NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY

Farewell to Miss Lomax at the Country Club.

QUIET DAY AT HAPPY HOLLOW

Club Members Are Not Improving Tuesday as Ladies' Day and Only Few Luncheons Are Given.

Tuesday can scarcely be said to have "made a hit" with society as a second "day at Happy Hollow. Perhaps it is because it was instituted too late in the season and perhaps it is because people don't really object to the Thursday "crash" as seriously as they would make believe if that crash does not interfere with their service. For some reason, however, Tuesday has never attracted more than a few affairs, and these have not been large.

Mrs. Draper Smith was hostess at the only luncheon given at Happy Hollow Tuesday, Mrs. C. S. Lobingier of the Philippines, formerly of Omaha, being the guest of honor. Her table had a beautiful centerpiece of pink and white asters combined with cosmos, and her guests were Mrs. Lobingier, Mrs. H. B. Neeley, Mrs. G. W. Herrington, Mrs. Henry A. Wagner, Mrs. George Tilden, Mrs. E. B. Towle, Mrs. A. J. Somers, Mrs. H. H. Heller, Mrs. J. H. Sumner and Mrs. E. G. McGilton.

Mrs. Samuel Rose, who was to have entertained for Mrs. Carrie Hobbs of Chicago, postponed her luncheon until Thursday, as her guest was unable to arrive.

At the Country Club.

A farewell dinner was given for Miss Mildred Lomax Tuesday evening at the Country Club by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilkins and Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Burns. The table was brightened with a centerpiece of pink asters and the guests were: Miss Lomax, Mrs. and Mrs. Luther Kountze, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy, Mr. Frank Haskell and Mr. Harry Tukey.

Smaller dinners were given by Mr. C. S. Montgomery, Mr. A. T. Hamilton, Mr. Harry L. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Beason and Mr. George Peck.

At the Field Club.

Miss Margaret Whitney gave a delightful bowling party Monday afternoon at the Field club, when the high score was made by Miss Florence True. Dinner followed the game, the table having a charming centerpiece of hydrangeas. Covers were laid for Miss Martha Bliss, Miss Florence True, Miss Hazel Stevens, Miss Adelaide Clarke, Miss Marion Funkhouser, Miss Dora Stevens, Miss Mary Schermerhorn, Miss Lillian Shears and Miss Margaret Whitney.

Birthday Celebration.

Mrs. George H. Miller entertained a party of friends Sunday evening at a party dinner in celebration of her husband's birthday at their new bungalow, Papio View, on West Dodge street. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hoop, Mr. and Mrs. Will Zitzmann, Mr. William Hoop, Mr. W. M. Nelson and Masters Wendell and Clara Moore.

Mrs. J. D. Fradenburg gave an informal kennington Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Hattie Fradenburg of Kansas City. Her guests were Miss Fradenburg, Miss Mable Bates and Miss Janet Huntington of Council Bluffs, Miss Grace Baker, Miss Julia Baker, Miss Frances Lavidge, Mrs. Walter Wallace, Mrs. Erna Whitlock, Mrs. J. B. Fradenburg and Mrs. J. B. Fradenburg, Jr.

Mrs. C. W. Reynolds of 1010 Lincoln boulevard gave a doll and Teddy party Tuesday afternoon for her little daughters, Miss Ruth and Miss Helen Reynolds. The afternoon was an exceedingly happy one for the children. The large lawn was their playground and different games afforded amusement. A bean bag contest, for which the winner received a

WOMEN OPPOSE NEW CHARTER

Jane Addams, Mrs. Henrietta and Other Prominent Chicago Women Object to Charter Which Disregards Woman's Rights.

A committee of prominent Chicago women, headed by Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Helen M. Henrietta, Mrs. Florence Holbrook and other women, submitted a protest, has declared against the new Chicago charter, which will be presented to the voters of that city in September, and is doing all possible to secure its rejection. The women announce the following reasons for their objection to the charter:

It does not provide for woman suffrage. Its civic service provisions permit discrimination on account of sex. It provides no method of amendment whereby these injustices can be righted, except through the initiative of the city council, in which women have no representation.

The Ottumwa (Ia.) Women's club will make housekeeping as a profession a study for the coming year. The various branches will be distributed through the course, and an hour will be devoted to each lesson, which will be followed by an hour's demonstration in cookery. The calendar, which follows, will be of interest to other clubs:

September 27-Subject, "Personal Hygiene, the Care of the Body, Cleanliness, Rest, Sleep."

October 4-Subject, "Personal Hygiene, Drugs, Habits, Ethics of Household Hygiene I, Drainage, Ventilation."

October 11-Subject, "Household Hygiene II, Heating, Lighting, Water."

November 15-Subject, "Household Hygiene III, Wastes of the House, Plumbing, Etc."

November 22-Subject, "Household Hygiene III and Supplement, Furnishings, Care and Cleaning."

December 27-Subject, "The Decoration of the House II."

January 10-Subject, "Planning Meals." January 24-Subject, "Household Management I, Expenditures, Rent, Food, Etc."

