THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: MONDAY, AUGUST 5, 1907.

Not only has BLEES the finest equipment of any Military School in the United States, but it has at its head two Congressional Medal of Honor men, and is the only school, except West Point itself, whose Superintendent and Commandant are both West Point graduates, and which is conducted strictly according to the high standards of honor, duty and scholarship that obtain at that great national institution. Col. Geo. R. Burnett, Superintendent, was graduated in 1880, and has had years of experience in Military schools. Maj. Louis B. Lawton, the new Commandant, graduated in 1893, is on the retired list because of wounds, and in the past five years has achieved a national reputation as Commandant of Military Schools.

The BLEES plant cost $600,000, and is modern, sanhary and absolutely fireproof. A $60,000 Gymnasium. 1,000 acres of woods lakes, parade ground and athletic fields. Cadets' rooms all single Large corps of university graduate instructors. Splendidly equipped physical and chemical laboratories, manual training shops, library. etc. Drawing and music. Non-sectarian and combines home influences with military discipline, drill, systematic physical culture and high educational standards. Enrollment limited and only boys of good character admitted. Early application advised. Tuition $600. Write for illustrated catalogue. Box 128.

Activities of Lasell Pupils.

Lasell seminary pupils have a strong interest in mission work, in both home and foreign fields. Several of its students have done splendid work in recent years India, Turkey, Africa, Spain, and in Mexico and in settlements in our own country, and others now in attendance are preparing for the work in India. In the home field the Rescue mission Work on the new building of the Wentwork attracts them. There are today working in the wonderfully prosperous business houses of Omaha over 1,000 stenographers and bookkeepers who received their training in stenography and bookkeeping at Boyles College. They are Boyles College enthusiasts. They unhesitatingly declare that Boyles College is the best of all business colleges. The evident superiority of the Boyles' College discipline, as it has been demonstrated to them since they started out in the business world for themselves has convinced them that each and every one of their friends who think of taking up a course in stenography and bookkeeping ought to take that course in Boyles' College -- and every new employe of the establishments in which they are located should come from Boyles College.

are graduated from this school; the kind of young fellows of whom you are proud. The daily drill provides regular exercise and makes healthy, sturdy boys. The erect military carriage, which they retain all their lives, is a fine thing for any man.

The training of the mind is no less thorough than the physical training. The courses of instruction are arranged to prepare students for college, business or a technical profession. Not less important is that, in their school life, our boys are interested, happy and contented. They learn; they are well trained; they grow in body, mind and breadth of character.
