spite the perpetual allying scale. The telephone companies made a pretense of increasing wages the rates on telegrams was increased and the public paid the bill. The Western Union has a capital of $24,000,000 and the actual profits last year were $1,000,000, or one-sixth of the capital stock.

"Since the earthquake and fire in San Francisco the Western Union main office has been located in the negro quarter of West Oakland and the superintendent's office is in San Francisco. It requires three hours' time and costs 10 cents to make a trip between the two places.

"It is not a question of abuse of power of the officers of our organization. It is a question of whether or not the commercial telegraphers of this country have a real grievance. If they have, then in the name of justice, let us get together and adjust these grievances, but not in a manner in which the San Francisco strike was settled."

Say Clowry Broke Faith.

President Small insists that Colonel Clowry has violated both in spirit and letter the agreement accepted by him, which is on file in the office of commissioner of labor, and that the company voluntarily broke the agreement which ended the first San Francisco strike.

"The salaries of employes and the service to the public have been sacrificed," says Mr. Small, "to pay 30 per cent dividends. It has become a common understanding that the public have no redress from the telegraph companies, and the position the public finds itself in is the precise conditions of the telegraphers. The average wage of the commercial telegraphers is less than $60 per month, as shown by actual statistics."

As to Associated Press.

"The letter of Melville E. Stone bawling the nasty action of that association's telegraphers in striking on a few hours' notice, would sound like music in the ears of his operators. Why did not Mr. Stone tell the whole story?

"It is over two years since the same scale of wages was presented to the management of the Associated Press. They have had all of that time to consider it. Their board of directors has met at least five times since the scale was presented."

"When the committee of five Associated Press operators first presented the schedule to Stone September 16, 1905, he theoretically kicked them out and caused his board of directors to pass a resolution rescinding a previous resolution which granted a free typewriter and a vacation to the union men over a year to force a restoration of the vacation privilege and a slight increase in wages.

"General Manager Stone exhausted his stock of generosity when, in reply to the publishers of papers talking that service on the southern circuit out of Washington, requesting that the wire open one hour earlier on Sunday night and offering to pay the operators for the extra time, he said that the wire would open one hour earlier as requested and that it would cost the publishers nothing."

"The Associated Press operators have been working one hour extra per week for several months and have received no extra compensation for it."

New Device Installed.

The telegraphers' strike situation in Omaha remains unchanged. At strike headquarters Thursday evening all was peaceful. No new recruits were reported to either side.

The striking operators expect to hold a meeting Sunday afternoon in Washington hall, at which there are to be several important speakers.

The Western Union reported the condition of work most satisfactory. There was no undelivered business and there were clear wires to all cities. At 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon the Western Union opened a Wheatstone automatic wire from Chicago to San Francisco. This is an instrument which sends messages without an operator and by means of several repeaters, transmits dispatches from Chicago to San Francisco at the rate of 120 words a minute. It was stated that this would materially lighten the business in the Omaha office, which has had to act as a relay station for through messages because no one could be secured in Chicago to operate the automatic machine.

NO CALL ON BROKER MEN NOW

Small Will Wait Till He Gets to Chicago.

President Graul of the local union had expected Mr. Small to advise him whether or not to call out the men in the grain offices in Omaha, but Mr. Small said he did not expect to give much advice until he reached Chicago. He told the local men it was not necessary to keep pickets about the telegraph offices and said no stronger force than vocal persuasion ought to be used to prevent union men from going back to work.

Although it was 5 o'clock in the morning when Mr. Small reached Omaha, he was met by five Omaha operators who had stayed up all night to greet him.

He left at 5:15 for Chicago and expected to reach that city about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

ALL A. D. T. BOYS ARE AT WORK

Some of Postal Go Over to Western Union.

The last of the twenty-two messenger boys who struck Monday at the Western Union office went back to work Thursday morning. Only a small number of them returned Wednesday, but all reported the next morning. The new boys were formerly employed by the Postal company. The business at the Postal office is light and although Manager Williams has refused to take back any of the strikers he has enough to carry all the messages. Nine boys went out lines, but not more than four are needed now. Mr. Williams refused to grant any of the demands of the strikers and says he prefers to hire new boys altogether if possible.

"They have the strike fever now," he said Thursday morning, "and while they are in that mood they are not good messengers. There are thousands of boys available at the old terms and as long as that is the case I will hire them without making any concessions."

Williams insists upon a straight rate of 2 cents a message with no guarantee, package charges to go to the messenger, but he refuses to allow any drawing out of pay at irregular times.

The only demands which the Western Union boys were refused were the 2-cent rate and no night work. They accepted the 1½-cent rate, which they already had, with one working night a week and a guarantee of $25 a month. They are allowed to draw on the first and the twentieth of every month, and their mothers, if depending upon them for support, can draw what is due at any time on application. They will not be asked to carry packages.

