STATE LEVY SEVEN MILLS

Board of Assessment Places Figures the Same as Last Year.

DOUGLAS MERCHANDISE RAISE

Treasurer Brian Reports on Condition of Treasury at Close of Month-More Money in the Country Banks.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, July 21.-(Special.)-The State Board of Equalization completed its work this afternoon by making a levy of 5 mills for the general fund, 1 mill for the university and 1 mill for the redemption fund. The total amount of the grand assessment roll cannot be given at this time because a number of the counties were increased on certain items and this increase has not yet been figured out. Douglas county merchandise was increased 15 per cent and Lancaster merchandise was reduced 5 per cent. The total levy of 7 mills is the same as last year, but instead of the 16 mill for the public schools. I the general fund levy gets that, increasing this fund from 4% to 5 mills/ The final order has not yet been signed, but it is to be tomorrow morning. The board promised to pass on the bill of exceptions of the Union Pacific tomorrow. What effect its action this afternoon will have on that is not known, at least except to the board members

Douglas Merchandise Raised. County Assessor Reed of Douglas county appeared before the board this morning. after which the board increased the assessment of merchandise in that county 15 per cent. County Assessor Miller of Lancaster county, in several appearances before the board, complained of the low assessment of Douglas county merchandise and gave that as an excuse for the 20 per cent cut in the Lancaster assessment, which was recently made by the county board. Mr. Reed was sent for to give information regarding the Douglas assessment, and he frankly told the board the big merchants of Omaha had refused to show their invoices or exhibit their insurance policies or furnish any information regarding their sales. The big merchants in most instances, he said, had not been assessed as high in proportion as the small merchants. His deputies, he said, had placed a value on the stocks in accordance with the views of the owners, and then in most instances the larger merchants had been increased in his office. The County Board of Equalization had cut down some of these assessments. He had done the best he could, he said, but he could not get satisfactory results from the big merchants.

The board considered the matter practically all afternoon before taking any ac-Some members of the board are now beginning to believe a better system might be worked out for equalizing the value of live stock. It has been suggested to the board that where live stock is reported at a high average value it is possible the assessor may have failed to return the full number, thus keeping up his average. To raise other countles to come up to the high one in such a case the board members realize is not fair. Assessor Teegarden of Cass county said the value of mules in that county averaged $26, until he reached Plattsmouth, and mules in that town cut down his average. If some other assessor Jeft out a large number of the poor mules, as may have been done, he believes Cass county does not deserve any increase in the value of its live stock.