February 7-Subject, "Household Management I, Household Accounts." February 21-Subject, "Household Management II, Buying Supplies, Furnishings, Etc."

March 7-Subject, "Household Management III, Marketing, Meat and Groceries." April 4-Subject, "Household Management III, System, Domestic Service."

Civil Service Reform. Miss Emily Hutchinson, secretary of the Woman's auxiliary to the Civil Service Reform association, suggests that members of the league and of the auxiliary form a joint committee for the furtherance of civil service reform propaganda. The auxiliary has also planned and organized two years ago, has already done much effective work, its efforts for the last year having been directed chiefly along educational lines, through schools, women's clubs and individual correspondents, to whom have been sent printed and other matter pertaining to civil service reform. In many sections classes have been formed for the discussion of the history of the movement in the United States. The auxiliary is now working for the introduction of municipal civil instruction in the public schools.

Work of Patriotic Women. Daughters of the American Revolution in Kansas are celebrating the completion of the marking of the historic old Santa Fe trail in that state. The societies of Colorado, New Mexico and Missouri have also placed markers along the old trail in their respective states. Societies in Utah have begun the marking of the great Salt Lake trail, while societies in the states and territories through which the Lewis and Clark expedition passes are formulating plans for suitably marking that trail.

One Way to Escape Paying Duty on Valuable Imported Laces.

A young woman just returned from abroad who purchased some very valuable lace on the other side on which she didn't want to pay duty conceived the idea of making the lace into a gumpie to wear with a juniper costume, which was a simple summer silk. So she very laboriously made an entire shirt waist of the lace. She filled in the V at the neck with net, thereby obviating the necessity of cutting the lace. Then she sewed the lace on a body of net, were ruffled and beaded with rows on row of the precious lace, and if the custom house officer thought it a somewhat expensive gumpie to wear with such a simple costume he didn't say so, evidently supposing it to be a new Paris mode. That gumpie cost precisely $20. This young woman is now utilizing the lace in a wedding gown in which she is to figure at one of the fall weddings in St. Thomas' church. She thinks that "all's fair in love and war," evidently being of the opinion that paying duty comes under the head of war.

BIG DOINGS AT AK-SAR-BEN

Fremont People Out in Force and J. Adam Bede Makes a Speech.

Two hundred valiant rookies enlisted under the standard of King Ak-Sar-Ben Monday night, of which number 104 were from the city of Fremont, accompanied by the Fremont band. The attendance was the largest of the season and the program was one of the best.

William Kennedy acted as grand mufli and the work was carried through without a fault or flaw. The paid membership Monday night was 1,052, against 817 a year ago, leaving but 211 to complete the total, which is the limit to which the paid membership will be accepted this year.

Following the initiation of the recruits a season of speech-making was indulged in, with Mayor Wals and E. R. Gurney of Fremont and Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota as the principal speakers.

Mayor Wals reiterated the loyalty and friendship of Fremont for Omaha. Congressman Bede talked very interestingly and eloquently and made a strong plea for a more beautiful Omaha, citing the beautifying of St. Paul and Minneapolis as an example that Omaha might profitably follow. He thought that the environs of Omaha were capable of such beautification as to make the city one of the handsomest in the country. The address of Mr. Bede was full of wholesome humor. Among other things he said:

"We may seek to denounce the Standard Oil as an octopus, but at the same time whatever price it may put upon its oil there is always somebody ready to buy. The whisky drinker looks for a brand of whisky that tastes as good coming up as it does going down. Men are made of the same stuff that fogs are made of and many are filled with the same contents. It is comfortable to be a millionaire, but it is better to be an American citizen. I was born in Ohio, but for political purposes only. All our modern civilization is compassed within the span of a single life. It requires more to solve a great national problem among a free people than in a despotism. It takes time and patience to meet the great problems of today. To Omaha I can only say, be alert to every interest of your great community. Political bosses could not exist if the intelligent, patriotic voter would do his duty. It is the negligence of the voter that gives the political boss his power and prestige."

Over the speakers' stand was a large banner saying, "Fremont, We Did You Welcome."

A large bulletin in the Den gives out this concise information: Tuesday, September 25, carnival opens. Wednesday night, October 1, automobile parade. Wednesday, October 2, grand electric parade. Thursday afternoon, October 3, float parade. Friday night, October 4, coronation and ball at Den. Last initiation, Wednesday, September 18, Bankers' night.

Among the prominent visitors present Monday night were Mayor Wals and Attorney C. E. Abbott of Fremont, J. Adam Bede, member of congress from the Fourth Minnesota district, and representatives from the states of New York, Nebraska, Washington, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Kansas, Pennsylvania, Montana, Wyoming, Oregon, Utah, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Tennessee, and Thomas J. Campbell of Chattanooga, England.

ORDERS FOR POLICE FORCE Instructions to Refrain from Attempts to Influence Primary Election.