The boys desire the only thing that keeps them from getting $20 a month is the lack of a well organized union. It has been their intention to organize as soon as they are settled again after this strike and a meeting was held in an informal way Thursday to discuss the situation. There is a strong union among the boys in Chicago and it is now on strike.

Only one case of the use of violence has come to light. Tuesday night the pickets of the messenger boys saw a boy come out of the Postal office and a number of them accosted him near the Paxton hotel. He denied having any message, but they found a Postal envelope and sheet in his pocket. The envelope was found to contain a Western Union message. The message was taken from him and after being lectured by the Postal office and a number of them to the story the leaders of the boys tell, and drew his pay.

WEATHER REPORTS ARE POORER

Affected More by Strike as it Progresses.

The weather bureau felt the effect of the telegraphers' strike more Thursday than at any time since the strike began. Many reports are missing from the east and no reports at all are received from the Canadian provinces. The western and northwestern service is also unsatisfactory and on the whole matters are becoming worse as the strike continues.

Over at army headquarters the general telegraphic service is very incomplete. A few scattering telegrams come in occasionally. However, the transmission of telegrams out of Omaha is not so bad to the various military headquarters, as the army has its own operators at the different posts. The quartermaster and commissary departments use the long distance telegraphs for the transaction of most outside business. The adjutant general's office manages to keep the telephone and telegraph line open between Omaha and Fort Riley and Leavenworth, as the government has its own operators at these posts.

RAILWAY MEN SLOW TO ACT

These Operators Not Likely to Strike, Says Park.

"The prospects of trouble with the railway telegraphers is very remote," says the superintendent of Park of the Union Pacific. "I can't imagine how they can be drawn into this controversy. Our relations with the railroad telegraphers are exceedingly harmonious and there seems to be no possibility of them being drawn into the strike."

STRIKERS CLAIM NEW STRENGTH

Unionists Industriously Looking Out for Their Fences.

At strike headquarters it is reported that one more Western Union man, Johnson, and one girl, Miss Moore, have joined the strikers. It is said also that two men who came from Colorado to Omaha as strike breakers have been persuaded to join the ranks. Pickets have been stationed in the alley in the rear of the Western Union office to see that no non-union men enter.

Bingham and Boyer, grain brokers, discharged a man Thursday morning because he would not promise to stay with them if the union reported him out. An hour later the firm ordered it had hired a man in his place.

An operator in one of the grain offices talked by wire with an operator in Kansas City early in the forenoon and the latter said the union men would leave all grain offices in Kansas City which did not sign before night.

The lengths to which the union will go to get one man away from the telegraph companies is shown by the fact that the local officials wrote the traffic manager of the Erie Dispatch regarding the Omaha representative of the Erie Dispatch, B. J. Drummond, who insisted on working nights for the Western Union. President Graul had word Thursday morning from the Erie's traffic manager that he had ordered Mr. Drummond to stay away from the Western Union and attend strictly to railroad business.

BLAIR, Neb., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Tom Ostermann, editor of the Democrat, today closed the deal for the Courier plant, paying $25,000. The editor of the Courier, D. C. Van Deusen, in turn bought the Blair Pilot plant for $5,000. L. A. Williams, editor of the Pilot, retiring from the newspaper field in Washington county, a sign of relief over the readjustment came from the people of Blair, who have been compelled to read of the troubles of three papers. There is some talk of celebrating this event in a fit manner either by a big bonfire or barbecue, to be held in the remarkable chapter of journalism in Washington county. It is expected that harmony and good will will prevail.

GOULD ADMITS TRUNK CRIME

Englishman Arrested at Marcellus Confesses Murder of Woman.

MARCELLUS, Aug. 15.—By the confession of Vere St. Ledger Gould that he was the murderer of Emma Levin at Monte Carlo, the "trunk mystery" has been cleared up. Gould in his statement to the examining magistrate coolly related all the details of the crime. He alone had slain the woman, he declared, and it was he who cut up her body, although his wife had helped him pack it away in their baggage. After this had been done they both agreed to journey to Marcellus, where they planned to confess the crime. He it was that hid the body, whose first name is Violet, also confessed her part in the crime. She said her husband had promised to give Emma Levin the sum of $100 for a certain reason, but she demanded $100 more, which she wanted to give to a man friend. This Mr. Gould objected to, his wife said, whereupon Emma Levin asked him, "Referring to what happened next, Gould says in his confession: "I had been drinking and becoming angry. I seized a hunting knife and buried it in Emma's back. She fell dead. The next day I dismembered the body with a knife and placed the torso in a trunk and the head and legs in a valise. I only stabbed the woman once. The other wounds on her body must have been caused by shaking around in the trunk."

Gould said they carried off Emma Levin's jewels, not for their value, but in order to prevent their discovery in his apartment.

