POTENT AIDS TO BEAUTY Demonstration of Burnham Preparations by Miss E. M. Moore at Owl Drug Store.

Much favorable interest and many sales constitute the record of Miss E. M. Moore, who is demonstrating E. Burnham's tollet wares at Sherman & McConnell's Drug Co.'s stores. Miss Moore has with her all ham company, and with each purchase she gives a free massage treatment, devoting the morning to these treatments, while during the afternoons she stays at the store.

The preparations for which Miss Moore is acting as demonstrator include between twenty and thirty articles, each for its own purpose in keeping the face and body beautiful. The cleansing cream, which is used for removing blackheads and preventing sunburn, and the skin bleach, for removing tan, freckles, brown patches and the like, have aroused particular attention among the women of the city.

The free distribution of a booklet, en titled. "How to be Beautiful," is one of the features of Miss Moore's work. It is an artistic pamphlet, carefully illustrated, at the corner of Thirteenth street. Progress and gives practical instructions in the art of face and body massakes. Its purpose is to enable women to beautify themselves in their own homes, without having to resort to prefessional treatments.

Miss Moore will be at the Owl drug store, Sherman & McConnell's new store, Sixteenth and Harney streets, for this and the following week from State Board Increase.

RAISE OF ALL REGARDED UNFAIR

Automobile Men Are Caught, as They List Their Goods as Merchandise, Expecting to Escape Boost.

The action of the State Board of Equaliserted that one of the coats had been stolen this item in the county was $2.35.434 as the from him and Green had been arrested figures left the county board and the inwith it in his possession. Green said that crease will send the amount up to $2,628,000. The raise will fall heaviest on three or four that will sustain an increase of about $50,000 or $60,000 on full valuation or from $10,000 to $12,000 on assessed valuation.

There were rumors Thursday that an appeal would be taken to the courts by some of the heaviest taxpavers, though the attorneys for those firms would not say what hey intended doing.

County Assessor Reed said he had reeived no official notice of the increase yet He did not care to discuss the matter in detail, but said he was surprised that the ncrease was so large. County Commissioner Ure declared the increase was unfair to a large majority of Omaha merchants ecause most of them were assessed high

"It is unfair." he said, "to increase all of the merchants because two or three may be low on their figures. The figures, as they left the county board, were a fair valuation of the merchandise stocks and the increase will be burdensome to a large majority of the merchants."

It is estimated that about three-fourths of the merchandise in the county is located in Omaha. This will mean an addition to the city and school district assessment rolls of about $250,000. It will result in a reduction in the city levy of a little less than one mill. The school district mill levy having been fixed already it will result in a subthe articles manufactured by the Burn- stantial increase in the funds for school purposes.

There is a slight touch of humor in the situation of the automobile houses though the regular merchants are not in a position to see it. The auto men feared the state board would make a sweeping raise in autonobile valuations so most of them listed their stocks under the head of merchandise instead of automobiles. The increase came just where they though it would not and their taxes will be increased correspond-

The new garbage contractor started work with two wagons on the downtown streets Thursday morning and four others started the afternoon. In the morning the manager of the company said he had not completed preparations of schedules for wagons and that routes were still to be every quarter of the city as they are needed. The company has not yet de cided upon a permanent location for its rendering plant, but temporary quarters have been secured in East Omaha.

The following enonuncement has been sent out by the commissioner of health and an effort is being made to place them in every house in the city:

every house in the city:

NOTICE.

On and after August I. 1807, every resident must have a galvanized iron garbage can with cover, having a capacity of not less than ten gallons.

All garbage must be put in regulation cans, which must be kept accessible to the garbage hauler.

No rubbish of any kind will be allowed in garbage cans. If paper, tin cans, glass broken dishes, bottles, old shoes, dead animals or dish water is put in garbage cans, the city teams will refuse to haul it free. Garbage must not be mixed with ashes or emptied anywhere except in cans.

Garbage cans must be scaled once a week.

No one will be allowed to haul garbage after August 1 in the city of Omaha except the Omaha Rendering and Feed company, which company has the exclusive right from the city. If garbage is kept as directed, it will be removed free of expense. This does not include ashes, manure, etc.

By order of the Board of Health.

OMAHA HORSE SHOW PRAISED Best in the Country for City of the Size, Says Bit and Spur Manager.

J. A. Edmondson, manager of the B and Spur, the leading horse show paper of the country, was in Omaha Wednesday, looking over the situation for the horse show in Omaha this fall.

"The outlook is encouraging for a suc
