PROCEEDINGS AGAINST ALTON TRAVELS OF GRAINS OF SAND Limitation Saves Railroad in Part of Cases on Which Oil Company Was Convicted.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 .- Preparations for the second federal inquiry into the relations between the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Chicago & Alton railroad ordered by Judge K. M. Landle of the United States district court will be commenced tomorrow. The call for the special grand jury will be issued and Special United States Attorney Slins will go over all the evidence presented at the recent trial of the Standard Oil company, which resulted in conviction and a fine of $29,-662,000, and will select the witnesses to be subposnaed. It developed today that the reason for haste in this matter is that the statute of limitation is running against the government and because of it the Chicago & Alton will escape reindictment on between eighty and 100 counts of the 1.462 on which the Standard was convicted. This statute of limitations bars prosecution on before indictment. Many of the shipments on which the Standard Oil company was convicted of accepting rebates occurred between September, 1903, and August, 1904. When the grand jury convenes on August It a few days will suffice to present the avidence against the Alton. The jury will consider infractions of the Elkins law. occurring from August, 1904, until March, 1905. Subsequently another grand jury will be summoned to take cognizance of alleged offenses committed from March, 1908, until June, 1906, when the new rate law

Effect of Tides and Waves Measured by Experts in Ocean-

The travels of grains of sand have long been a matter of scientific record. Years ago it was established that particles picked up on the coasts of Pas de Calais had their rigin in the rocks of Brittany, from 130 to 180 miles distant. Another standard fact is the discovery on the coast of Denmark of chalk dust which undoubtedly came from ography.

the cliffs of Normandy. Prof. Thoulet, the French oceanographer, has just addressed a report to the academy of science on the precise manner which these particles travel such great distances. He finds that the result is due entirely to the action of waves and tides. causing the particles of sand to pursue a zigzag course, which he likens to the teeth of a saw, and having in the channel and the North sea a general direction from east

o west. The professor calculates that each grain travels at least 8,000 yards up and down offenses committed more than three years the beach under the impulse of the incoming and retreating waves for each yard that it is conveyed parallel with the coast line. Thus, allowing something for the influence of the wind when the sand is dry, the sand from Brittany found along the Pas de Calais strand must have traveled something like 1,000,000 miles to reach here. On an average about fifteen waves minute strike the beach and these cause a lateral movement of about one centlmeter, or one-tenth of an inch, which, however, is apt to be constantly reversed by winds, currents and obstructions. It is inferred that the journey perforemd by each grain of sand must take at least fifts years and may easily consume a hundred .-New York Sun

WHY ONE'S HAIR TURNS GRAY

Shady Sign of Age Often Seen in Youth-A Puzzie for Doctors.

Although usually regarded as a sign of age, gray hair, or canities, as it is called in the language of medicine, is not always so. It may appear early in life, even in the teens. In that case it usually affects young women rather than young men. A peculiarity about the gray hair of the oung is that it is almost always entirely white, and becomes so suddenly. All the hairs are equally affected, and one seldom sees the mixed color, or iron gray, so comon in those of middle or advanced age. Sometimes in the young, even in children, sea of normally colored hair about it. This is usually a family peculiarity, occurring

The cause of the hair turning gray is something that puzzles the doctors. The color of the hair is due to the deposit of pigment in the interior of each hair, and grayness follows the loss of this pigment. That is self-evident, but the puzzle is what causes the pigment to disappear. Some have believed that it is due to the drying of the hair, which causes a shrinkage of its fibres, and so allows the entrance of air bubbles, the refraction of light from which then gives the white appearance. The proof which is adduced in support of this belief is that if a gray lock is put nto the receiver of an air pump and the air is then exhausted the color of the hair may return more or less completely.

Metchnikoff, the famous bacteriologist, says the cause of grayness is the penetration into the hair of wandering cells, resembling the white blood corpuscles. These cells, assisted by other cells, the aggregation of which makes the hair seize upon the granules of pigment and destroy

Nearly everyone has read of instances of the sudden blesching of the hair-even in a single night-under the influence of fear, grief or some other intense mental emotion That such cases have occurred is undoubted, but the explanation by either of the theories above mentioned is difficult. There is no cure for gray hair so far as is known. The use of curling frons is said to retard its formation; perhaps, if Metchnikoff is right, by destroying the activity of the cells which consume the pigment .-Youth's Companion.

WIFE'S LOVE VALUED AT $200,000

Mere Man's Affectious Cuts the Sum in Two-Curious Assortment of Claims and the Vagaries of Judgments.

Damage suits of the crop of 1907, harrested by the New York Herald, throw an interesting light on the personal estimate of the victims of mischance in the Atlantic coast states. Equally instructive is the great difference between the personal estimate and the judgment of juries. Oddly enough, the highest individual sum asked for by one aggrieved was not for the death of a relative, but for the burial of that relative after death. Dr. Chalmers Prentice of Chicago, on learning of the death of his wife at sea and her burial over the side of the ship, announced his intention of suing the company for $250,000. Her daughter demanded that the body be brought to New York city for embalming, but the ship's physician ruled otherwise Just as the highest claim for the first salf of 1907 has not been for death, so the highest allowance by a court has not been for a fatality.

Edward Kleist of New Rochelle had asked $20,000 for injuries sustained in a ollision between railroad trains near this city. His hip was broken, he became paralyzed on the right side, lost the power of speech and had six bones broken in different parts of his body. The settlement, one of the largest ever made by a railroad company in a suit for personal injuries, was for $50,000.

Fifty thousand dollars is the highest im asked for, this year, for sudden death. Petitioners place loss of affection, the ruining of stage career, compulsory army service, breach of promise to marry, railroad wreck injury and steamship annoyances ahead of actual death.

Heading the list of these causes is the suit of William H. Bramson, proprietor of a hotel at Catskill, N. Y. He has asked for $200,600 from two others he charged with alienating the affection of his wife. Just half that sum, or $100,000, is the money value fixed by Charles Leyrer, a New York resident, on the affections of his wife, and it is his former chum who is asked to pay this tidy fortune.

Three women have asked the courts to award them $100,000 apiece as some sort of solace for the departed love of their spouses. One of these, Mrs. Howard Trimpi of Bradley Beach, N. J., wants ber father-in-law to settle, for he it was, according to the plaintiff, who drew the young husband from her side. Of the other two, Mrs. Mary Norris of

New York city, has named a fair Albanian as the person from whom the $100,000 would be most acceptable. Mrs. Bertha B. Arthur thinks she has been injured to the extent of $100,000 because she found in her husband's pockets letters addressed to him and signed

"Louise," which is not Mrs. Arthur's name at all and never has been. Unwilling Soldier Wants $100,000. Another claimant for $100,000 is Samuel Scheler, a crockery clerk of New York City. TIPS ON CUBAN LAND SCHEMES

Promotion Methods in Vogue and Should Be Passed Up.

Cameguey is the home of the land peculator, and the scheme is of American rigin and promotion. Land has been freely purchased in Cuba, especially in the interior of the island, and in many instances care has not been taken to secure good titles. In fact, owing to the unsettled condition of that country for many years, with imperfect records and uncertain marriage relations, it is difficult to determine where the title is vested or who has the right to make a valid conveyance. But such conditions do not deter the land operator, who will run chances of the title being accepted through ignorance or confidence, or He was declared to have originally left who, when confronted with flaws, will have in existence a guaranty company to be more doubtful than the title involved. free to anyone upon application.