He was a bricklayer and contractor, building the Methodist church here in 1885-6 and the First Presbyterian church. When Nebraska City was being platted he, with others, laid out South Nebraska City, in opposition with others, and there was a race to Omaha to see who should first file their plans. He, with his wife and Judge Holly, left here in a two-seated rig and drove to Omaha, beating the other party but a few minutes. He was the first mayor of South Nebraska City. He also did considerable contract work in Denver. Mr. Lull was the oldest fellow in the city, having been a member of good standing for the last sixty-four years. His wife died several years ago, as also did his son, and he leaves a daughter, with whom he lived. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

Union Pacific, Says Park, Settles Colorado & Southern Strike.

MEN RETURN WITHOUT PREJUDICE

All Matters Will Be Taken Up by Railroad Affected at Denver During Early Part of Next Week.

"Through the mediation of the Union Pacific, the strike on the Colorado Southern railroad, which has been on for two weeks, was settled by the men returning to work at 7 a. m. Wednesday on the same basis as prevailed before the strike," said W. L. Park, general superintendent of the Union Pacific, who has been in the west for a couple of weeks. "The men returned to work without prejudice and the whole matter will be taken up between all railroads in the 2-cent yard differential at Denver on August 20."

"E. H. Morrissey, grand master of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, remains in Denver personally to conduct the negotiations for his organization. The strike in Colorado and in Wyoming and New Mexico was being very severely felt by the business interests, particularly in Denver and vicinity.

"It is generally conceded the Colorado & Southern had the best of the situation, as it had manned all switch engines and was moving all passenger trains and a large number of freight trains.

"The explosion at Boulder, which resulted in the death of five persons and in the injury of twenty-five or thirty others had a depressing effect on the entire state, the southern railroads, the Cripple Creek troubles were imminent and were considerably alarmed. Mr. Morrissey very much deplored this incident and was very much impressed with the condition of the labor atmosphere in Colorado under such circumstances. The liability of irresponsible individuals committing overt acts is a very serious matter."

EVENTFUL TOUR OF EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burns Have Varied Experiences While Abroad.

"No statuary in the halls of fame and art in all Europe looks as fine to an American as the old Goddess of Liberty in New York harbor," said Samuel Burns, who has just returned from a summer in England and on the continent. Mrs. Burns is still abroad.

"The weather over there has been backward, as it was here," said Mr. Burns. "In Ireland they are actually weathered the potatoes to rot in the ground and there will be only a fraction of a crop. The old spirit of unrest is still in Ireland, the old chafing under the yoke of England. There is dissatisfaction against England and the demand for a republic. In Ireland it would be a republic in a short time.

"We saw King Edward and Queen Alexandra at the coronation of a college at Colwyn, Wales. The king, in spite of his age, seems to be still in the prime of his life, and seems to be still in the prime though he is nearly 70 years old. The queen, who must be 60, doesn't look more than 20. The English people worship them. Never have such a popular pair occupied the throne. They respected Victoria for her sterling qualities. They still have the present king of their democracy. The people re-peated a very pretty prayer for the benefit of the queen, there. It ran: "Saxon and Norman and Dane are we, But all of us Danks in our welcome to thee."

"We also saw the 'king and queen' of Denmark in Paris. We were in the house of Parliament in London and heard the celebrated speech of Premier Balfour on the Irish question, a speech which is said to have rivaled the most famous speeches of Gladstone.

"Paris we met old friends. On the Boulevard des Italiens we came face to face with Mr. and Mrs. Hitchcock. In Paris we also met Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Diets.

"A funny incident occurred while we were waiting for a train at the station in Liege. I noticed three men who were pointing to me and talking rapidly. I called my wife's attention to them. We were much puzzled to know what was the matter. "I beg your pardon," he said, "but I have a bet of $5 up that that man in the black suit is the murderer of the woman with whom I am walking. You are, are you not? I was compelled to tell him that he had lost his bet."

WOODMEN HOLD BIG PICNIC

Two Thousand People Are Present at the Logrolling at Bennington Thursday.

Modern Woodmen of America to the number of about 1,000, with a number of friends and political aspirants, returned to Omaha from the picnic at Bennington Thursday night, tired but happy.

The special train left in the morning and when the program opened the thousand people from the city had been joined by an equal number from the various camps in the counties of Douglas, Washington, Cass and Sarpy, which comprise this district log rolling association.

The program opened with a parade of camps followed by speaking in the grove, where addresses were delivered by the mayor of Bennington, C. H. T. Ripen, president of the association; T. H. Corns of Des Moines, Ia., and Mrs. Kate Remington of the Royal Neighbors. After the speaking the usual picnic races and contests took place and in addition drill contests. B. M. camp No. 98 won the first prize in the senior class and Magnolia camp No. 183 first prize in the junior class. In the individual contest the first prize was won by John Killian of Omaha camp, second prize by James Shields of Beech camp.

