquis Ito to execute the Japanese government's program in the palace, the second to consult with him on the Manchurian and American questions.

Speculation is Rife among Foreigners.

Speculation is rife among foreigners here as to the origin of the idea of pressing the abdication of the emperor of Korea. It is definitely known, however, that Marquis Ito was only a silent spectator of the event and that the idea originated with the premier, Marquis Satouji, strongly supported by the ministers of agriculture and justice, both of whom are strongly in favor of the exile in Japan for the retired emperor.

Some thought that blood must be shed before the abdication of the throne could be effected, but fortunately that expectation was not fulfilled and the aftermath is also likely to prove less serious than present occurrences at the present time. It is believed that the wisdom and resourcefulness of Marquis Ito will prevent the spread of any agitation likely to menace the general peace of Korea.

Former Premier Predicts Trouble.

THE HAGUE, July 19.—Yi Sang Sul, at one time premier of Korea and now a member of the Korean delegation, whose presence at The Hague is said to have precipitated the present crisis in Korean affairs, was informed today by the Associated Press of the abdication of the Korean emperor and the forecasts of trouble in the hermit kingdom as a result. Yi Sang Sul said:

"I have heard nothing directly as the Japanese control in Korea prevents communication between me and my friends there. The Japanese are capable of anything. If they have imposed abdication, which in this case means detestment, serious trouble soon will occur."

Keiroku Tsuaki, head of the Japanese mission to the peace conference, said:

"I did not think matters had gone so far. Generally speaking, Korea is more concerned for practical results than for the removal of the emperor, who, even though he has abdicated, will be responsible so long as he lives for the mischief he has stirred up against us. Evidently his remaining on the throne has become a serious obstacle to the carrying out of our program for the regeneration of Korea."

Corea the Prey of Japan

Homer B. Hulbert Says Nation Has Been Outraged.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Declaring that the Japanese control over Korea is debauching the Koreans and fast tending to the complete eradication of Korea as a state, Homer B. Hulbert, for many years engaged in educational work in Korea, is here today on a mission from Korea to bring to the attention of the United States government and the people of this country the conditions in Korea under the Japanese protectorate. Mr. Hulbert arrived today on the steamship Deutschland with his family, after a two months' journey from Seoul. He said the conditions of the Korean delegation to The Hague had been made a pretext by Japan to force the abdication of the emperor and so gain further control over Korea.

Mr. Hulbert went to Korea over twenty years ago to engage in educational work at the request of the Korean government. He said:

"Coreans in hopeless plight. 'Coreans are thoroughly outraged,' said Mr. Hulbert, 'over the injustices which the Japanese are heaping upon it, and the Coreans are angered beyond words. Still they feel the dread hopelessness of their extremity. The Coreans look upon the Japanese as savages. They are insulted and debauched, but can do nothing. I have seen a Japanese boy rush out into the street and belabor a Korean gentleman with a stick and laugh. The Korean could do nothing for protests to the Japanese would avail nothing. The Japanese protect their salt works, drive away the Korean fishermen from their fishing grounds and taken every form of profitable industry in the country for themselves. The Coreans will tell you that the Japanese are striving to drive them from the country that they may occupy it for themselves. Japan is bent on their total annihilation while the government at Tokio is openly declaring that Korea is open for the trade of the world it is seeking by every possible secret act to aid its merchants by creating conditions, which will drive every foreign merchant out of the country.'

Coreans in Hopeless Plight.

"Japan is debauching the morals of the Coreans by selling them morphine in great quantities. Especially is this true in northern Korea."

Mr. Hulbert said that the accession of the crown prince to the throne would mean no change for the better in the intolerable conditions. Despair reigns among the Coreans and while the emperor, who has now abdicated, desired to create improved conditions for his people he knew that he was utterly unable to do anything. Mr. Hulbert said the emperor's last despairing attempt was sending a delegation to The Hague to protest to the nations that the Japanese policy was against the Coreans and that Korea had never acquiesced in its seizure two years ago.

BLOW TO HAYWOOD DEFENSE

Evidence Tending to Show Counter Conspiracy Stricken Out.

OTHER TESTIMONY EXCLUDED

Orchard's Story of What Pettibone Told Him About Steve Adams Killing Chain Jumpers Held to Be Improper.

BOISE, July 19.—For the first time since the Haywood trial started James McPartland, the detective, whose name has been so often mentioned in connection with the shooting of evidence against the Western Federation of Miners was in the court room today. He had come to listen to the arguments in the case and attracted considerable attention.

Judge Wood announced at 10 o'clock that he would not be ready to rule on the matter of excluding certain evidence from the consideration of the jury and the arguments of counsel until 2 p. m. He instructed James H. Hawley, leading counsel for the state, to be ready to proceed at that time. Mr. Hawley is not expected to conclude until tomorrow afternoon. The opening address for the defense will be made by Attorney E. Richardson of Denver on Monday morning. To preserve the record, Mr. Richardson again today moved that the jury be instructed to return a verdict not guilty on the ground that the defendant Haywood has not been connected by the evidence with the crime alleged. His motion was formally made and formally denied.

The court room was crowded to the doors when the afternoon session began. Judge Wood, as soon as he had taken his place on the bench, began to read his decision as to the exclusion of certain evidence. He announced that his decision was, but a preliminary to the instructions he will give the jury at the conclusion of the arguments.

The most important phase of the decision was that striking out of the case all relating to the deportation of the miners from the Cripple Creek and Telluride districts of Colorado. In the first instance Judge Wood struck out of the record that portion of Orchard's testimony relating to what Pettibone told him of a trip in which he had sent Steve Adams to get rid of chain jumpers in northern Idaho. This matter, he said, had not been connected in any way with the defendant, Haywood. Judge Wood then said:

"In the opinion of the court no evidence was introduced by the defense even pointing to or indicating that the acts of violence committed by any one were committed by any other person or persons than as testified to by the witness Orchard. Whether there is any evidence tending to point to or from which it might be inferred that any individual committed the various acts of violence, if they were committed, is not a matter for the jury to consider. The farthest the testimony introduced would only furnish a motive perhaps for some witness to come out and procure the commission of the various acts of violence."

But it is clear that the motive alone in a third person to commit an offense for which a party being tried is inadmissible in the absence of other testimony to some way connecting or pointing to that third person as the guilty party. The witness Orchard has testified in detail to the circumstances involving the dynamite explosion, the explosion at the Independence depot and other acts and attempted acts of violence in the city of

BANISHING TROUBLES OF MEN

Related Genius Soothes Mankind with Improved Back-Action Suspenders.

To one who has ever been admitted to the sacred precincts of woman's boudoir an exceedingly amusing performance to witness is the efforts of the woman to secure the two sides of a button-in-the-back waist. Where such garments are worn regularly the miss is not required to take any gymnastic exercises in order to keep herself in fine physical form. That which she gets for the efforts to button her waist are entirely sufficient for all purposes; but, sad to relate, what she gains physically is sometimes made at the sacrifice of her morals. For it is said that many a girl has learned to say tiny swear words while endeavoring to button her waist in the back. Indeed, it is said that this operation is almost as demoralizing as the act of searching for a lost collar button.

There is another toilet trouble the man encounters which is equivalent to the sylvan performance, inasmuch as its sylvan agencies are concerned, and that is the effort of a man to secure the ends of