The following resolution was adopted by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners Monday night: Resolved, That all officers and members of the Omaha police department be and they are hereby admonished and directed that in the discharge of any duty connected with the primary election of September 3, 1907, or any subsequent election of any nature whatsoever, they are to act fairly and impartially, without reference to race, color, religion, political party, or any other officer or member thereof, or with any other person for the purpose of unlawfully controlling or influencing any election, or to be tolerated by the board, but that upon satisfactory evidence of any such offense the guilty party will stand subject to disciplinary dismissal.

The object of this resolution is to impress the entire department beyond all misunderstanding that the duties of police officers and officers in elections is absolutely nonpartisan and disinterested, and is to preserve the purity of elections under the laws of the state and the ordinances of the city.

In presenting the resolution Commissioner Page said that the object was to advise the police and the public as to the duties of the police on election day and also to disabuse the public mind as to certain rumors that are now afloat and may hereafter be set afloat.

The case of Harry Fair, who is charged by Dr. Solomon with conducting his saloon at 1263 Vinton street in a manner which causes it to be a nuisance, was again returned. A number of witnesses were examined and several testified that the place was conducted in a noisy manner. The board announced that its decision would be rendered at next Monday's meeting.

W. T. Razez, a member of the fire department, tendered his resignation, but as charges of intoxication are pending against him the board refused to accept the resignation and will hear the charges next Monday night, at which time Razez will not only be given an opportunity to show that he is innocent of the charge, but likely will have to be asked to prove a statement alleged to have been made by him to one James Watson to the effect that he (Razez) could get Watson a position on the fire department for $150, which sum Watson alleges he said went to the board.

Policeman J. F. Starr was dismissed from the service after a hearing of charges filed against him by the chief, alleging that he was in the habit of leaving his beat while on duty.

Chief Salter filed charges against Arthur Smith, the specifications being that Smith was frequently late in reporting and was "no account." Smith pleaded guilty to being late, but denied that he is no account. He was dismissed from the service. The resignation was accepted by Morressey, special policeman.

Four new policemen were appointed on six months' probation. They are: A. J. Driscoll, J. A. Vuger, Michael Mulhally and Philip W. Wentz.

PUSH WORK ON LAND FRAUDS

Rush and Wheeler Will Spend Much Time in Colorado and Wyoming.

Assistant Attorney General S. R. Rush is expected home from Denver early in September to arrange for the trial of the land fraud cases still on the dockets of the federal courts for the Nebraska district. However, most of his time will be taken up during the fall in looking into the land frauds in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah. The federal grand juries of those states will soon be grinding on some of the most important land cases ever investigated by the government. The investigations in Colorado are of a far-reaching character and much of the evidence has been procured to present to the grand jury at Denver. The general work of the investigations has been under the direct charge of L. C. Wheeler of the United States secret service department, who is now in Denver, and has been for several months. It was Mr. Wheeler and his assistants who secured the evidence that brought about the convictions in the notable Nebraska land cases. That the work in Colorado and Wyoming is to be prosecuted on a still more extensive scale is shown in the fact that Joseph A. Walker, who has been in charge of the secret office at Denver, under the Treasury department, has been transferred to the Department of Justice and sent out into the field to help in the government land campaign. Mr. Walker is regarded as one of the most expert secret service men in the country. The government officials are not disposed to give any sign of the nature of the work that is being done by Mr. Walker, and the same reticence prevails in the office of Mr. Wheeler.

Old Dutch Cleanser

cleans in an entirely new and better way. Its fine, flaky particles attack dirt in every form, quickly absorb every speck of grease and grime, and leave the surface cleaned in immaculate condition, unscratched and unmarred.

This new cleanser is mechanical, not chemical in its action. It is absolutely free from acid, caustic or alkali, and will not roughen or redden the hands, but keeps them soft and white.

deep tasseled point in the middle and two sharper points over each arm. The blouse front opens widely over a vest of yellow linen with Hungarian embroidery.

The other blouse was of blue tussar with revers of Irish lace and a black girde. Of the fantasies two are given in the small cuts. One is an appendage to a khaki tussar gown. It is in the shape of a narrow apron coming over the shoulders and falling nearly to the knee in front, is of khaki linen and is heavily embroidered, as are the sleeves.

Revers and very wide "chiffs" of plain linen are turned back over the embroidery and fastened by enormous buttons, and the whole has a medieval suggestion.

Saving Room.

Among the new inventions for New York flats, where room is at a premium, are the two and three story beds or cots of enamelled iron. They certainly have the advantage of being room savers, whatever their defects from the standpoint of beauty may be. In width they are about the size of ordinary single beds. Each bed is furnished with a woven wire spring, mattress and pillow.

LAST OF THE SUMMER COATS

Fall "Picture" Models Promise to Follow Lines of the Summer Garments.

Some of the long loose coats are perhaps more Chinese than Japanese in character with their deep bands of embroidery of brading around the bottom and their fastenings of frogs, and Russian effects are not entirely neglected. Two notable long blouse coats have been seen. One, very picturesque, of embroidered white linen has a tunic shaped skirt, while the upper part falls in a cape in the back with a very