At the business meeting of the association following the picnic Mr. Thomas of Beech camp was elected president. Mrs. Ida Foster Olson of Omaha, second vice president; Mrs. Laura Schrum of Golden Rod camp, Royal Neighbors, third vice president; N. J. Marvin, secretary; Mrs. Kate Remington, treasurer.

TRAGEDY IN SAN DIEGO

Torn and Blood-Stained Garments of Woman Found on Santa Fe Dock.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 15.—The finding of portions of a woman's clothing, torn and bloodstained, on the outer end of the Santa Fe docks last night and a wisp of woman's hair lying nearby full of blood, caused belief that a tragedy had been committed. A woman's garter and a black leather purse were found. In the latter was a note reading: "Dear May—Meet me tonight, old place, at 8 p. m. If you do not, I will fix place and you both believe me, I am in dead earnest. So let my little sweetheart come."

A line of blood spots led from the place where there had evidently been a struggle to the edge of the wharf, and this led to the suspicion that a woman had been murdered and the body thrown into the water. The authorities are investigating.

Only Twelve Days Apart, Latter at O'Neill, Hence Authorities Will Push Prosecution in the Courts.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—As he stepped from the doors of the Sioux Falls penitentiary after serving a term for horse stealing, Bennett R. Moore was arrested by the United States authorities of South Dakota on instructions from the federal authorities of Nebraska, where Moore is wanted on an indictment charging him with perjury.

Moore has been surrendered to the United States authorities of Nebraska. The indictment returned against the prisoner in the federal court in Nebraska, a copy of which was sent to the federal authorities here, charges that Moore committed perjury on July 2, 1904, before the officers of the United States land office at O'Neill, Neb. The alleged perjury consists of swearing in an affidavit after he had made application for the entry of a homestead in the O'Neill district, that he had never before made an entry under the homestead law, when the facts are alleged by the government to be that on July 3, 1904, he made entry of a homestead in the Rapid City (S. D.) land district.

As the entry and the attempted entry of another homestead were made in the same month and year, and only twelve days apart, Moore must have gone to O'Neill soon after making the entry in western South Dakota.

Moore was confined in one of the rooms of the jail here which has a window opening toward the rear of the building. While he was standing near the window it was discovered that he was in conversation with some one outside, and Deputy Sheriff Harry Hirsch made an investigation. Walking around the building the deputy sheriff found a stranger, who gave his name as A. W. Nelson, talking to the prisoner. Nelson was arrested and searched by the officers, but no saws or other jail-breaking appliances were found in his possession. However, he admitted that he knew Moore. Nelson was taken before Judge Dickey of the local court on the charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10. In default of the payment of the fine he has been lodged in jail to serve a term of ten days.

PRIMARYS IN SAN FRANCISCO

Republican League Which Supports Graff Prosecution Controls Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The primary election in this city resulted in a sweeping victory for the republican league or Ryan ticket, which stood for earnest support of the bribery graft prosecution and in all likelihood, the nomination of District Attorney Langdon, who, it is previously understood, will be backed by McNabe also.

CRIMINALS IN NEBRASKA

Only Twelve Days Apart, Latter at O'Neill, Hence Authorities Will Push Prosecution in the Courts.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—As he stepped from the doors of the Sioux Falls penitentiary after serving a term for horse stealing, Bennett R. Moore was arrested by the United States authorities of South Dakota on instructions from the federal authorities of Nebraska, where Moore is wanted on an indictment charging him with perjury.

Moore has been surrendered to the United States authorities of Nebraska. The indictment returned against the prisoner in the federal court in Nebraska, a copy of which was sent to the federal authorities here, charges that Moore committed perjury on July 2, 1904, before the officers of the United States land office at O'Neill, Neb. The alleged perjury consists of swearing in an affidavit after he had made application for the entry of a homestead in the O'Neill district, that he had never before made an entry under the homestead law, when the facts are alleged by the government to be that on July 3, 1904, he made entry of a homestead in the Rapid City (S. D.) land district.

As the entry and the attempted entry of another homestead were made in the same month and year, and only twelve days apart, Moore must have gone to O'Neill soon after making the entry in western South Dakota.

Moore was confined in one of the rooms of the jail here which has a window opening toward the rear of the building. While he was standing near the window it was discovered that he was in conversation with some one outside, and Deputy Sheriff Harry Hirsch made an investigation. Walking around the building the deputy sheriff found a stranger, who gave his name as A. W. Nelson, talking to the prisoner. Nelson was arrested and searched by the officers, but no saws or other jail-breaking appliances were found in his possession. However, he admitted that he knew Moore. Nelson was taken before Judge Dickey of the local court on the charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10. In default of the payment of the fine he has been lodged in jail to serve a term of ten days.
