STATE IN THE RIGHT LINE

Nebraska Commended by Mrs. Provindem in Pure Food Crusade.

WOMEN BUYERS CAN HELP, TOO

Word of Advice to Them to Buy Only Pure Foodstuffs and Destroy Market for Adulterations.

Lincoln has been the gathering place the last week of four or five of the food commissioners of surrounding states called together by the hearing of the railroad and express companies in regard to the new schedule of rates for shipping cream and milk. Incidentally they have conferred with each other and with Nebraska's new food commissioner concerning the progress of work in their field, and Nebraska, with its new law just going into effect, is taking lessons of Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota and Colorado.

Nebraska, heretofore, knew only of the existence of milk and its products and vinegar and its products as foods that needed to be looked after. And so it is good that Nebraska is commencing with Iowa and Minnesota and South Dakota and even having a great milk and cream expert from Washington to bring into Nebraska food atmosphere, the thought and action of the expert.

Knowing all this Nebraska's Mrs. Provindem will doubtless buy and put edibles on their tables with a consciousness that the state is looking out for their interest and they will be right in thinking so.

Nebraska, although a little late in the circle, will be giving pointers to other states and sections, and will have good motherly supervision over the foods of her children.

Women Buyers Can Help.

But the women buyers of food can help in this matter materially. Here is one case: When pepper is selling at 14c to 16 cents a pound wholesale in the berry, they can buy prepared pepper ground, put up in packages with a lithographed label and after passing through two or three hands, for about half that and the retailer, who deals it out to them, can buy it for much less. Now it stands to reason that something has gone into that pretty package they are buying besides pepper pure, at 14 cents a pound. And here is what it is: For black and white pepper, olive pits and wheat crackers are ground together and called spice mixture; for cinnamon, wood fiber, wheat crackers and iron oxide and so on. Now the trade has found out that women will buy the cheaper things and so they adulterate and make it cheap food to give them. Just as soon as the women, who buy demand and are willing to pay for a pure food, the honest merchants will give it to them and the ones who would adulterate are driven from their dishonest practices whereby they can undersell the honest merchant.

But if the women buy the cheaper foods some way will be found to put them on the market and a pure spice, for instance, cannot be sold for a less price to the retail trade than the wholesale products cost. If you want to mix your spices do it yourself; buy a few ounces of the pure article at the pure price (and under the present laws it can be obtained) and grind up some shredded biscuit or Graham crackers and mix with them. You will have something better than olive pits and wood fiber, which is contained in some of the mixtures. Buy the best stuff and adulterate it yourself with a nutmeg or food of the cheaper kind.

Some Good Old Recipes.

"I like to put up a few of the old-fashioned condiments that we all need and to like in our youth, but it is really hard to get these times," said Mrs. Provindem. "One of them is nasturtium pickles. Having a long row of the pretty plants, I have been gathering some of the green pods and here are the results." And she showed four or five bottles filled with the pickles, greenish seeds in a clean, open medium, which looked good. "This is my way of preparing them: Gather when full sized, but green, leaving a tiny bit of the stem. Make a brine strong enough to float an egg, pour over the pods and let them stand for two days; then wash and let stand in clean water for twenty-four hours; drain, pack in glass jars; and pour over them the following: To every pint of vinegar add half a dozen whole pepper corns, a blade of mace and a tablespoon of brown sugar; boil up and pour over the pods in the jars, having heated the jars sufficiently to prevent a breakage; seal at once and put away for five or six weeks before using. They improve with age.

"Pickled walnuts are a rare but pleasantly spicy pickle. If one uses true such things get black walnuts almost full sized, but soft enough to be pierced by a needle; clean and rub them well, prick them several times with a large needle and throw them

NO MONOPOLY ON GARBAGE

New Arrangement Does Not Prevent Anyone from Hauling.

NOR DOES IT KEEP CANS EMPTY

In View of Old Decision of Supreme Court Doubt is Felt as to Legality of the New Plan.

While Contractor McPherson is working overtime trying to get the new garbage system going and people in many parts of town are complaining that the garbage receptacles are overflowing, it develops that there is no ordinance, or law which will prevent householders from hiring any person, firm or corporation to remove any form of garbage and there will not be until the city council acts on an ordinance which has been prepared at the instance of the commissioner of health, and there is a probability that even after the council acts the ordinance may not be effective.

This latter contingency arises through the decision of the supreme court of the state in a suit which resulted in the violation of the City Garbage company's contract a few years ago on the ground that the city has no right to establish a monopoly in certain cases. The reason that the decision is not conclusive as to the pending ordinance is that the contract with the City Garbage company included not only each garbage as might be offensive to health, but ashes and such matters as have no immediate effect upon the health of the community and the city health department is of the opinion that a monopoly in the removal of organic garbage may be established, although this point is not established. Assistant City Attorney Dunn was the attorney for the plaintiff in the City Garbage company suits and it was his contention which was established in the decision.

Pending the consideration of the proposed garbage ordinance by the council the hotel and restaurant men of the city are busy. The association has prepared a circular, which has been sent to all interested parties, setting forth the proposed ordinance in full and asking for the opinion of the recipient as to its merits. The circular states that it has been submitted to a committee of the association and the majority of the members of the committee are practically satisfied with it and that it will probably be adopted. The members of the association are asked to co-operate with the garbage contractor and the city health authorities in the enforcement of the present contract pending final action on the ordinance.

WOULD HAVE DIED BUT FOR CUTICURA

Five Children Suffered With Fearful Skin Troubles—One Little Girl's Eyesight Was Endangered—A Grateful Woman Writes of

FIVE PERFECT CURES BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"Cuticura Remedies saved my two children. My little girl got well after covered with sores that she could not see and I thought at one time that her eyesight was gone for good. After two doctors failed to cure her, a friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I did so and in two or three days we could see a green discharge and in four weeks she was well and her face was smooth and had cured nicely. She had been sore for three months so that she could not see well at all. My little boy was sore all over. His head was a solid scab. First we tried a doctor who did him no good, but the first time I bathed my son's head with Cuticura Soap and put Cuticura Ointment on it he rested better at night and the next morning his head was much better. In five weeks he was well. I cannot say enough for the Cuticura Remedies for if I had not used them my baby would have died. My little sister, Nora S., had a terribly sore face. I told my mother of the Cuticura Remedies. She used them and the child's face got well. After that the best doctors had failed. Pearl B. used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills for sores on her body and face. My little Pinkie S. had a sore head. Her mother used Cuticura Soap and Ointment on it and she was soon well. Mrs. Sutherland, Guthrie, Diawiddle Co., Va., Apr. 15, 1907."

ECZEMA ON FACE

Cured by the Cuticura Remedies

"I had eczema in very bad form all over my face for the past four months. Physicians in several towns prescribed for it without giving me any results, but four weeks ago I commenced using the Cuticura Remedies, consisting of one cake of Cuticura Soap, one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and to-day I am perfectly well. Nettie Hedges, Guthrie, Iowa, May 4, 1907."

ANGLO RANDONE IS CAPTURED

Angelo Randone, an Italian who fled from Omaha Wednesday hoping to escape criminal prosecution on a statutory charge against a 15-year-old Italian girl, has been captured at Cheyenne and will be brought back to Omaha. Deputy Sheriff Haxe, who had charge of the search for Randone, received word of the capture Friday morning. Deputy Sheriff Allan will leave for Cheyenne to bring the prisoner back.

Curbing Under Inspection.—The council committee on paving is again inspecting the curbing on South Twenty-fourth street between Leavenworth and Vinson streets. A number of the members went over the work Thursday, and Friday morning the other members of the committee and Assistant City Engineer Crick were called upon to go over the work. The result of their conference will be the approval or rejection of the bill of E. D. VanCourt, who did the work.

Ball is Again in Trouble.—Robert A. Ball, the employment agent who was severely reprimanded by Judge Crawford several days ago for alleged swindling practices, was arrested Friday morning on the charge of doing business without a license. His general unpopularity with the officers of the law was demonstrated by the fact that he was sent for immediately when the warrant was issued and brought to the station, searched and locked up before being given an opportunity to give bond.

Stray Colored Boy.—Robert Huggins, a small negro, was picked up by the police Friday morning about 1 o'clock asleep in a wagon at Fourteenth and Harney streets. He was placed in charge of the probation officers and by them taken to the Detention home, pending consideration of his case. The boy says that his mother lives in Aurora, Ill., and that he has been staying with a brother, but became dissatisfied and went to stay with an aunt. He found this no more satisfactory and now wants to go to his mother, from whom he was taken by a Des Moines court about a year ago.

Funeral of Patrick H. Swift.—The funeral of Patrick H. Swift, who died Wednesday at his home, 269 South Twentieth street, was celebrated at St. Philomena's cathedral Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Requiem high mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. P. A. McGovern, assisted by Fathers Simms and Stensrud of Omaha and Father McManus of Des Moines. Interment was at Holy Sepulcher cemetery. The active pallbearers were: Thomas Dugdale, W. P. Mulcahy, Max Becht, Henry Scroggins, John Mulick and E. T. Boynton. The ushers at the church were Frank McCaffrey, William McCaffrey, Martin Cannon and Edward Kennedy.

THE RELIABLE SPECIALISTS

HONEST, CAPABLE AND RELIABLE

Nowadays specialty work is called for and demanded, notably so when the sufferer's life or health is endangered. It is then the best treatment medical science affords should be sought for. Many diseases and weaknesses, which are so prevalent among men, are their worst enemies. They produce startling weaknesses and cause great physical and mental torture. They eventually rob men of priceless manhood and strength. Neglect or improper treatment has been the means of blighting the most radiant hopes, rendering business a failure.

Many sufferers from this class of troubles are buying ready-made remedies at drug stores, and then wonder why they don't get well.
